A WATER WALL

Sweeping Down the Black River Valley in Wisconsin.

Houses and Bridges Swept Away by the Huge Torrent.

Desolation and Destitution on All Sides in Glenwood.

EVERY RAILWAY BETWEEN MILWAUKEE AND ST. PAUL TIED UP.

Serious Washouts on the St. Paul Road—A Train Delayed in the Wilderness—Wisconsin Central Property Badly Damaged—A Factory Torn From Its Foundations—Rescue of the Sufferers—Telegraph Wires Crippled—Dwellings Under Water—Severest Flood That Ever Visited the District.

RIVER FALLS, Wis., May 16.—A destructive flood is sweeping down Black River Valley. A large number of dams, mills, iron bridges and other property have been destroyed.

Chippewa Falls also reports great destruction to property in the Chippewa River Valley. All railways report washouts and no trains from the north or east will reach Milwaukee until this evening.

A WALL OF WATER.

The wall of water sweeping down Black River valley struck River Falls at 1 o'clock this morning. The fire alarm bells were rung and the people hurried from their homes to the aid of those living in the lower parts of the city in the path of the flood. The dam of the Prairie Mill checked the rush of water for a few minutes, but walls of wood and stone could not withstand the pressure and the dam gave way.

Two big bridges were swept from their fastenings and were carried away in the torrent. Several small buildings followed. Mealy's starch factory was torn from its foundation and went down stream. Another large bridge went next. Foster's saw mill was in the path of the tide, and that suffered $2,000 damage. The damage at the Prairie Mill is $2,000, and at Firtune's mill it is $4,000. Railway lines suffered severely from washouts. All the families on the low lands were rescued.

At Bloomer in the Chippewa Valley, several dwellings, a large planing mill, the city pumping-house and the fire engine-house are gone.

The immense dam across Black River near Black River Falls was in danger and the west wing was blown up to save the remainder of the structure. This sent a great flood down the valley on Black River Falls.

DESOLATION AT GLENWOOD.

The mill district of Glenwood is a scene of wreck and ruin. The big dam and sluice way of the Glenwood Manufacturing Co. were carried away and several hundred thousand feet of logs were carried away. Every bridge on the entire length of Tiffany Creek is gone. Many dwellings in the lower part of the village are under water. The Wisconsin Central Chicago train is cut off by washouts and is in the woods, about a mile and a half from town.

THE VALLEY UNDER WATER.

At Chippewa Falls and north toward Bloomer the valley is under water. A ten-foot rise is promised at Eau Claire, where the water is now very high, before 10 o'clock to-night. This will cause heavy losses to mill-owners and others.

TRAINS TIED UP.

Advices at the railway offices in Milwaukee report washouts on all roads north and west of the city. No trains are arriving to-day from St. Paul and Minneapolis on any line.

Every railway between Milwaukee and St. Paul has been badly tied up since last night. Washouts exist on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, the Chicago & Northwestern and the Wisconsin Central to a great extent, the complete extent of which could not be learned by officials here up to noon to-day, owing to the fact that the telegraph wires were down or very badly crippled.

SERIOUS WASHOUTS.

The washouts on the St. Paul road are the most serious on the river division between Red Wing and St. Paul, and the limited from St. Paul to Chicago due in Milwaukee at 7:10 this morning did not arrive here until between 3 and 4 o'clock this afternoon. The fast mail from St. Paul, which reaches here at 4:10 a. m., did not get in until late this afternoon. All other trains from or to St. Paul on that road were greatly delayed and were run via the Iowa and Minnesota division, going around by Northfield and Red Wing, thence to La Crosse. At the office of Assistant General Superintendent McKenna in Milwaukee it was stated that the washouts were serious in extent and that the delays would be general to all St. Paul trains.

The Chicago & Northwestern train from St. Paul to Chicago, which should have left the North last night, was tied up at St. Paul until this morning and then proceeded via the Iowa and Minnesota division of the St. Paul, intending to run via Hastings and La Crosse to Camp Douglas, there to take its own tracks.

The damage to the Wisconsin Central is serious, for miles in extent from Chippewa Falls west, and all trains for St. Paul or from there were tied up. Trains are running on fair time between Ashland and Milwaukee and Chicago, however.

SEVEREST EVER KNOWN.

Reports received by General Manager Whitcomb at Milwaukee, stated that the storm was the severest ever known in that section, and the damage more extensive than ever before. Little real news as to the extent of the washouts could be gained this morning, owing to the demoralized condition of the wires, and outside the general information that every road suffered to a greater or less extent in the way of numerous washouts in the storm district, but little can be learned as to how long it will require to make repairs sufficient for the free movement of trains.

Rapidly Rising Waters.

BEAVER RIVER FALLS, Wis., May 16.—The west wing of the immense dam at the Dells has been blown out to save the rest of it. The water is rising rapidly and the break is now 800 feet across.

Devastation at Stillwater.

STILLWATER, Minn., May 16.—Last night's storm left this city in worse condition than any of its predecessors. Many streets were washed out badly. Several houses on Fourth street were undermined and let down into a gulley thirty feet deep.

The yard and shops of the State Penitentiary were flooded with sand, and the loss to the State will be heavy. At one time the water was six feet deep in the yard. The convicts are at work clearing the sand out.

The railroad tracks are badly washed out and there will be no trains in or out for several days. The Sawyer House is again flooded with sand. Big rocks from the hill side were loosened and one crushed in the roof and wall of the Schupp ware-house. Business houses on Main street are flooded with sand. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

Killed and Injured by Lightning.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 16.—Severe storms, in the nature of a cloud burst, extending over about twenty-five miles of territory with St. Paul on the western edge of the storm, did terrible damage last night. The amount of damage is uncertain, but is very heavy.

Fall River, Wis., reports a dam burst and three bridges washed away, the damage on the dam being at least $28,000. New Richmond, Wis., reports trains unable to run on account of washouts.

Mrs. Wm. Brennan of Erwin Prairie was killed and others severely injured by lightning.

All Chicago roads suffered severely, no trains arriving on time and some not yet in nor expected. Washouts still hold yesterday's train on the Omaha at Hudson and last night's train at Eau Claire.

A cut at Hudson has been washed full and the clearing of the track is indefinite. The Wisconsin Central trains cannot run on account of washouts. The Burlington got in very late by going around over the Milwaukee, and that road also got its trains in by a roundabout way. On the Burlington the wires are down near Prescott, Wis., and definite news of the trouble there is unobtainable.

THE WORST TO COME.

It is still close and threatening in this city and feared the worst may not be over. Electric car lines were much demoralized during the storm last night. Great damage was done to cellars throughout the city. Flats are flooded and residents are compelled to seek high ground.

Buildings Afloat.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 16.—The Chippewa Logging and Boom Co.'s office building, barn and mill are afloat, also the American house, Box and Squire, Lange Bros., S. F. Martin, E. Hodges, Good Luck Co., Post-office and Panier Wagon Works; also the woolen mill, sash and door company and many small buildings and residences situated on the creek.

At Chippewa City, six miles north of the falls, the saw-mill dam, barns, lumber yards and in fact almost the whole city are completely washed out, together with 6,000,000 feet of logs.

Chippewa River is ten feet above low water mark, but the worst has not come yet, as reports are that Little Falls Dam and Flambeau Dam have given away, which, if true, will raise the river fifteen feet more, completely flooding the business part of the city.

The Chippewa River on a Tear.

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., May 16.—The storm which passed over this city and vicinity last night swelled the Chippewa River and its branches over their banks, flooding an immense area of farming country, washing away railway tracks, bridges, buildings and mills. Several dams broke and caused a large loss. The city lost three bridges and property owners suffered heavy losses. The Cedar block pavement of River street was torn out and much property destroyed in cellars. The loss to the city is $15,000 at least, while the damage to private property will be $30,000.

Duncan Creek, a branch of the Chippewa, has been turned into a wild-looking river, and saw-mills and many thousands of logs carried away. An estimate of total loss cannot be obtained. It is estimated in this city and county alone at $200,000. The Chippewa River is still rising and merchants in the lower part of the city are removing their goods.

Millions of Losses.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 16.—The flood loss in the Chippewa Valley alone is estimated at $2,000,000. At Bloomer the dam, sawmill, planing mill, bridges, houses and 6,000,000 feet of logs were carried away. No lives are reported lost. In Chippewa Falls damage was done to the extent of $1,500,000 to streets, bridges and railway property. The city suffers the loss of five bridges, cutting off traffic with the Omaha road and the loss of the gas works. Bridgewater avenue, River and Lower Bridge and Spring streets are flooded, together with buildings on the streets.

Cyclonish in Character.

DENVER, Colo., May 16.—A gale is blowing in this region to-day that is interfering seriously with telegraph and telephone lines. The storm, which is central in south Dakota, is decidedly cyclonish, and Iowa, Illinois and Indiana will be likely to suffer from tornadoes.

Electric Railway Knocked Out.

JACKSON, Mich., May 16.—During a severe electric storm this morning the electric street railway was completely knocked out. The dynamo, which furnishes power being burned out. It will require several days to repair the damages, which amount to over $2,000, and in the meantime a horse-car service will be substituted.

DIED OF POISON.

Morphine Taken to Produce Sleep Causes Julius May's Death.

Julius May, a United States pensioner 58 years of age, residing in the rear of No. 1818 South Second street, died this morning at 2 o'clock from morphine poison, taken Monday afternoon. It is said that he had been drinking and had not eaten anything for two days and took the drug to make him sleep. At noon Tuesday an attempt was made to awake him, but he could not be aroused. Drs. Medlin and Boison were called in, but could not arouse him, and he died this morning of heart failure.

APPOINTED COMMITTEES.

This Afternoon's Session of the Building League Convention.

HANNIBAL, Mo., May 16.—The following gentlemen were appointed a legislative committee this afternoon: W. E. Fiske, A. A. H. Woerheide, Patrick Mulcahy, St. Louis; E. H. Phelps, Kansas City; A. J. Althouse of Cameron, J. A. Glandon, Mexico, and Elmer Webster, Joplin. The following Executive Committee was appointed: Dr. J. R. L. Clarkson, Moberly; Henry Fallback, W. F. Parker, J. W. Bergfeld, St. Louis; J. T. Holmes, Hannibal; P. G. Stafford, Sedalia; C. M. Manker, Webb City; C. Torse, Kansas City. Officers of the League will be elected this evening. Boyd Dudley will probably be elected President. This evening's session will be given up to the reading of special papers.

Closed Doors.

PENDLETON, Ore., May 16.—The National Bank of Pendleton closed its doors to-day.

CHAOS REIGNS.

The Coal Conference at Cleveland Badly Mixed Up.

MORE LIBERAL FEELING SHOWN AT A MEETING OF OPERATORS.

The Obnoxious Committee of Ten Still on Hand—The Desertion of Chapman and Hartley Regarded as a Weakening of Obstructionists—Secretary McBryde Thinks Pittsburg Rail Operators Wish the Strike Prolonged—The Day's Proceedings.

CLEVELAND, O., May 16.—Although one session of the coal conference has been held and a night spent in caucusing has intervened, the conditions just before the conference met to-day were very chaotic.

At 8 o'clock the miners had another executive session in Case Hall to perfect their scale of wages, which was later presented to the convention in the form of a simple resolution calling for a rate of 79 cents in the Pittsburg district, 50 cents in the Central Pennsylvania district, 70 cents in the Jackson and Hocking Valley fields in Ohio, 80 to 85 cents in the Massillon (O.) district, from 70 to 80 in Indiana, and from 75 to 85 in Illinois. Back of these general figures are rates for the different subdivisions in each large district, so that the matter is almost as complicated an affair as the tariff bill. The most of it is wholly uninteresting to the great majority of the miners and operators.

A MORE LIBERAL FEELING.

The operators held another meeting at the Hollenden early to-day and continued their effort to unite upon a plan to be followed in the convention. A more liberal feeling was manifest, but the Pittsburg rail men and the Ohioans were still pretty far apart, the latter contending that the miners would not listen to the proposition discussed during the night to establish a rate of 65 cents for Pittsburg with a differential of 9 cents in favor of the Ohio operators. That proposition is for a compromise of the half and half kind, being 15 cents above what the Pittsburg men are now paying and 14 cents below what the miners demand.

THE COMMITTEE OF TEN.

The members of the committee of ten who had been ruled out of the convention were still present, with the exception of A. H. Dempster, the leader, who went home during the night. The desertion of T. H. Chapman and R. H. Hartley, two large coal producers, was looked upon as indicative of weakening on the part of the obstructionists, but Secretary Patrick J. McBryde does not view it in that light. He is still of the opinion that the Pittsburg rail operators are determined to prolong the strike.

A MEETING OF OPERATORS.

The mine operators met again in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 10 o'clock to-day to consider their side of the wage question. At that meeting, which was presided over by Mr. Johnson of Columbus, O., a report was called for by Mr. Chapman of Jackson County, Pa., from the members present at the Pennsylvania operators' meeting last night. Mr. Robbins as the representative of that meeting announced that the Pennsylvania operators have agreed upon a rate of 65 cents for Pennsylvania and 56 cents for the Hocking Valley district. He was asked by Mr. Chapman if that was the action of the entire Pennsylvania delegation, or whether the ten Pittsburg delegates still held aloof from the agreement. His reply to that was:

"It was the action of last night's meeting and was, I think, the unanimous sentiment of that meeting."

Mr. Robbins then said he would like to know if that was satisfactory to the Ohio operators. One of the prominent Ohio operators, on behalf of the mine operators of the State, replied that he believed that it would be entirely satisfactory for Ohio and that Ohio mine owners would heartily co-operate with Pennsylvania to secure that end.

A COMMITTEE FROM EACH STATE.

Mr. Robbins then moved that a committee of five members, representing each State, be appointed to agree upon a scale of wages to be presented to the convention, arranged satisfactorily to each State upon that basis. This was agreed to and the committee went into session on the wage schedule.

Outside of the meeting of the mine operators, many operators are in favor of going into the convention to-day with the wage schedule arranged on the basis proposed at the operators' conference, submitting the schedule to the operators for their consideration and then adjourning.

The following committee was then appointed to represent the operators in the several States in conference with the miners:

Ohio—J. F. Morton, John Brashers of Hocking, W. R. Woodford, Eastern Ohio; H. L. Chapman of Jackson, W. J. Mullins of Massillon.

Pennsylvania—M. H. Taylor, John Blyth, Thomas H. Chapman, J. C. Dye, F. L. Ribbins.

Indiana—W. Kenner, J. R. Seifert, James Norton, David Ingalls, J. S. Dailey.

A COMPLICATED SITUATION.

The situation among the miners and operators just before the conference met was fully as complicated as at any time since the first call for the Cleveland convention was made. Indeed, the nearer the hour for the opening of the meeting approached, the greater the complications appeared, and as one prominent Pennsylvania operator put it, "they have already brought up subjects sufficient to keep the conference in session a month."

The corridors at the Weddell House were thronged with coal operators during the entire day until the conference was called to order. Innumerable caucuses and discussions were held while the air was filled with rumors of every conceivable kind.

A TALK WITH DEMPSTER.

Mr. Alexander H. Dempster of Pittsburg, who for many years has been the President of the big conferences between operators and miners, and who is regarded as one of the clearest-headed and best posted men in the assemblage, was interviewed.

Mr. Dempster will not be the president of this convention, however, and that fact is itself significant of the situation.

"Will the Pennsylvania men go into the convention?" Mr. Dempster was asked.

"Yes."

"How long will they stay?"

"That I cannot answer."

"What is the attitude of the Pennsylvania men to-day toward the convention?"

"Their attitude is the same as it has always been. They have decided that they will not treat with Mr. McBride on anything like a national basis. Mr. McBride has declared that he will not abide by a decision on any other grounds. Now then, it is a question of what he will concede, if anything. He must concede something or the convention will fall from the start."

"Do you think the convention will be able to come to anything like a harmonious agreement?"

"It is impossible to say as to that until we get into the convention. The situation at present is as complicated as could be imagined."

"Do you know anything about Mr. McBride's conference with the river men?"

"You will have to talk with Mr. T. J. Wood about that."

"Did you have any conference with him?"

"No, sir."

Mr. Wood refused to say anything about the McBride conference.

NO IMMEDIATE SETTLEMENT.

Mr. Osborne of the Osborne Coal Co. said: "There is no chance I can see of anything like a settlement of this question within a day or two at least. In fact, I do not see how they can ever reach a settlement on a national basis. Pennsylvania operators stand ready to treat with the miners as a State at any time. They do not propose to allow Nevada miners or Ohio miners or anybody else to fix a wage scale for them, however, for they do not believe it can be done."

A rumor that coal had fallen 50c a ton in Chicago to-day and boats were bringing coal down the lakes caused quite a stir among the operators at the Weddell. One West Virginia operator for the Moundsville district declared that it would be up a dollar before it fell a dollar, however.

GREAT GAINS.

Pennsylvania Strikers Jubilant With Success.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 16.—The strikers made great gains to-day about Uniontown and in the northern end of the region. Only about a dozen men were at work at the Kyle plant, the others fearing to return on account of the presence of 500 strikers encamped near the works. The strikers offered no violence.

Southwest plants Nos. 3 and 4 are shut down and many other works are badly crippled. The national organization has notified the strikers that $5,000 will be sent into the region every week from now on until the matter is settled.

Missouri Coal Miners.

VANDALIA, Mo., May 16.—Since the miners' strike the Vandalia Coal Co., all of whom are practical miners, have been getting out coal. To-day a delegation of seventeen miners waited on the company and asked them to quit work, claiming that the strike was declared in the operators' interest as much as the miners. The visitors' demands were refused. The Chicago & Alton is now taking coal furnished from Pittsburg, Kan. It was reported here to-day that the miners at this point have walked out.

Block Coal Operators.

BRAZIL, Ind., May 16.—"The operators in the block coal fields do not propose to be governed by the action of the Cleveland convention," said Isaac McIntosh, a prominent operator. "The block coal operators are preparing to lock up their mines for two years if necessary, and we really believe such a step will be necessary."

Non-Union Men on Strike.

RUSSELLVILLE, Ky., May 16.—Fifteen hundred miners, employed in the coal fields of Ohio and Muhlenberg Counties are idle. The strike is somewhat of a surprise, as the non-union men seem to be joining with organized labor in the general walkout. This district represents over 37½ per cent of the output of the entire western field.

Holding Off.

CHARLESTON, Kanawha Co., W. Va., May 16.—The striking miners of this region are holding off until the result of the Cleveland convention is known. If operators try to enforce their decree of ousting striking miners from their houses trouble is feared. This is generally conceded mere bluff.

NEW Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

Plans for a $150,000 Structure Have Been Adopted.

The Building Committee of the Board of Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association have selected the preliminary plans and drawings submitted by Architects Tully and Clark as the most suitable for the new Y. M. C. A. building. Six firms competed. The sketches and plans submitted by all of them are on exhibition at the present building on Pine street, and all friends of the association are invited to inspect them, day or evening.

It will be about sixty days before all the details are completed and the final plans and drawings are ready. The building will be four stories and a basement. It will be located on the northeast corner of Grand and Franklin avenues, and will cost when built and equipped $150,000. The lot cost upwards of $51,000.

THE WEATHER.

Conditions Favorable for Storms in Missouri.

BLUE

For Missouri and Southern Illinois—Fair Wednesday, probably severe local thunderstorms Wednesday night or Thursday morning; fair and decidedly cooler Thursday afternoon.

No change in temperature of consequence has occurred in the central valleys since yesterday, it being warm from Iowa to the gulf.

An unusually severe storm is central in south Dakota, the barometer at Pierre standing at 29.12 inches. This has caused severe local thunder-storms with heavy rain in the extreme Upper Mississippi Valley. St. Paul reports 2.88 inches of rain in the past 24 hours. It is decidedly cooler to the West of the storm center. It is snowing at Helena, Mont., and the temperature is much below the normal throughout the extreme Northwest.

Conditions are favorable for severe local thunder storms to-night or Thursday morning in the Central Mississippi Valley.

Struck With a Rock.

A warrant was issued to-day against Otto Richter, aged 15 years, living with his parents at 3508 Marine avenue, charging him with striking George Beyers, aged 10 years and living at 3500 Marine avenue, on the head with a rock.

HAVING A MONKEY TIME.

Poor Polly: "Good gracious! Papa Wilson won't know me after this plucking."

HE BOUGHT A WIG.

J. C. Thompson, the Sedalia Embezzler, Disguises Himself in St. Louis.

HAIR-DRESSER DE DONATO THINKS HE HAD THOMPSON FOR A CUSTOMER.

No Information to Be Had at the United States Secret Service Office in This City—Mr. De Donato Describes His Visitor and His Queer Conduct.

The story comes from Sedalia, Mo., that the Government Secret Service officers are hot on the trail of J. C. Thompson, the defaulting cashier of the First National Bank of that place. Information received from what is said to be excellent authority in that place states that on May 5, the day after Thompson disappeared, he landed in St. Louis, and immediately made preparations to disguise himself. He went to a certain barber-shop and had all the beard removed from his face. A customer or hair dresser was next visited and, according to the story from Sedalia, a short cropped gray wig purchased, after which the fugitive procured a ticket over the Iron Mountain Railroad and started for New Mexico.

The source of the Sedalia information is not disclosed, but it is described as authentic, and if so is leaking from the secret service. In any case, the secret service officers here disclaim any knowledge in regard to the matter and volunteer little information.

DE DONATO'S VISITOR.

Independent investigation of the Sedalia story developed a point which, while differing in some respects from the clew as given from there, yet sheds some light of probability on the information. Visits were made to a majority of the costuming and wig selling stores in St. Louis, and at none of them could be found a trace of anyone who purchased a gray wig on May 5.

At De Donato's, 519 Olive street, however, it developed that on the date a stranger purchased a toupee under somewhat suspicious circumstances. Mr. De Donato said that on that day it was a Saturday — a small slightly built man with a dark complexion came into his place and ordered a toupee. He looked sick and ill at ease, so nervous in fact as to attract attention. His face was entirely smooth. He seemed most anxious to get a wig, and yet did not appear to care what kind it was. The proprietor tried to get the most becoming one he could, but the man actually appeared to want the ugliest one, so it seemed to De Donato. He finally secured one for $18 and hurried out.

Now whether this man could be the fugitive J. C. Thompson cannot be told. An effort was made to get some description of the missing cashier in order to get a comparison, but it was impossible.

SECRET SERVICE RETICENT.

Inquiry at the headquarters of the Secret Service met with but little success. Chief Operator Burns is in St. Joseph, and Wm. A. Viek, the agent in charge, said he had no description of Thompson, and that he knew nothing of the case. He dropped two remarks, however, which led to the belief that he might know more than he deemed advisable to tell. After being told of the De Donato incident, he asked if the man had a woman with him and then refused to state the object of his question. He also admitted that he was going to see a man in St. Charles to-night who knew Thompson's history for the last five years.

At the Iron Mountain ticket offices the agents had no recollection of any man with either a gray or black wig buying a ticket South on the Saturday in question, although, being ten days ago, this is not surprising.

Although the Sedalia information stated that a gray wig was purchased here, and if possible that a mistake as to color was made, and that De Donato's man was the missing cashier, but until a description of the man can be obtained it must remain a matter of doubt.

Miss Mellon Improving.

Miss Belle Mellon, who was dangerously injured last Thursday in the accidental destruction of her horse and vehicle, which resulted fatally to her young brother, Edward V. Mellon, is improving rapidly. Drs. Laidley and Carson, who have been watching her case at the Protestant Hospital, to which she was removed at the time of the accident, state that Miss Mellon might be conveyed to the family residence, 2724 Washington avenue, but for the serious effect which the knowledge of her brother's death might have upon her in her still weak state. This knowledge has been kept from her so far.

ALL ON BOARD DROWNED.

Foundering of the Valkyrie Off the Coast of Africa.

COWES, Isle of Wight, May 16.—News reached the Royal Yacht Club Squadron to-day that the cutter Valkyrie, formerly owned by Lord Dunraven, after which yacht the famous Valkyrie was named, has foundered off the coast off Africa, all those on board of her being drowned.

Lord Dunraven sold the Valkyrie to an Italian gentleman and she recently competed in the Mediterranean regattas.

TWO DIAMONDS STOLEN.

Ferdinand Biel Swears Out a Warrant Against Wm. M. Gibb.

Ferdinand Biel of 2011 Rutger street swore out a warrant to-day against William M. Gibb, a jeweler at 512 North Seventh street, charging him with the larceny of two diamonds, valued at $250. Biel is a diamond broker, and stated that this morning he called at Gibb's place and exhibited the diamonds. He saw an acquaintance passing and went out to talk to him leaving the diamonds on the show-case, he stated. When he went to re-enter the store the door was locked, he alleged. When he finally gained admittance Gibb denied that he knew anything about the diamonds or that Biel had left them in the store, so Biel alleged. Biel called in Officer Wall and had Gibb arrested.

MUST BE REMOVED.

Mayor Walbridge Orders the Bircher Street Bridge Taken Down.

The Bircher street bridge must go, so says his honor the Mayor, and Street Commissioner Murphy has been directed by letter to remove the obstruction forthwith. The Mayor refers to it as an obstruction on Broadway at Bircher street, which is a violation of the charter and ordinances. Maj. Murphy must first get the permission of the Board of Public Improvements, as the bridge exists under a permit from that body.

This will be done at the next meeting on Friday and the bridge declared an obstruction, and then, with the help of the Mayor and the City Counselor again, the City Marshal will be directed to remove it, which will be about Saturday morning. The Mayor's action in the matter is probably prompted by Mr. Gast's resolution in the Council last night wherein he protested loudly against the bridge as it is.

AMERICAN SAFETY IN SAMOA.

Bayard's Decision to Withdraw From the Berlin Agreement.

LONDON, May 16.—United States Ambassador Thomas F. Bayard has intimated to the British Government the desire of the United States to withdraw from the Berlin agreement, provided all the rights of United States citizens in Samoa are safeguarded.

The reports in London of the Australian colonies recently intimated that it was the intention of their governments to persist in the request that the present arrangements be terminated. The Imperial Government replied that steps were being taken to reconsider the Berlin act and that pour parlers with Germany were proceeding.

It is stated in good quarters that the Anglo-German negotiations will be greatly influenced by the results of the Ottawa conference.

John S. Moffitt Very Low.

Mr. John S. Moffitt, the well-known wholesale druggist, who has been ill for some time, is reported to be rapidly sinking at his home in Webster Groves.

About two months since, by order of his family physician, Dr. Tuholske, Mr. Moffitt resigned all charitable and church work in which he was actively engaged, and was restricted to absolutely necessary business enterprises. These were later also forbidden, and he was sent to Hot Springs, Ark., where his sojourn apparently doing him no good he returned to his suburban home at Webster Groves, which he had leased and moved into when his health began to fail. For some days he has been unable to take any solid food and no one is allowed to see him.

Funds for the Pullman Strikers.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 16.—To raise funds for the support of the Pullman strikers, the American Railway Union will, it is said, assess each of its 260,000 members 5 cents per week. The assessments will be forwarded twice a month to Pullman for distribution. The men are confident of winning the strike and are quiet and orderly.

BLAND WINS.

The Kansas City Convention Adopts His Platform.

Ex-Gov. Francis and the Cleveland Forces Defeated.

The Substitue for the Silver Plank Rejected, 345 to 187,

The Silver Champion in Full Control of the Convention.

QUICK AND SURPRISING CHANGE IN THE TEMPER OF THE DELEGATES.

How the Battle Was Won by the Bland Forces—Nearly an All-Night Session in Which the Tide Was Made to Turn—Appeals for Compromise Unavailing—The Administration Cohorts Utterly Routed—Some of Them Much Crestfallen.

CONVENTION HALL, KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 16.—The battle over the silver plank in the platform of the Missouri Democracy closed to-day, and the victory was won by Bland. Ex-Gov. Francis and the Cleveland forces have been routed. The attempt of Francis to compromise by substituting a silver plank for the one reported by the majority of the Committee on Resolutions, eaded by Bland, was rejected by the decisive vote of 345 to 187, and the platform as reported by the majority was adopted by a vote 432 to 109. There was a surprising change in the temper of the delegates during the closing hours of last night's session, and when the struggle was renewed this morning Bland sentiment was in full control. The dispatches below tell the story of the contest. The following ticket was nominated:

Judge of Supreme Court	Francis M. Black
Supt. of Public Instruction	W. T. Carrington

NO CHOICE ON FIRST BALLOT.

The roll call on the Railroad Commissionership was as follows:

Jewett	56	Finks	68
Able	20	Murphy	29
Bell	38	Liegle	43
Kinsey	53	Garrett	53
Hennessey	87	McCarthy	10

Whole number of votes cast 534, necessary to a choice 268.

No candidate having received a majority of the votes cast the roll was called for the second ballot.

CONVENTION HALL, KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 16.—Compromise was the talk this morning—a compromise of the Bland majority with the Francis minority, by which the convention shall pronounce for the free coinage of silver on a parity with gold, but without establishing a ratio. This is said to be very probable in the interest of harmony in the Democratic party of Missouri, but with the surprising strength of the Bland following as developed both in Committee on Resolutions and the convention itself it is unsafe to make any predictions which contain as one essential any element of a surrender of the advantages already gained by Congressman Bland and his supporters.

Gov. Stone.

The great struggle of yesterday, last night and this morning, a struggle unequalled in the history of Democratic State Conventions in Missouri, brings the present convention to the hour of its reassembling to-day with a momentous problem awaiting its solution. This problem is, whether the Democratic party of the State in its utterances upon a national issue, shall over-ride an earnest minority within its own ranks, and probably create a schism in the party by definitely establishing the ratio of silver as one of its platform planks, or whether it shall make a bid for harmony by refraining from naming the desired coinage ratio when it undoubtedly has the convention strength so to do. Everything, it is said now, depends upon [illegible] had a majority of the delegates with him in his fight and victory last night.

BLAND ON TOP.

The quick change, or apparent change in the sentiment of the convention, which all day yesterday seemed to be following Francis and the Administration's crowd to Bland and his 16 to 1 ratio, was one of those surprising things which mark the deliberations of a mass of men who may be swayed by the earnest oratory of a man who clings to his convictions, under all conditions and circumstances.

The speech of Bland, coming right on the heels of the discovery that he had carried the Resolutions Committee with him in his silver fight, swept the convention almost off its feet last night, or rather early this morning. Ex-Gov. Francis, in a speech following, did something to stem this anti-Administration flood-break, but Francis' speech was utterly neutralized by that of Hon. E. Benton of Newton County, which followed, and in which Mr. Benton asserted that the anti-silver arguments employed by Francis were in the exact words of a speech delivered by John Sherman of Ohio, "The arch-enemy of silver," and that the Democratic party of Missouri was tired of being buncoed. Benton's speech seemed to sound the key-note of the situation as viewed by this convention, and the other speeches following, including that of Hon. E. C. Kehr of St. Louis, were, apparently, so much time and effort thrown away.

COUNTRY AGAINST CITY.

The silver fight seemed also to have developed a feeling of country against city, and the rural delegates are pluming themselves for an anti-Francis fight, which they term a fight of the brain, bone and the sinew of the party against the bankers and wholesale merchants of St. Louis. The St. Louis delegations, for this reason, seem to be the target of all the anti-Administration sharpshooters, and with Francis in a front seat their location along the center aisles of the convention hall may be likened to that of a besieged garrison.

The strength developed by Bland has been the surprise of the convention. How far Bland will feel inclined to follow up his advantage is the question to be answered by to-day's developments.

Following the submission of the majority and minority reports of the Committee on Resolutions, and the adjournment of the convention at 2 o'clock this morning, to re-assemble again at 10 o'clock, there has been a vast deal of button-holing work done. The results of that work will be apparent in the proceedings of the convention to-day.

DELEGATES GATHERING.

At 10 o'clock the delegates began to gather at Convention Hall and by 10:20 the delegations were nearly all seated with the exception of those from St. Louis city and county. Nick Bell and one or two others were in their places but the great majority of St. Louis seats were still vacant. The convention hall was strangely quiet.

At 10:25 Gov. Stone, Chairman of the Convention, appeared upon the stage, being greeted with loud applause. Then the St. Louis delegations filed in and took their seats The hall was fairly well filled with spectators, the boxes being occupied by many ladies. Gov. Stone temporarily left the platform, and a hurried conference of delegates took place throughout the hall.

The convention hall was unbearably hot and stifling. The band played its sweetest but it was too early for enthusiasm save that displayed by some of the Bland people. The long and bitter fight of yesterday and last night with only about four hours of recuperative sleep, following had its effect even upon the unterrified Democracy and it will be some time before the fighting spirit is reawakened.

FRANCIS CONFIDENT.

After coming into the hall to-day Gov. Francis expressed the utmost confidence in the ability of the conservative financiers of the convention to carry through his substitute for the minority report on the silver plank on which previous question was sprung at the time of adjournment.

The ex-Governor also referred to the coincidence of the 8 to 7 vote in the Resolutions Committee yesterday. By that vote Mr. Bland was elected chairman, by that vote the committee refused at Mr. Bland's instance to declare the tariff "the paramont issue" of the pending campaign, by the same vote the committee refused to call it at Gov. Francis' suggestion "the vital issue," although Mr. Bland was willing to call it "a vital issue," and by the same vote the committee refused to indorse "a tariff for revenue" as previous question with his desire to take the platform in defense of the Governor.

The Colonel seemed to be confident that but for the existence of that parliamentary obstacle he could entirely undo the disastrous effects of Mr. Benton's speech.

DIXIE ONCE MORE.

When Gov. Stone reappeared on the stage his fagged out appearance of the early morning hours had been displaced by a semblance of his normal vigor of body and alertness of mind. He was engaged at once in a brief conference with the secretaries and with Reading Clerk Jeff Pollard.

When the band opened on "Marching Through Georgia," there was a scattering volley of cheers, but "Dixie" immediately succeeding provoked the rebel yell in such volume as to show the dominant sentiment of the convention.

At that moment Gov. Francis was exhorting Mr. M. E. Benter in the center aisle, right under the eye of the Chair, the ex-Governor being backed up by Harvey Salmon and Benton by Nick Bell. The conference was ominously earnest, and attracted the attention of the entire lower floor, to the neglect of all other objects. The incident was significant of the crisis that is still at its height, despite the exhausting struggle of the night.

THE STRUGGLE BEGINS.

At 10:40 Gov. Stone by one rap of the gavel brought the Convention to a condition of quiet that perfectly indicated the suspense. W. S. Logan of St. Louis moved the consideration of the pending previous question. A point of order being made by Silas Carr Gov. Stone ruled that Mr. Logan's motion was not debatable, adding that a motion to lay motion on the table would not be debatable.

Gov. Francis asked what was the present parliamentary status of the Convention.

Gov. Stone answered that the previous question was the entire subject including majority and minority reports and Gov. Francis' substitute now before the convention and no debate could ensue while Mr. Logan's motion was before the convention.

Mr. Logan's motion to reconsider the previous question was laid upon the table.

Mr. Bland said he had understood there would be an attempt to refer the whole matter back to the committee, and he deprecated such action. He said it had been impossible for the committee to get together. It was dangerous, however, to act without a perfect understanding and he wanted no more deception. He believed the convention would have no more deception. [Cries of "We won't; we won't," and "Question."]

THE FRANCIS SUBSTITUTE.

The Chairman handed to Reading Clerk Pollard the substitute offered by Gov. Francis, and after it had been read Gov. Stone stated that it was the amendment of Gov. Francis, which statement Gov. Francis qualified with the announcement that he had intended to put in "unlimited" before the phrase "full free coinage." In the midst of the uproar that greeted the opposition of Francis and Stone Mr. Bland stood up.

Following Mr. Bland's statement Gov. Francis said the resolution read by Mr. Pollard was the one which was handed up by him last night but the expression, "unlimited free coinage" had been inadvertently omitted. Now he desired to avail himself of the consent of the chairman to insert it.

Chairman Stone stated that Mr. Bland asked for the unanimous consent of the convention to the amendment of Gov. Francis' substitute to read "the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver." And the paragraph was read amid cries of "put in 16 to 1." The amendment was agreed to and the question recurred on the adoption of the substitute.

THE SUBSTITUTE AMENDED.

The substitute to the amended minority report of the Committee on Resolutions was carried by a vote of 287 for to 286 against. This substitute was the evidence of the attempt at compromise made by Francis with the Bland element this morning. St. Louis voted solidly in favor of the substitute, 69 ayes. The acoption of this substitute may mean success of the Francis attempt at compromise worked for so vigorously since last night's terrific fight. It is simply an "easy letting-down" of the Administration element in the convention.

Cries of "Roll Call," and "Hurrah for Bland," followed this vote. A resolution sent up by a St. Louis delegate to be read provoked protest on the ground that the convention had ruled yesterday that all resolutions must be referred to the Committee on Resolutions without debate. The resolution referred to the public schools of the State and compulsory education.

WANTED NO COMPROMISE.

Congressman Bland arose on a question of personal privilege. He said the impression was abroad that he favored this Francis substitute as a compromise measure. He desired to announce that he favored no compromise but stood on the majority report of the Resolutions Committee as submitted. Here Mr. Bland's remarks were drowned by great uproar in the convention hall, but having established the clear issue of the next vote, "Silver Dick" sat down apparently content.

In answer to a question by Schuyler the chair ruled that Mr. Frost's minority report was displaced and the question was now upon the insertion of Gov. Francis' substitute for the utterance of the majority report upon the coinage question.

VOTING ON THE SILVER SUBSTITUTE.

Chairman Stone now caused to be read for the information of the convention the expression of the majority of the committee upon the coinage question and after it the Francis substitute carried by means of the solid vote of the St. Louis delegation. They were read by Judge Pollard.

On the adoption of the substitute the ayes and nayes were again demanded. The roll call was proceeded with after a futile chorus of "noes" from the Bland cohorts.

During the progress of the roll-call Nick Bell of St. Louis arose and endeavored to attract the attention of the chair. He was vigorously rapped to order, the chair stating that the roll-call could not be interrupted. Mr. Bell shook his head rebelliously and waved his hand angrily above his head. Cries of "put him down, put him down," arose from the country delegates, but Bell still stood up calling out: "Mr. Chairman." At this dogged obstinacy Gov. Stone played a butcher's tattoo with his gavel and amidst this cleaver's block serenade Mr. Bell sat down disgusted. What he wanted to say just then may never be known.

THE FRANCIS SUBSTITUTE DEFEATED.

The result of the roll call was ayes, 187; noes, 345; and the Francis substitute was declared lost.

The period between the end of the roll call and the announcement of the vote was filled up with "Dixie" and the rebel yell, and after the Cleveland faction's defeat had been made certain, when victory had seemed within its grasp, the Bland forces again broke all rules of order and for fifteen minutes the convention was in their hands. While the noise was at its height a delegate from the Ninth Congressional District stood up and yelled:

"The St. Louis delegation is relegated to the rear."

Hats, canes and handkerchiefs were whirled and flourished and fluttered over the heads of the excited delegates and the crestfallen looks of the St. Louis supporters of Francis showed only too plainly how thoroughly they realized the crushing effect of the rally of the Bland and Stone people who only a few minutes before had been to all appearances repressed beyond all power of self-assertion by solid St. Louis.

It was evident that the vote of St. Louis for the Francis substitute without a call of the roll had exasperated all the favoring advocates of silver into the formation of a solid phalanx behind the indomitable, imperturable Bland.

The satisfaction of the country delegates with the result of their long resistance of the siege of the administration forces lasted throughout the roll call on the adoption of the majority report.

NICK BELL'S ORATION.

The City of St. Louis voted this time by wards. When the Eighth Ward was reached, all preceding having voted aye, Delegate Nick Bell arose and pointing his finger towards the Auditorium dome, exclaimed dramatically: "Mr. Chairman, the Eighth Ward will never vote for a Republican measure. The Eighth Ward votes, no.

Tumultuous shouts from the Bland people hailed this declaration. Bell suddenly became a hero, and when the Thirteenth Ward gave two nays the applause deepened.

At the close of the roll-call, and before the result of the vote was announced, the Bland cries of "Hurrah for Nick Bell" were so general and vociferous that they had to be drowned by a Spanish castanet dance played by the band with great energy.

THE BLAND PLATFORM ADOPTED.

The Chair now stated that the next business before the convention was the majority report of the Committee on Resolutions as submitted by that committee last night. A delegate demanded the roll-call on this vote and it was so ordered. The result of the vote was as follows: 428 for, 109 against, and the report was declared adopted, thus giving the Democracy of Missouri its State platform for the approaching election.

The St. Louis delegation, with Nick Bell as spokesman, gave 68 noes and 1 aye (Mr. Bell's) on the adoption of the majority report. The final announcement of Bland's triumph was succeeded by another volley of huzzahs, less vigorous, however, than that which followed the announcement of the preliminary victory, and the cheers were followed by cheers for Bland. But, although Bland was still on the platform close at Gov. Stone's elbow, he did not respond.

Instead, Gov. Stone asked unanimous consent for the introduction of a resolution commending the public school system. Consent was accorded and the resolution was read, Gov. Stone meantime surrendering the gavel to Vice-Chairman Fogle.

The teller had just announced that further nominations for Railroad Commissioner were then in order when a motion to adjourn till afternoon was made and lost.

Again was Bland called for by his admirers, but he only stood up and bowed and begged to be excused.

The roll call was resumed where it had been interrupted the night before.

FOR RAILROAD COMMISSIONER.

A. H. Travis took the platform and nominated Jerry McCarthy of Springfield.

Ex-Atty.-Gen. Boone of Henry County placed Thomas J. Lingle of Henry County in nomination.

W. O. L. Jewett's nomination was seconded by a delegate from Shelby County.

D. A. Ball of Pike County, "representing the bloody Ninth District," came on the stage and nominated Alfred Duval of Montgomery County.

Jesse L. Eaton of Washington County was placed in nomination by F. Robb of Perry County. Richard P. Benton of Cole County was nominated by a Seventh District delegate.

Frank Wiley of Randolph County made a speech for Joe Rice of Moberly as a representative of organized labor. For St. Louis County T. J. Skinker nominated Dan Able and during the delivery of his eulogy there were loud calls of "Finks," "Finks," which almost spoiled the effect of a really strong speech. Finks' nomination was seconded by Sam Davis of Saline County. The name was greeted with lusty cheers, apparently given for the discomfiture of the Able contingent.

Nat Shelton of Schuyler County seconded W. O. L. Jewett. He was called down by the Finks men on the expiration of his five minutes. The nominations closed with the following candidates in nomination. Nick Bell and S. S. Bass finished the list with seconds of Capt. Dan Able:

W. O. L. Jewett of Shelby County.
L. J. Hennessey of St. Louis City.
Dan Able of St. Louis City.
N. J. Wollard of Dallas County.
Fred Bell of Callaway County.
Jos. P. Rice of Randolph County.
Jos. H. Finks of Chariton County.
Geo. W. R. Garrett of Barton County.
S. D. Murphy of Gentry County.
Jere McCarthy of Greene County.
Thos. J. Lingle of Henry County.
A. C. Duvaul of Montgomery County.
Dr. J. L. Eaton of Washington County.
R. B. Beck of Polk County.

A CALL FOR FRANCIS.

Pending the roll call a motion was enthusiastically adopted inviting Gov. Francis to address the convention immediately upon the conclusion of the ballot. The ex-Governor did not seem to mind his overthrow on the silver issue half as much as he did the announcement in a St. Louis morning paper that he owed his election to the Platform Committee to the grace of Col. Nick Bell.

"The idea is preposterous," said the ex-Governor. "Forty Nick Bells couldn't have kept me off that committee."

THE PLATFORM.

Majority and Minority Reports of the Committee on Resolutions.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 16.—The Committee on Resolutions had a long and hot struggle over the silver platform. They went into session when the convention took a recess yesterday afternoon, and with little intermission they wrestled with the problem until half an hour after midnight. Bland receded from his demand for a declaration for free coinage of silver at a 16 to 1 ratio, but the plank upon which he insisted and which a majority of the committee agreed to did not suit Francis and others composing the minority of the committee. Consequently two reports were submitted to the convention. The committee completed its work at 12:30 and the following reports were presented to the convention. They were read, but the convention adjourned until 10 o'clock to-day, while a motion for the adoption of the majority (Bland) report was pending:

MAJORITY REPORT.

We, the Democracy of the State of Missouri, in convention assembled, hereby reaffirm our faith in and adherence to the time-honored principles of our party, as set forth in its State and national platforms of the past, and express our conviction that the prosperity of the people and the prosperity of representative government depend upon their continued supremacy.

Inspired by these principles, we declare in favor of equal rights to all and special privileges to none, local self-government, the highest possible degree of personal liberty consistent with the public good and a strict construction of the Federal Constitution.

We especially reaffirm our devotion to the cardinal Democratic doctrine of absolute equality among all citizens and sections in bearing the burdens and enjoying the benefits of government, and we denounce all legislation as unjust and undemocratic which has the effect of creating partnership between the Government and private interests at the expense of the great body of our people, and we again assert, as in 1892, that "the Federal Government has no constitutional power to impose and collect tariff duties except for the purpose of revenue only, and we demand that the collection of such duties shall be limited to the necessities of the Government honestly and economically administered."

We denounce the McKinley act as the culminating outrage of tariff taxation, and we unequivocally disapprove of the action of every Democratic Senator and Representative in Congress who opposes or delays, directly or indirectly, under any pretext, the passage of a bill decreasing the import duties imposed by that law.

We favor the imposition of an income tax as proposed in the Wilson bill, not, as is falsely asserted by its opponents, for the purpose of discriminating against the wealth of any section, but because every citizen should be taxed in proportion to the benefits he receives from the protection to his property by the Government, and no tax can be so just as that which is collected, not on consumption or unproductive property, but from the profits of incomes, which really represent the benefits received by the citizens from just and equal laws.

We denounce as un-American and undemocratic the system of taxation on consumption, only now advocated by Republicans and pretended Democrats, under which the poor pay the same or greater taxes than the rich.

THE SILVER PLANK.

Whereas, The Constitution of the United States provides that Congress shall have power to coin money, regulate the value thereof, and of foreign coins, and also provides that no State shall coin money or make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts, hence we declare it to be a duty enjoined upon Congress by the Constitution to coin both gold and silver money for the use of the people of the States; that Congress has no rightful power to refuse the coinage of either metal.

We therefore demand the free bimetallic coinage of both gold and silver, and the restoration of the bimetallic standard as it existed under our laws for over eighty years prior to the demonetization of the standard silver dollar in 1873, and should it become necessary in order to maintain the two metals in circulation to readjust the ratio, it should be determined whether gold has risen or silver has fallen, and whether there should be a change of the gold dollar or the silver dollar, or of both, to the end that whatever ratio is adopted the rights of both creditor and debtor shall be preserved alike, having in view the demands of the people for an adequate circulating medium. We declare that we are not in favor of gold monometallism or silver monometallism, but that both should be coined at such ratio as will maintain the two metals in circulation.

We insist upon the Democratic doctrine of Jackson and Benton, that all money issued by the authority of Congress shall be issued and its value maintained by the Government. That we are opposed to farming out to national banks the right to issue circulating notes. That we are opposed to any further increase of the interest-bearing debt of the Government.

CORPORATE POWER CONDEMNED.

We affirm our adherence to the great truth that free institutions can only be preserved by a strict construction of the Federal Constitution and the recognition at all times of the limitations therein of national and State authority. Therefore, we demand that Congress shall enact laws so defining and limiting the jurisdiction of the Federal courts as to protect the State and the people from their enormous and dangerous usurpations. And we demand that all corporations doing business in this State be declared by proper Congressional legislation citizens of such State, and subject to the jurisdiction of the courts thereof, to the same extent, in all respects, as if such corporations were organized under and citizens of such State.

THE FORCE BILL.

We indorse the action of President Cleveland and the Democratic Congress in the repeal of the infamous Federal election laws, through the partisan administration of which by the Republican party when in power the will of the majority and the rights of the States have been trampled upon with impunity. The Democrats of Missouri have known what it is to live under a Government based on Federal coercion and returning board methods, and they have learned by bitter experience that its legitimate fruits are fraud and usurpation, prostitution of the ballot, contempt for the people's will as expressed at the polls, robbery of the tax-payers, profligate expenditure of public money, dishonored officials, betrayal of trusts and a weakening of the respect for law, which is the basis of all civilized government.

We commend the patriotism, integrity, ability and courage of Grover Cleveland, and applaud his action in promptly approving the repeal of the Federal election law, and his earnest efforts in behalf of tariff reform, the purity, economy and vigor of his administration.

The Democrats of Missouri have honestly and faithfully administered the State Government, and we ask the continued support of our citizens to a party which has redeemed all its pledges and shown efficiency, integrity and economy in the discharge of every trust.

A SLAP AT A. P. A. ISM.

The Democracy of Missouri have learned of the unwarrantable endeavors upon the party of would-be political leaders to create strife and discord within the ranks of the Democratic party, by attempting to arraign one class of voters against another, on account of their religious faith; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the grand old Democratic party, whose conservatism is preservative of national honor, tranquility and peace, the party of the people, and the enemy of oppression and tyranny in every form, do hereby unequivocally and emphatically denounce and condemn such conduct as un-American, undemocratic and unlawful.

Resolved, That the Democracy pledge its best efforts to defeat the unholy purposes of such men, and to protect every individual of every nationality, religious creed and political belief, in his sacred right to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience.

MINORITY REPORT.

The following is the report of the minority members, Graham Frost, David R. Francis and E. C. Kehr, all of St. Louis, which is a substitute for the coinage plank:

We hereby reaffirm the declaration of Democratic principles placed before the country by the last Democratic National Convention assembled at Chicago on June 22, 1892, and ratified by the State Democratic platform adopted at Jefferson City on July 20, 1892.

For this minority report ex-Gov. Francis last night offered the following substitute:

We again declare our devotion to bimetallism and demand that both gold and silver shall be standard money with the same purchasing and debt-paying power, and without any discrimination against either metal. We are unalterably opposed to all legislation which has the effect of destroying silver money and establishing the single gold standard, thereby enormously increasing the purchasing power of gold and decreasing the prices of all commodities, while the contracts between creditors and debtors are disregarded and the burdens on the latter made doubly oppressive.

This morning, with the intention of compromising with the Bland forces, Francis induced the convention to amend his substitute by the insertion of the words "free and unlimited" before the word "coinage."

LAST NIGHT'S WORK.

Two Nominations Made While Waiting on the Platform Committee.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 16.—From 3 o'clock till past midnight the convention labored but failed to adopt a platform or complete its ticket. Two nominations were made—Francis M. Black for Judge of the Supreme Court and W. T. Carrington for Superintendent of Public Schools. After the matter of credentials was settled without contest, the convention reached the stage of permanent organization, with Gov. W. J. Stone as Chairman. The Committee on Resolutions still being in a state of unfinished business, the time of the convention was filled in with speeches by Tarsney, Hall and others. Calls for Bland found no response, for the silver champion was hard at work with the Resolutions Committee in his endeavor to get his silver plank in the platform.

The speech Gov. Stone made on taking the chair as presiding officer was the most significant heard in the convention. He took direct issue with the speakers who had preceded him, in declaring that State conventions express the thoughts of the voters of the party, which were crystallized at national conventions. He also gave Bland's boom for the Presidency its first push into prominence. The Governor said:

"My friend, the temporary chairman, said that we had assembled here for two purposes—one to nominate a ticket, the other to formulate a platform of principles. To that I agree. He also remarked that we had not assembled here to create a presidential boom or presidential possibilities. Now, I have seen in the Republican papers recently and in some of the Democratic papers accounts of presidential and senatorial booms, and my name has been used in connection with these reports. I regret the fact that the temporary chairman saw proper to revive the reports at this time.

"In order to relieve anyone here or elsewhere of any mental distress connected with these reports so far as I am concerned, I wish to reiterate what I have often said before, that I am not and will not be a candidate before the people of Missouri or of the United States for any office within their gift. It is my intention and desire when I have served my term as Governor of this State to retire voluntarily to private life.

"The name of my friend Mr. Bland has, like mine, been used in this connection. What his ambition may be I know not. I care not. This I do know, and say, in this hearing, that a more conscientious, faithful, devoted servant of the people, never served you in the Congress of the United States [applause], and he is worthy of your highest confidence and favor. So far as I am concerned in 1896, if I can have the opportunity to support any stalwart and honest representative of Missouri Western Democracy for the Presidency [applause], I will be proud of it. So much for that. There has been too much talk of this kind. Is it done for the purpose of creating animosities and factions in the Democracy?

"My friend Mr. Trimble took occasion to say that this convention ought not to express its opinion as to national questions; that you could not determine them; that you could not pass finally upon them. That is true. That you ought not to express your opinion, I think, ought not to be said of Missouri, the fifth State in this Federal Union, the greatest west of the Mississippi River, one of the most imperial and majestic in all the Federation. Why decline to give expression through the representatives of your people to your opinions upon questions of deep and vital importance to the public weal? [Applause.]

"Platforms are but the expressions of opinions. It is a crystallization of ideas, of wishes, of purposes. If we have no right to express our opinions upon the question of silver coinage, then we should be excluded from expressing our opinion on the tariff or anything else. Why not close our lips in dumb and complete silence, name three respectable gentlemen for three respectable offices, adjourn and go home, and say to your constituency that upon the great vital issue of this age the representatives of Missouri Democracy had naught to say!

"Why we differ, you say, upon the question. We differ honestly, and so we do. The silver of our mines should be coined into dollars and put into circulation among the people of the country, adding to the volume of our money, or we should at once accept the monometallic basis. We must be bimetallists or against it. Has Missouri Democracy an opinion upon this question? If it has none, then say nothing. But, in the name of God, what are you going to report to your constituency that sent you here? Gentlemen, there is but one way to settle these questions—a straightforward, honest, old-fashioned Democratic way. [Applause.] You know what you believe and that your people demand that you record your honest convictions here on the questions that are presented to you for your platform, and deliver the verdict that you are honest men and thorough Democrats."

After Gov. Stone's speech the convention took a recess until 7:30. The resolutions Committee being still out and not ready to report, it was decided to proceed to the nomination of candidates.

Judge Francis M. Black was nominated for Supreme Judge by acclamation, and the roll was called for nominations for Superintendent of Public Instruction. The roll of counties developed Wolfe, Carrington, Duncan and Bahlman as candidates, and on first ballot Carrington received the nomination.

At 12:30 o'clock the Committee on Resolutions reported. There were two reports, majority and minority, and a long and bitter discussion followed, the Chairman at times being compelled to rap most vigorously for order.

Graham Frost moved the substitution of the minority report for the plank in the majority report, and a delegate from Southwest Missouri called for the previous question on the adoption of the majority report.

The previous question was ordered, but before a vote on the majority and minority reports could be held a motion to adjourn until 10 a. m. was made and seconded. The yea and nay vote was so equally divided that the chair could not decide and a roll call was demanded.

The call showed that the motion was carried, and amid great confusion the convention adjourned without voting upon either report until 10 o'clock to-day. This left the selection of a candidate for Railroad Commissioner and the adoption of the platform as unfinished business for the convention to-day.

THE CUCKOO CRY

Heard for the First Time in a Democratic State Convention.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 16.—The convention was fruitful of incidents showing how the lines were drawn between the Administration forces and those who are not in love with Cleveland's silver policy. Following Congressman Tarsney's speech yesterday, in which he shiftily dodged the silver question, though pressed to commit himself by his audience, There were calls for Bland, Stone and Francis. The chairman announced that Mr. Bland was busy in his committee work, but that he would send for him, This was cried down by the convention and Maj. Henry a new man of Randolph County, took the stage. He spoke in favor of having a speech from Congressman Bland and was warmly received. But, plainly with regard to the 16 to 1 resolution, he stated that this convention could not afford to pass a resolution condemning a Democrat for his honest convictions. The Democracy could not afford to repudiate its standard bearer of 1892. He said:

"Democracy cannot forget, and I cannot forget that Grover Cleveland (here the speaker was interrupted by a storm of applause far surpassing anything seen in this convention so far. It swept through the hall time and again, and at its temporary close the speaker continued:) "That Grover Cleveland is the Moses who has led us into the promised land."

A moment later the speaker again mentioned President Cleveland's name and the enthusiasm was repeated. When it subsided there came a bold cry from the galleries: "Cuckoo, Cuckoo." This cry was taken up throughout the hall, and with that moment's demonstration the "cuckoo" took its official place in a Missouri Democratic convention.

The cries of "cuckoo" were followed by shouts for Bland and a scene of wild confusion ensued. At last the band struck up "Dixie," and with the mossback applause the scene was ended.

A BLAND MAN HEARD.

Mr. Louis Houck of Cape Girardeau was the next speaker. He opposed the views advanced by Delegate Newman, and said the Democratic party was a tender belonging to Wall street. Imperial Missouri should take her place as the leader of Democrats from the Mississippi to the Rocky Mountains. He argued for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 and at this shibboleth the Bland people cheered wildly and enthusiastically. But the cheers lacked volume and soon died away and the speaker seemed distressed afterwards. The close of his speech was followed by calls for "Crisp."

At this juncture Nick Bell of St. Louis rose excitedly and urged that there be no further speaking and that the committees' report be called for.

So it will be seen that it required the united efforts of Nick Bell's voice and a brass band to still the voices of the 16 to 1 ratio men in the convention.

WAS MONEY USED?

How the Break in the Fourth Ward Delegation Was Engineered.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 17.—By a break in the Fourth Ward delegation yesterday, John C. Roberts unexpectedly gained one vote, and the gain is now openly charged to the use of money. The delegation was returned as solid for Barrett, but when the fact of Dr. A. V. L. Brokaw having secured a proxy in the Twenty-fourth Ward became known, the Stone-O'Meara men are said to have set about making good the loss. The man whom they won over to their cause is Nicholas J. Carroll. In connection with the charge of corruption in the interest of Mr. Henry Quellmalz for the Tenth District seat in the State Committee, Mr. Quellmalz this morning asked the POST-DISPATCH to state that he was not a party to any such tender and if one was made it was made without his knowledge and consent.

MAFFITT FOR CHAIRMAN.

His Re-election Seems to Be Assured by a Good Majority.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 16.—This afternoon various members of the State Committee state that Mr. Maffitt's re-election as chairman is assured.

They estimate that he will have at least 9 votes and possibly 10.

OLIVE STREET SALE.

Property Opposite Exposition Building Brings $1,000 Per Foot.

James M. Carpenter & Co., acting as agents for Martha A. Blakeman, yesterday sold to John Lumsden 48 feet of improved property on the south side of Olive street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets. M. A. Wolff & Co. represented the purchaser. The price paid was $48,000, which is at the rate of $1,000 per front foot. Several estimates heretofore made placed the value at $800 per foot. Hence the terms of the sale are regarded as very favorable to the sellers.

The improvements are of nominal value, there being a two-story edifice on the property, occupied by Scholten, the photographer. The building was a dwelling at one time, but was changed to a store. Scholten has a lease which has three or four years yet to run.

Nelson & Mersman sold for Hezekiah W. Boone to Thomas H. West three modern ten-room houses, Nos. 4003, 4007 and 4011 West Pine street, each with lot 33.4x213, or a total frontage of 100 feet, for $28,500. Each house is leased at $900 per annum.

Leon L. Hull & Co. report the following sales:

T. B. Voris to Henry S. Cochran, 80x177 feet on south side of Laclede avenue, between Taylor and Euclid avenues, at $75 a foot. The purchaser will improve.

Sarah E. Cowan to Wm. Altevogt, two-story brick house on Sidney street in city block 848, 40x136 feet to alley, for $2,450. The purchase was for investment.

The auction sale of Dundee place will continue to-morrow (Thursday), beginning at 3 p. m., when valuable switching property on the Frisco Railroad and a few choice lots on Folsom and Park avenues will be sold.

Largest, Deepest, Highest.

The largest bronze statue in the world is that of Peter the Great, at St. Petersburg, Russia; weight, 1,100 tons.

The greatest bee owner on earth is Harbison of California, who owns 6,000 hives.

The Czar of Russia holds the largest individual estates, 100,000,000 acres.

The deepest hole ever bored into the earth is an artesian well at Pesth, Hungary, which was driven to a depth of 3,140 feet.

The larges flower is the "Rafflesia" (named in honor of Sir S. Raffles), which is a native of Sumatra. The diameter often exceeds 9 feet.

The Mordella beetle has the greatest number of distinct eyes, a single specimen possessing as many as 25,000 facets of vision in his compound eye.

The largest bird's nest is that built by the Australian jungle fowl, usually about 20 feet in diameter and 15 feet high.

The greatest height ever attained by balloonists was by Coxwell and Glaisher, who reached an altitude of 37,000 feet. They made the ascent from Covent Garden, London, in 1862.

An Extra Room.

From an Exchange.

The real estate man had sent the facetious man to look at a five-room house he said he wanted. The prospective tenant found it in need of extra repairs and went back to the agent's office.

"I didn't want a six-room house," he said solemnly.

"That isn't a six-room house," retorted the agent.

"Yes it is."

"But I say it is not," and the agent began counting them. "There's the kitchen, two bed-rooms, reception room and dining room; that's five, ain't it?"

"Yes, and there's room for improvement; that's six," added the facetious man, and he wanted to see something else.

California's Liberty Tree.

From an Exchange.

They are about to plant a Liberty Tree in California, which is to stand for 1,000 years, and which will be emblematic of the patriotism of the extreme West. They are 3,000 miles from the home of Washington out there, but the tree is to be nourished by earth taken from the battlefield of the first battle of the Revolution, by other earth from Washington's grave, earth from the grave of Lafayette, in France; more earth from Bunker Hill, from the trenches at Valley Forge, additional soil from the field of Concord, and several big shovelfuls from the grave of the author of the "Star Spangled Banner." All of the earth is duly boxed and sealed, and warranted to be genuine soil from the location indicated on the labels, and the trees should grow in the form of an American flag if it has any sense of the fitness of things.

HIS PECULIAR WHISKERS.

He Was Waiting for Some Gay Youth to Come Along and Have Fun.

From the Buffalo Express.

A broad-shouldered man, fashionably dressed, came into the lobby of an uptown hotel on Saturday evening. He looked like an athlete. His step was springy and his face was ruddy with health. He was just the sort of man you would steer clear of in a fight. Still it was none of these qualities that attracted the attention of every person in the lobby. He wore a peculiar whisker. Hanging from his chin was a long blonde wisp of hair, such as stage farmers and some sure-enough ones wear. It was a whisker that waved briskly in every passing wind. It was so clearly out of place on this man of the world's face that a young fellow, bolder than the rest, engaged its owner in a conversation, and after a time asked him about it.

"That's a peculiar whisker you wear there," said the young man insinuatingly.

"Yes," assented the other.

"That the style where you came from?"

"No."

"Then, if the question is proper, I should like to know why you wear it?"

The broad-shouldered man smiled a bit and said: "I'll tell you why, I grew that whisker for the sole and only purpose of getting fresh young men to talk about it and thereby giving me an opportunity to get even with them."

The young man shivered apprehensively.

"Don't be afraid," said the other, "I was not alluding. The fact is, I was riding on the Boston and Albany awhile ago, and there was a man in the seat in front of me who had a wisp of hair on his chin. It was similar to this in all respects, save that it was gray, for he was an old man. There was a party of fresh young collegians in the same car, and, when they saw the old man's whisker, they began to make game of it. One lantern-jawed youth amused himself and his companions by reaching over, taking hold of the whisker and saying, 'Na-a-a-a,' like a billy-goat. He kept that up for forty miles, greatly to the old man's discomfort. Right then and there I resolved to grow a similar whisker. I did it, and I'm looking for somebody to shake that appendage and say, 'Na-a-a-a.' When that somebody does those things there is going to be trouble, and after that I'm going to shave it off. I have noticed, however, that it makes a heap of difference whose chin the billy-goat whiskers are on."

ALUMINIUM ALLOY.

An Important Composition Where Lightness and Strength Are Desired.

From the American Machinist.

At the last monthly meeting of engineers in New York some specimens of a new alloy of aluminium and nickel were exhibited which were remarkable. They were sent in by A. L. Hunt of Pittsburg, and both were in the form of rolled sheets ¼-inch thick. In one of these a hole about ¼-inch in diameter had been drifted out to about two inches in diameter cold, and the other, which was a strip about 3 inches wide, 24 inches long, had been bent at the middle, the deflection amounting to about 2 inches. It was stated that the force required to do this bending had been about the same as is required to similarly bend a similar piece of 90,000-pound steel, and when the specimen was placed upon the floor and stood upon until straightened, it immediately resumed its former shape upon being released; in other words, it seemed to be perfectly elastic within the limits named. The alloy is of a beautiful white color and of remarkably light weight. No information was given as to the proportions of aluminum and nickel in the alloy, but it probably contains only a small percentage of the latter, and so far as could be judged it bids fair to be an important alloy in cases where lightness and strength are especially desired.

FIRE FIGHTERS.

Automatic Sprinklers Must Not Be Exclusively Depended Upon.

From the Fall River News.

Stories of indicrous incidents, often resulting disastrously, illustrate what some of the deficiences are in the private fire service of some of the mills. Several years ago, when automatic sprinklers had not come into general use, all the sprinklers in a mill were operated by valves in the tower, or lacking a tower, inside the mill near the main entrance. As a rule these valves were arranged in a row, and there were no means of determining from their appearance whether they were open or shut. Sometimes the valves open to the right, and sometimes to the left, and only two or three men about a mill knew which way they did open. In some mills part of the valves open to the right and part to the left. Each valve covered the sprinklers in a room or a portion of a room, and there were usually signs or marks to indicate which room a valve covered. There could of course be no experiments in opening the valves, for to open one would result in flooding a part of the mill. Even the men who had been instructed concerning the valves were apt to forget.

When the Sagamore mill was burned the man who first reached the valves after the alarm was given turned on the ones covering the location of the fire. It was easy enough to determine which way to turn the valve, for it could be turned in only one direction to open it. The second man to reach the valves did not know that they were open and could not tell from their appearance. He tried them, and they were fast one way, so he turned them the other way and closed them. After the mill was destroyed and things had cooled off, some men were directed to dig down to the valves, and every one was found closed. On this occasion the mill fire engine was supposed to be running, but the smoke was so thick that the engine could not be reached, and when the water was most needed not a drop was going into the mill.

Unwomanly.

From the Pall Mall Gazette.

The only serious argument against feminine smoking that I have ever seen is that it is "unwomanly"—which begs the question. "Womanly" things are things which well-bred women do at any given time and in any given place. In Turkey it is unwomanly to show the face. In Japan it is unwomanly to enter a room before your husband. In Germany it is unwomanly to shake hands with a mere acquaintance—if it be a man. In England, twenty years ago, it was unwomanly to ride in a hansom. Now it is not; simply because women habitually ride in hansoms. And so if women really wish to prove that it is not "unwomanly" to smoke, the only thing they have to do is to smoke. But it is none of my business.

Oldest Tune in the World.

From the Pall Mall Gazette.

Which is the oldest tune in the world? Most people would guess the Delphic hymn to Apollo, which was dug up the other day. But they would be wrong. It is the tune which is now wedded to the words, "We Won't Go Home Till Morning." Napoleon's soldiers played it in the shadow of the Pyramids in 1789, and the Bedouins who heard it wept for joy. It was found among the children of the desert by the Crusaders. I have no doubt that it was howled by Chaldæan chappies when they were merry with wine. It is—according to experts—the elemental, protoplasmic tune.

LOOK OUT FOR

The bargain advertisements the merchants will have in to-morrow's (Thursday) POST-DISPATCH.

LIKE THROWING MONEY AWAY.

So Says Mr. Bell Concerning the Smith Heirs Proposition.

Ex-City Counselor Leverett Bell takes issue with City Counselor W. C. Marshall on the subject of the city's liability to the Smith heirs in connection with the new City Hall site, and is of the opinion that money paid to the heirs in settlement of the matter, as is proposed by a bill soon to be introduced in the Municipal Assembly, is so much cash thrown away. It was on the strength of an opinion given by Mr. Bell that the site was selected. He held that the erection of a building in Washington square did not divert the property from park purposes. Mr. Marshall, it is said, has some doubt on the subject and has recommended an ordinance paying the heirs $30,000 as a full settlement of their claims. In discussing the matter with a POST-DISPATCH reporter to-day Mr. Bell remarked: "The Smith heirs are not entitled to anything, and to pay them anything is like throwing so much money into the river."

FACES

Become Shapened According to One's Calling.

From Blackwood's Magazine.

It appears probable that the tailor's distinctive type of face may have been partially created by his habit of working his jaws concomitantly with his shears. Let anyone watch a person cutting a piece of tough material with scissors and he will see that the lower part of the face wags in rhythmic and spontaneous unison with the blades. Shepherds and farm laborers who join sheep-shearing gangs certainly acquire a different expression while engaged in this kind of work.

The cast of countenance by which one so easily recognizes a groom is partially explicable from the fact that the muscles which close the jaw and compress the lips are always called into play when we are asserting our will over that of a horse. Nearly all jockeys and other horsemen have a peculiar set of the mouth and chin, but I have been unable to distinguish any special characteristic about the eyes or upper part of the face.

It is instructive to compare the visage of the ruler of horses with that of the ruler of men. The horseman's face shows command in the mouth, the drill sergeant's in the mouth and the eye. The last is undoubtedly the most effective instrument in exacting obedience from our own species. Here we get a hint of the cause of that want of dignity, that element of coarseness which is discernible in the countenances of some men and women who have much to do with horses. The higher and nobler method of expressing authority is outweighed by the lower and more animal one.

The Naval Uniform.

From an Exchange.

The Secretary of the Navy has just approved a report made by a board of officers recommending a complete change in the uniforms worn by the navy. Fortunately for the officers, however, the changes are not such as will entail much additional expense in the purchase of new clothing, and are to be made gradually, so that they will not be compelled to purchase complete outfits at once. The present navy uniform is regarded as one of the handsomest in the world, but the changes which are now ordered are said to be demanded by convenience and comfort. The present heavy overcoat will lose the belt around the waist, and the hood at the back is to be so fixed that it can be detached and need be worn only in extremely cold weather. The present white helmet for hot climates is to be abolished and a white cover, used over the regular service cap, is to take its place. Two years from now the special full dress is to suffer many alterations, which, it is believed, will improve it, and other changes that individually are of no great consequence are to be made from time to time, which collectively will make a considerable difference in the outfit of an officer.

In Favor of Chinese Merchants.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16.—Atty.-Gen. Olney has ruled that Chinese merchants doing business in the United States on Nov. 3, 1893, whether under their own names or not, do not come within the provisions of the third paragraph of Sec. 2 of the act of the date above given. All such merchants, it is held, as were here when the statute took effect may return to the country should they leave it.

Italian-American Republicans.

The Italian-American Republican Club was organized last night at 816 Morgan street with a roster of forty members. The following temporary officers were elected: J. C. Bernachi, President; C. P. Repetto, Vice-President; J. B. Repetto, Corresponding Secretary; L. J. Capestro, Financial Secretary; Frank Vaccaro, Treasurer; F. Calendi, Warden. The next meeting will be held at the same place May 29, 1894.

A $10,000 Claim.

The trial of the $10,000 damage suit of Romeo Brandon vs. Lon Sanders began before Judge Klein to-day. On Sept. 10, 1892, Sanders is alleged to have taken out a warrant in the Court of Criminal Correction charging Brandon with grand larceny under which charge the latter was tried and acquitted. The plaintiff charges that the arrest was malicious and without probable cause.

THE business of making and selling Refrigerators is one that employs an enormous number of men. The quality of the Refrigerator is something that should be examined into closely before buying, because a good Refrigerator is something of great value in a household, but a poor one is absolutely worth nothing.

Simmons Hardware Co. control entirely and absolutely the "SIBERIA," which is the best Refrigerator that ever has been made, and they are now selling them at retail at very low prices, having in their capacious store rooms at Ninth and Washington avenue the various sizes for sale at prices ranging from $7.50 to $75.

DEEP ANXIETY

Congressmen Eager to Hurry Home to the Conventions.

Scared by Primaries and the Choosing of Delegates.

PARTICULAR ACTIVITY IN THE MISSOURI DISTRICTS.

The Heard Convention in ——Members of the National House Will Hasten Legislation, Complete the Tariff Bill and Adjourn Speedily—The Brazil and Portugal Row Recalls a Similar United States Case—General Washington News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16.—Members of Congress are growing more restive every day. Word reaches them from home that Congressional conventions are being called, primaries being held and delegates chosen. Many conventions have already been held, and quite a number of the present members of the House have been renominated. These include Representatives Clark of Missouri, Fithian, Lane and Smith of Illinois, Johnson of Indiana and Layton of Ohio.

In the district of Representative Paynter of Kentucky the convention has been held and Rolla K. Hart nominated, as Mr. Paynter declined to be a candidate. Finis Downing has been nominated for one of the new districts of Illinois. Reports have been published that Representative Hopkins of Illinois has been renominated and that Representative McDannold of Illinois and Cooper of Indiana have been defeated, but the districts of these three members have not yet held their conventions.

MISSOURI DISTRICTS ACTIVE.

Besides the conventions already held, many are set for the near future. The Missouri districts are particularly active. Representative Morgan's (Missouri) convention is next week and he has assurances that the instructions to delegates will renominate him.

Representative Heard's (Missouri) convention is June 5 and his renomination is expected. Representative Hall of Missouri is canvassing his district and is said to be sure of renomination. Representatives Bland and Hatch have little or no opposition in their districts.

ILLINOIS CONVENTIONS.

In Illinois the Democratic Congressional conventions at Chicago are set for July 10. The Republican conventions have not been called.

Representative McDannold's convention is June 17. The conventions of Representatives Cannon and Hopkins are not far off. The other conventions have not yet been called.

IN INDIANA.

In Indiana the convention in Representative Johnson's district is the only one that has made a nomination. Several of the Republican conventions have been called for June and July. It is expected that Representatives Holman, Bynum and most of the other Indiana members now serving will be renominated.

OTHER STATE GATHERINGS.

Michigan has had no conventions as yet. Chairman Campau of the Democratic State Committee was here recently and arranged to have an early State convention. The Congressional nominations will follow soon after.

In Ohio Representative Layton's district is the only in which action has been taken. Three of the Republican conventions are set for June.

In Kansas, where a number of districts are represented by Populists, the Populist Conventions are being called. That of Representative Davis is on June 7, and the Republican convention of the district is to-morrow.

The Minnesota and Wisconsin conventions are still far off, as are most of those in North western States.

IN THE EAST AND SOUTH.

Most of the Eastern congressional conventions will be late in the summer or in the early fall. The practice in New England districts and through New York and New Jersey is to hold the conventions only a few weeks before the election. Some of the Pennsylvania conventions are being called, but the dates are late, that of Representative Erdman being Aug. 20.

Most of the Southern conventions are also late, but the precinct contests are already proceeding actively.

In Texas Representatives Gresham and Crain have carried most of the precincts thus far contested. The West Virginia conventions are expected to be in August and those of Louisiana in September.

ANXIOUS TO GET HOME.

This activity in districts throughout the country makes members anxious to get home and attend to their interests. They say the most effective work is done in the months leading up to the conventions, instead of immediately before the meetings.

The recent practice of "docking" salaries has made it very expensive to go home to attend a canvass. These considerations are urging members to hurry along with legislation, complete the tariff bill and adjourn as soon as possible.

A SIMILAR CASE RECALLED

By the Maritime Row Between Brazil and Portugal.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16.—The strained relations between Brazil and Portugal resulting from the extension by the Portuguese men-of-war of the right of asylum to the defeated rebel, Admiral Da Gama, recalls to the naval officers a complication of a similar nature in which the United States was involved with Brazil, and in which this country was guilty of a much more flagrant violation of international law than is charged against Portugal. It was in the days of the civil war, when the Alabama and Shenandoah and other Confederate cruisers were working havoc to commerce that Capt. Collins of the United States steamer Wachusett finally cornered the C. S. A.'s Shenandoah in Rio Harbor.

The neutrality laws required that when belligerent vessels, sheltered in harbor, desired to leave one must give the other twenty-four hours' start. By the operation of that law Capt. Collins had lost several possible captives, and he was determined that the Shenandoah should not escape him. So in the night he got under way and made straight at the Shenandoah, intending to sink her "accidentally" in a collision. But the Wachusett struck the Shenandoah a glancing blow without materially damaging her. Capt. Collins was not to be balked, and, throwing boarders on the vessel, attached a cable to her and boldly towed her out of the neutral port and up to Hampton Roads, Va. There was a great stir over this breach of international law, and although Emperor Dom Pedro was a warm sympathizer with the North, he could not overlook the indignity that had been put upon his country and demanded reparation. When the facts came out the United States had no defense. So Capt. Collins was suspended, an ample apology was made to Brazil and the Shenandoah was ordered to be returned in good order to Rio. By a mysterious accident, which never was fully explained, one of the Federal gun-boats in getting under way from Hampton Roads the night before the Shenandoah was to sail, ran into the ship and she was sunk at her anchorage, so that the Brazilian Government was obliged to be content with the apology and Capt. Collins' punishment.

American Wares Pirated.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16.—United States Consul Monaghan, at Chemnitz, Germany, makes a report to the Department of State warning American manufacturers against the pirating of their wares by certain unscrupulous manufacturers. He cites the case of a Chemnitz man who was attracted by a superior pump exhibited at the World's Fair, and bought six of the pumps under pretense of acting as an agent for the company. But when they reached him he took them apart and, copying their construction, put on the German market a number of imitations. The Consul cites a similar case, where an American knitting-machine is imitated and sold for 50 per cent less than the price in the United States, and advises American manufacturers to take out German patents on their products.

DANGERS OF DRESS.

How Men and Women Run Great Risks During the Summer in the Way They Are Clothed.

Few people think at this time of the year of the great importance of dress.

In the winter people dress warmly because they know it is a necessity, but in the summer, when it is hot, they go to the other extreme and even dress too lightly. Hot weather causes people to use light clothing; but suddenly the wind changes, the air becomes chilly and a cold is pretty certain to be the result.

Now, where most people make a mistake is in not guarding against these sudden changes quickly and in time. Any man or woman who has on a light suit of clothing, and feels a change which brings a chill, should at once counteract the chill. This can only be done by the use of a pure stimulant, not gingers or hot drinks, but a pure medicinal whiskey that will refresh the system, cause the blood to circulate and bring about immediate reaction. There is but one medicinal whiskey that will do this, and that is Duffy's Pure Malt. It has for twenty years accomplished what has never been known before in counteracting the first symptoms of sudden colds and preventing the possibility of pneumonia, fevers and all the distressing complaints which follow any cold.

It should be remembered, however, that Duffy's Pure Malt is the only whiskey which will certainly accomplish this an l, however much dealers may talk to the contrary, it alone should be taken.

BRICE'S PREDICTION.

June 15 Will See the Tariff Bill Through the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Senator Brice stands by his original proposition that the 15th of June will see the tariff bill through the Senate. He was discussing the rumor current about the Senate that another Democratic conference was to be held.

"What is the use of it?" he asked. "We are getting on in good shape and we shall come through on schedule time. Every vote taken on the amendments shows a safe Democratic majority, and the amendments are being dispatched with as much rapidity as could be expected at this stage. You have not noticed any defections in the Democratic ranks yet, have you? Senator Hill is absent, but he is paired on the amendments with Senator Lodge, he for them and Lodge against. Oh, yes, there may be some trouble on the income tax when that is reached, but it will be gotten over and the bill will go on its way. I look to see the opposition melt away and the collapse will probably be sudden and unexpected when it does come, just as it was when the silver repeal bill was up. I said that bill would pass before the end of October, long before the final vote was reached. Well, it did pass. So will the end come in this case, and it will be reached by the same methods. On the 19th of October the opposition to the repeal of the Sherman bill was, apparently, as strong as it had been at any time since the debate had begun; on the 20th it was all over. This talk of there being four, five or seven Democratic Senators opposed to the pending bill which we hear from our friends on the Republican side is all in the air, and they will see their mistake soon. We are getting on in a way to contradict that, and the minority will soon melt away in the face of the facts that must convince them. Cloture? I doubt it. That would be a new question to settle, and I don't think we shall try it. No; I expect to see the bill put through under the present rules, and I shall not change my original date for the final consummation."

A LUTHERAN ANNIVERSARY.

Mission Jubilee Meeting in Pennsylvania—A National Affair.

YORK, Pa., May 16.—The celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the boards of home missions, foreign missions and church extension by the general synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in the United States, began in St. Paul's Church, this city, to-day.

Among the former secretaries of the boards who are present are the Rev. J. W. Goodlin, the Rev. J. A. Clutz, D. D., now President of Midland College, Atchison, Kan., and the Rev. J. J. Richard, D. D., now professor in the seminary at Gettysburg. Ministers and laymen of the Lutheran Church are present from all parts of the United States. The jubilee celebration will continue to-morrow and Friday.

Mrs. Grant Visiting the O'Fallons.

Mrs. Julia D. Grant is visiting to-day at the home of Mr. James I. O'Fallon, 3639 Olive street. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse R. Grant left last evening for a short trip to Chicago.

Foreign Excursionists.

A small party of excursionists from England and France, comprising Mr. and Mrs. Applegate, Robert de Thoury and Viscounte de Penfeilhoux, under the direction of Hugo Bode, are seeing the sights of St. Louis to-day. They arrived this morning and will leave this evening for California.

Women and Women Only

Are most competent to fully appreciate the purity, sweetness, and delicacy of CUTICURA SOAP, and to discover new uses for it daily.

For annoying irritations, chafings and excoriations of the skin and mucous membrane or too free or offensive perspiration it has proved most grateful.

In the preparation of curative washes, solutions, etc., it is most valuable; possessing, by means of its combination with CUTICURA, peculiarly purifying, cleansing and soothing properties. It is thus enabled to heal mucous irritations, the cause of many annoying and debilitating weaknesses, while it imparts strength to the membrane.

CUTICURA SOAP possesses antiseptic properties and is capable of destroying microscopic life in many forms.

There is no difference between the skin and the mucous membrane except that one is dry the other moist. Hence CUTICURA SOAP exerts the same purifying, soothing, and healing influence in one case as in the other.

Like all others of the CUTICURA REMEDIES the CUTICURA SOAP appeals to the refined and cultivated everywhere as the most effective skin purifying and beautifying soap as well as the purest and sweetest for toilet and nursery.

Sale greater than the combined sales of all other skin and complexion soaps.

Sold throughout the world. POTTER DRUG AND CHEM. CORP., Sole Proprietors, Boston.

WOMEN FULL OF PAINS, ACHES

And nervous weaknesses, find in Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster instant and grateful relief as well as comfort, strength and renewed vitality. "Quick Meal" Gasoline Stoves.

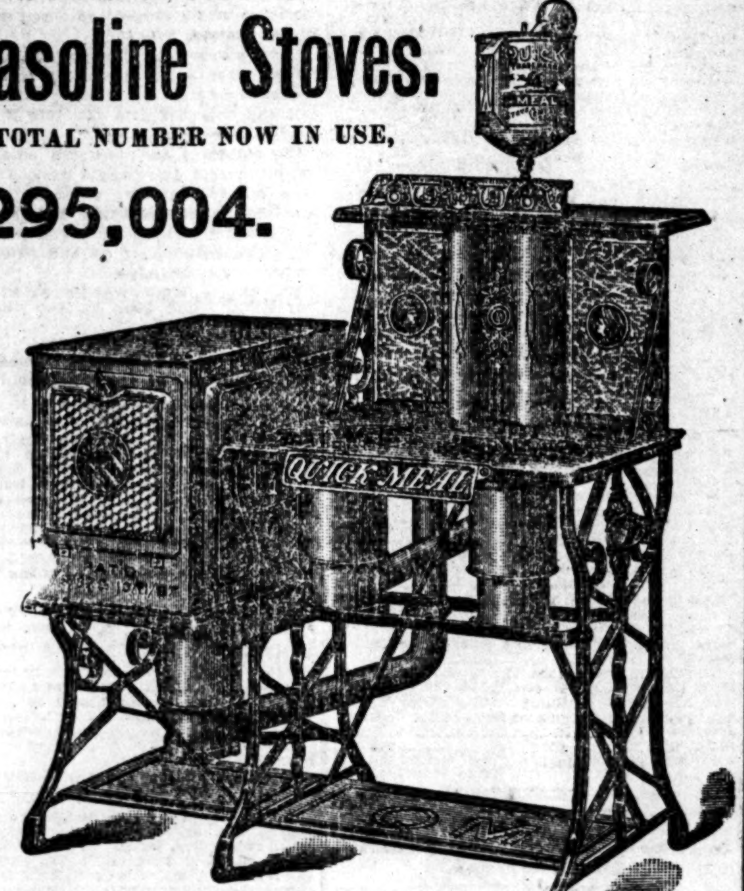
TOTAL NUMBER NOW IN USE,

295,004.



The marvelous success of "Quick Meal" Gasoline Stoves is caused by their absolute safety against accidents. This absolute safety is acquired in the following manner: The Burners cannot be opened farther than necessary; the Tank can not be taken off for filling unless all the Burners are shut; an Indicator shows whether the Burners are open or clcsed; a glass Tube shows the dripping of gasoline. "Quick Meal" Gasoline Stoves are durable, simple and economical. These wonderful stoves must be seen to be appreciated. Sales last year, 71,316 stoves. We refer to every one.

TRUSTEE'S SALE—Whereas, by his deed of trust, dated March 11, 1891, and duly recorded in the office of the Recorder of Deeds for the city of St. Louis, Mo., in book 1013, page 19, John R. McDonald did convey to Gilbert J. George as trustee, the following described real estate in said city of St. Louis, to-wit: Commencing at a point on the west line of Florence (Belt) avenue, sixteen feet and one inch (16 ft. 1 in.) south of the northeast corner of lot six (6), running southwardly along the west line of Florence avenue thirty-three feet six inches (33 ft. 6 in.) to a point five inches north of the south line of lot six (6); thence west and parallel with said line one hundred and ninety (190) feet to an alley 20 feet wide; thence north along the east line of said alley 33 feet 6 inches; thence east and parallel with the north line of said lot one hundred and ninety feet to the point of beginning, being in lot six (6) of Alonzo K. Florida's subdivision of the north part of block 4534 of said city of St. Louis, which conveyance was made in trust to secure two principal notes and certain interest notes in said deed fully described; and, whereas, the last of said principal notes in said deed described has become due and unpaid, and said George did refuse to execute the powers of sale in him vested by said deed, and the Sheriff of the City of St. Louis did likewise refuse to act as trustee therein, whereupon the Circuit Court of the City of St. Louis did on the 11th day of April, 1894, duly appoint the undersigned as trustee in lieu and stead of said original trustee and of said Sheriff. Now, therefore, at the request of the legal holder of said notes, the undersigned will, on THURSDAY, THE 31ST DAY OF MAY, 1894, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 5 o'clock p. m. of said day, at the east front door of the Court-house in said city of St. Louis, sell the property above described at public vendue, to the highest bidder, for cash, to satisfy said trust and the expense of this sale.

SPECIAL Commissioner's Sale in Partition—Whereas, the Circuit Court, City of St. Louis, in Room Number Five thereof, did heretofore to-wit, on the 23rd day of April A. D., 1894, in a certain cause pending in said court wherein Adam Herold is plaintiff, and the St. Louis Trust Company as Administrator of Catherine Herold deceased, Catherine Weber, Walter Herold, a minor, William Herold, a minor, Arthur Herold, a minor, and Arthur Wachter are defendants, enter its decree in partition and order for the sale of the real estate in said decree and hereinafter described;

And whereas, by said decree the said Circuit Court did appoint the undersigned, Henry Hiemenz, Jr., special commissioner to make said sale, and whereas, the said Henry Hiemenz, Jr., has duly qualified by filing the bond required by him by said decree, which said bond has been by said Circuit Court approved, and a certified copy of said decree in partition and order of sale has heretofore been delivered to the undersigned special commissioner;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that, by virtue and authority of said order of sale and said appointment, the undersigned special commissioner, appointed by said Circuit Court as aforesaid, will, on between the hours of 9 o'clock a. m. and 5 o'clock p. m. of said day, and during the session of the Circuit Court, city of St. Louis, at the east front door of the Court-house in the City of St. Louis, and State of Missouri, proceed to sell at public auction to the highest bidder, the following described real estate lying and being situate in city block numbered 789, of the City of St. Louis and State of Missouri, and more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

Lot numbered five (5) in block numbered twenty-nine (29) in Allen's addition to the city of St. Louis, a plat of which said addition is on file in the office of the Recorder of Deeds for St. Louis County, now City; said lot numbered five (5) contains a front of twenty-five (25) feet on the west line of Rosatti street by a depth of one hundred and thirteen (113) feet six and one-half (6½) inches more or less to alley; the same being bounded on the east by Rosatti street, west by an alley, north by lot numbered four (4) and south by lot numbered six (6) in said block numbered twenty-nine (29) of Allen's Addition to the city of St. Louis.

Terms of the sale: One-half of the purchase price to be paid in cash, the remainder in three years from the date of sale; the deferred payment to bear interest from the day of sale at the rate of six per cent per annum and to be secured by deed of trust on the property sold. The purchaser at said sale, however, shall have the option to pay a greater proportion of the purchase money or the whole thereof in cash, provided such option is exercised before the filing of the report of sale.

SHERIFF'S SALE UNDER DEED OF TRUST—Whereas, John R. McDonald, by his deed dated the 11th day of March, A. D., 1891, and recorded in the Recorder's office of the city of St. Louis, in book 1,007, page 154, conveyed to Gilbert J. George in trust the following described real estate, lying and being situated in the city of St. Louis, State of Missouri, to-wit: Being the south five inches of lot 6 and the north 33 feet of lot 5 of Alonzo K. Florida's subdivision of the north part of block 4534 of the city of St. Louis, fronting 33 5 inches on the west line of Florence av. by a depth westwardly of 190 feet to an alley 20 feet wide, which said conveyance was made in trust to secure the payment of certain promissory notes in said deed described. And whereas two of the said notes remain due and unpaid, and the said Gilbert J. George, said trustee, refused to act as such trustee, without having completed the performance of the duties imposed on him by said deed of trust. Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that, at the request of the legal holder of said notes, and in pursuance of the provisions of said deed of trust, the undersigned will, on between the hours of 9 o'clock in the forenoon and 5 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, at the east front door of the Court-house in the city of St. Louis, State of Missouri, proceed to sell at public vendue, to the highest bidder, for cash, the above described real estate to satisfy said notes and the costs of executing said trust.

PATRICK M. STAED,
Sheriff and Trustee.

STATE OF MISSOURI, City of St. Louis, ss.—In the Probate Court for the City of St. Louis, March term, 1894. Monday, April 16, A. D. 1894. Estate of Alexander Guillier. Order of publication and personal service. Now, at this day, comes Robert T. Stillwell, administrator of the estate of Alexander Guillier, deceased, and presents to the court his petition praying for an order for the sale of so much of the real estate of said deceased as will pay and satisfy the remaining debts due by said estate, and yet unpaid for want of sufficient assets, accompanied by the accounts, lists and inventories required by law in such case, on examination whereof it is ordered, that all persons interested in the estate of said deceased be notified that application, as aforesaid, has been made, and that unless the contrary be shown on or before the first day of the next term of this court, to be begun and held at the City of St. Louis, within and for the City of St. Louis, on the first Monday of June next, an order will be made for the sale of the whole, or so much of the real estate of said deceased as will be sufficient for the payment of said debts; and it is further ordered that a copy hereof be published in some newspaper printed in the City of St. Louis aforesaid for four weeks before the next term of this court, and that a copy hereof be delivered to each of such heirs or devisees of said deceased as are residents of the City of St. Louis at least ten days before the next term of this court.

A true copy from the record.

Witness my hand and seal of the Probate Court of the City of St. Louis hereto affixed this 16th day of April, 1894.

SPECIAL COMMISSIONER'S SALE—In partition—By virtue of and pursuant to a decree and order of sale made by the Circuit Court of the City of St. Louis, Missouri, at its April term, 1894, on the 5th day of April, 1894, the undersigned, duly appointed and qualified as special commissioner in the cause wherein said decree and order were made, being Cause No. 95,512, in which Christian Louis Kruckemeyer, Emma Kruckemeyer, Wilhelm Heinrich Kruckemeyer and Anna Kruckemeyer are plaintiffs, and George K. H. Kruckemeyer, Pauline Kruckemeyer, Johannes H. Kruckemeyer, Belle Kruckemeyer et al. are defendants, will on between the hours of 9 o'clock in the forenoon and 5 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, at the eastern front door of the Court-house in the city of St. Louis, Missouri, proceed to sell at public vendue to the highest bidder, upon the terms below stated, all the right, title and interest, estate, property and claims of the parties to said suit, in and to the following described real estate, together with the improvements thereon, to-wit: First. A lot or parcel of ground in the City of St. Louis, State of Missouri, and in city block number 332, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point in the east line of North Ninth street seventy-two feet south of the southeast corner of said North Ninth street and St. Louis avenue (formerly Spring street); thence running southwardly with said east line of North Ninth street thirty-six (36) feet; thence eastwardly and parallel with St. Louis avenue (formerly Spring street) one hundred and forty (140) feet to an alley; thence northwardly and parallel to Ninth street thirty-six (36) feet; thence westwardly and parallel with St. Louis avenue (formerly Spring street) one hundred and forty (140) feet to the place of beginning; bounded north by lot now or formerly of Studer, east by an alley, south by a lot now or formerly of Charles R. Anderson, and on the west by said North Ninth street. Second. A lot in said city and State, and in city block number 314, being a part of lot 135 of block 36 of Chambers, Christy & Wright's addition, known as North St. Louis, viz.: A lot containing a front of forty (40) feet on Broadway by ninety feet deep, beginning at a point in the east line of Broadway forty (40) feet south of the south line of Montgomery street; thence eastwardly and parallel with Montgomery street ninety (90) feet; thence southwardly parallel with Broadway forty (40) feet to the south line of said lot 135; thence westwardly along the southern line of said lot 135, ninety (90) feet to Broadway and thence north with Broadway forty (40) feet to the point of beginning; bounded north by a lot of J. H. Sewing, east by property of said Kruckemeyer, deceased (hereinafter described), south by the south line of said lot 135 and west by Broadway. Third. A lot of ground in said city and State, and in block number 314 of said city, having a front of thirty (30) feet on Montgomery street by a depth of eighty (80) feet, viz.: Beginning at a point in the southern line of Montgomery street, ninety feet eastward of the east line of Broadway; thence eastward along Montgomery street thirty (30) feet; thence southwardly parallel with Broadway eighty (80) feet to the south line of lot 135; thence westwardly along said line thirty (30) feet to the east end of the lot last above (second) described, thence north along said lot last above (second) described, and along the east line of a five-foot private alley, eighty (80) feet to the point of beginning, together with the use of said private alley five feet wide.

Terms of sale: One-third of the purchase price in cash, one-third in one year and one-third in two years from the day of sale, the deferred payments to bear six per cent interest per annum, payable annually, and to be secured by deed of trust on the property sold, or at the option of the purchaser, a greater portion, or all of the purchase price, may be paid in cash, such option being expressed prior to the filing of the report of sale.

Said sale will be subject to the approval of said Court on report thereof thereafter to be made.

CHARLES C. CRONE,
St. Louis, May 2, 1894. Special Commissioner.

R. SCHULENBURG, Attorney for Defendants. 927

SHERIFF'S SALE Under Deed of Trust—Whereas, E. B. Newberry, by his deed of trust, dated the 24th day of November, 1891, and recorded in the office of the Recorder of Deeds of the City of St. Louis, State of Missouri, in book 1,035, page 553, conveyed to F. G. Flanagan, in trust to secure the payment of the notes in said deed of trust described, the following described real estate lying and being situate in the City of St. Louis, State of Missouri, to-wit: Being lots twenty-eight (28) and twenty-nine (29), in city block 3,806 west, in Rose Hill subdivision, having an aggregate frontage of one hundred and five (105) feet on the east line of Clara avenue by a depth eastwardly of one hundred and twenty-five (125) feet; bounded west by Clara avenue, south by Ridge avenue, east by lots twenty-seven (27) and twenty-eight (28), and north by lot thirty (30) of said block (of which the south thirty-five feet of said lot twenty-eight were subsequently released on the payment of the principal note due in one year after date). And whereas, default has been made in the payment of the principal note due two years after date and interest notes, together with interest thereon, and the same remains due and unpaid. And whereas, said F. G. Flanagan, said trustee, has refused to act as such trustee, without having performed the duties imposed upon him by said deed of trust, now, therefore, notice is hereby given that, at the request of the legal holder of said notes and in pursuance of the provisions of said deed of trust, the undersigned will proceed to sell the above-described real estate (except the south thirty-five feet of said lot twenty-eight, released as aforesaid), at the east front door of the Court-house in the City of St. Louis and State of Missouri, at public vendue, to the highest bidder, for cash, on between the hours of 9 o'clock in the forenoon and 5 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, for the purpose of satisfying said deed of trust, together with the costs and expenses of executing this trust.

PATRICK M. STAED, Sheriff and Trustee.
St. Louis, Mo., April 30, 1894. 871

WHEREAS, Benjamin C. Hogan and Lillie Hogan, his wife, by their certain deed of trust dated the 23d day of May, 1892, recorded in book 1091, page 347, in the office of the Recorder of Deeds for the city of St. Louis, Mo., conveyed to the undersigned trustee the following described real estate, situate, lying and being in the city of St. Louis and State of Missouri, to-wit: Lot in city block thirty-eight hundred and seventy-nine south (3879 s), containing a front of forty (40) feet in the north line of Westminster place (as established by ordinance 16,190) by a depth northwardly between parallel lines of one hundred and ninety-five (195) feet, more or less, to the south line of an alley 15 feet wide; bounded north by said alley, south by said Westminster place, west by property of said Benjamin C. Hogan and east by a line parallel with and one hundred and sixty (160) feet west of the west line of Euclid avenue, which conveyance was made in trust to secure the payment of certain notes in said deed described; and, whereas, it is and by said deed the said Benjamin C. Hogan and Lillie Hogan, for further securing the payment of said notes, among other things, covenanted and agreed to cause all taxes and assessments, general and special, then existing against said property to be paid and discharged on demand, and further that during the pendency of the trust thereby created they would promptly pay and discharge as and when due and payable, respectively, all and singular such taxes, levies or assessments as may or shall be by any lawful authority whatever levied, assessed or imposed on said property or against any part thereof; and whereas it is and by said deed provided in the event that default be made in the fulfillment of the covenants and agreements of said deed, or any one of them, that the undersigned may proceed to sell the property conveyed, or any part thereof; and whereas the said Benjamin C. Hogan and Lillie Hogan have made default in the payment of taxes assessed against said property for 1892 and 1893, both general and special, and such taxes are yet due and unpaid: Now, therefore, at the request of the legal holder of said notes and in pursuance of the terms of said deed of trust, I, the undersigned trustee, will proceed to sell the above described real estate at the east front door of the Court-house in the city of St. Louis and State of Missouri, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, on

IF I make the armor plates of a nation I care not who writes its platforms.—[Andrew Carnegie.

IT appears that the cuckoo forces were in full control of the Kansas City Convention until it met.

THE Industrials deserve sympathy in their distress and the butt end of the law for their crimes.

THE old home of Benedict Arnold has been sold, it appears, without giving D. B. Hill a chance to bid on it.

EX-GOV. FRANCIS and his administration lieutenants have the satisfaction of knowing that they owned the lobby.

THE only difference between Paternalist Carnegie and Nationalist Coxey is that one gets what he asks for and the other doesn't.

EX-SENATOR HENDERSON is thinking more of religion than of politics in his old age. He is delivering jeremiads against the sins of his party.

THE filibustering Republicans of the Senate are bad enough, but they are not so much detested as the Democrats who are McKinleyizing the Wilson bill.

POSSIBLY the renegade Democrats of the Senate suppose that because the Democratic platform was adopted in Chicago it was necessarily intended to deceive.

COXEY'S nomination for Congress in McKinley's district carries McKinleyism beyond McKinley. But it shows that the Governor did his educational work thoroughly.

ACCORDING to Atty.-Gen. Olney, his business is not to prosecute under the law as he finds it, but to make prosecution useless by furnishing the other side with stiff arguments.

THE right to get rich, so dear to Mr. Abram Hewitt and certain plutocratic organs, is conceded to everyone. But it is limited by the right to make a living, which cannot be denied.

WHEN the Republicans were in power the Sugar Trust and the other combines go all they wanted and they do not propose to give up anything merely because another party has been voted in.

IT cannot be said that the tariff tinkerers and speculators have wholly forgotten the poor man. Although nearly every duty touched by the new amendments was raised, a reduction was made on shoddy.

WITH the stars and stripes floating over Buckhurst, and all the American schoolhouses provided with the national bunting, Mr. Carnegie feels that the quality of our armor plates is of small importance.

HAD it not been for the supposed necessity of a campaign fund, Republicans like Gen. Henderson might have led the G. O. P. and it could have continued to be the progressive party its founders had intended.

ONLY the Pittsburg operators, ten in number, stand in the way of an amicable settlement of the coal miners' strike. The barons of Pennsylvania have had their own way so long that they have forgotten how to give up.

HAD Mr. Harrison known the truth about the American Navy he wouldn't have been so spunky in the Chilian quarrel. If half the tales told are true the Captain Prat is more than a match for all our pretty ships.

IF one of the chief results of the "American system," which we have really borrowed from China, is to get our nav[illegible] [illegible] in our first [illegible] battle with an ordinary naval power, what is there in it for the American eagle?

THE attention of Democratic Conservatives and Republican filibusterers in the Senate is respectfully called to the suicide of Joseph Schwartz of New York, who made away with himself that his wife might be saved from starvation by insurance money.

PUGILIST and Actor Corbett has no reason to complain that Shakspeare did not write a part to suit him. The Shakspearean dramas abound in parts that exactly fit Corbett and all his tribe, but the author had the genius to refrain from giving them lines.

WHEN the budget bill came before the British House of Commons, three members abstained from voting on certain items because they had pecuniary interests which would be affected by the measure. What squeamish idealists they must be! Fancy our retained Senators doing anything like that. What is the use of going into politics if there are to be no opportunities?

THE Democratic Convention could not well go astray in the choice of a candidate for the Supreme Court. There was no opposition to Judge Black, and his renomination was a merited and unavoidable recognition of good service. Judge Black has been able, firm and stainless in his judicial office. W. T. Carrington, the nominee for Superintendent of Public Instruction, is an untried man whose fitness must be shown. As for the Railroad Commissionership, it will be an agreeable disappointment to the people of the State if any importance attaches to the nomination. There is little chance of the selection of a candidate who is not acceptable to the political railroad attorneys and who, if elected, will do more than draw his salary.

A BI-PARTISAN CABAL.

If the Republican Senators were not as deep in the mire as the Democrats are in the mud they would not be so cautious in their references to the Sugar Trust and the sugar Senators.

Charges have been made vaguely on the floor of the Senate by the Republicans, which involve certain unnamed Senators on the other side. These charges have been employed for partisan purposes and have been very useful in that way. But they do not give any clew to the identity of the malefactors.

The truth probably is that Senators in both parties have participated in the "swag" and both are equally guilty. The Republicans are just now enjoying the appearance of virtue, while getting their share of the wages of vice.

Between these two gangs the people are crushed. It is a melancholy fact that, except Mills, there is not a single prominent Senator who dares to speak out against the surrender of the popular cause. The others seem to be actually tainted or are lukewarm and inefficient. The few who would do their duty have not the ability and force of character to oppose the cool arrogance of the plunderers.

The situation is serious. Business, legitimate industry, is waiting for the conclusion of the speculative game played by the bi-partisan cabal of Senators who are feathering their own nests while the people starve. And there seems to be no way out of the slough into which we have fallen.

The price of the Daily Post-Dispatch is 2 cents. Don't give more—all newsboys are provided with pennies, new and bright, for change. All the news for 2 cents—why spend 5 cents?

POLITICS AND CRIME.

Chief of Police McKinnon of Hamilton, Ontario, put his fingers upon the great evil in American cities when he said that one of the most important results of the police convention was the resolution of the Police Chiefs to work together to keep politics out of the departments.

Among the most baneful effects of corruption in municipal politics is the vitiation of the processes of criminal law enforcement by political influences.

The basis of a combination between the scurvy politicians and the vicious and criminal classes for mutual advantage is found here. Sometimes it works through the police department, sometimes through the criminal courts and sometimes through both. When any of these branches of criminal law enforcement is controlled by political influences the opportunity is afforded for a profitable compact by which the political "pull" is exchanged for the criminal vote and the earnings of vice.

The results of a condition of this kind are appalling. Vice and crime are protected, and those who abuse the political power for this purpose are given the means of enriching themselves and of perpetuating their control. The community is made the prey of the most depraved classes.

Although St. Louis has been remarkably free from police scandals of late years, yet the city has experienced the vitiating effects of political influences working through the administration of criminal law. The protection of criminals by politicians with "pulls" has made criminal prosecution a by-word and reproach. In other cities, notably New York, the vile connection of politics with vice established through the Police Department by political commissioners has been exposed. In New York it has been shown that the authority of police officials and the discipline of the department were thrust aside to accomplish the alliance of the politicians and the blackleg.

There is no turn of political crookedness which contains more of menace to municipalities than this alliance. The timely protests of the police chiefs is fortunately only one of the signs of a rising tide of public sentiment against it. There is evidence that the people of the cities are beginning to realize the danger and enormity of this abuse of the machinery of justice.

BRITISH EXAMPLE.

The Rt. Hon. A. J. Mundella, President of the Board of Trade in the British Cabinet, has resigned.

Standing by itself this announcement means little or nothing to American readers. But when the cause of Mr. Mundella's resignation is given every citizen in freedom's land should prick up his ears.

Some years ago he was a member of the Board of Directors of a financial institution which has since got into trouble owing to mismanagement and too much optimism. When Mr. Mundella was appointed to a high place in the Gladstone Cabinet he resigned from office in this company, and has had nothing to do with its misfortunes or the misdoings of its managers. But the British people have "views" concerning the relations of public officials to private swindles, and although nobody charges Mr. Mundella with complicity, he must get out of politics in order to maintain a high ideal of honor in the public service.

How ridiculous this must seem to those politicians who look upon a public trust as "a private snap." How Mr. Brice, for instance, must smile when he reads the story in the intervals of his operations in Sugar and jobbing legislation. With what amazement do the Senators from Pennsylvania and Rhode Island hear this singular story, and with what wonder must Senator-Justice White contemplate the resignation of a public officer in such circumstances.

The truth is that in American politics at the present time such a condition of public opinion and such deference in public officers would be a baffling mystery. Men of the "retained" type are simply unable to understand such niceties of morality and such scrupulous respect for the wishes of the people. The moral sense of the men who use their positions in legislative bodies to make money for themselves by betraying the public welfare is either undeveloped or debauched and entirely inaccessible to those considerations of honor which moved Mr. Mundella to retire from his high office.

This British example is worthy the serious attention of the American voter.

THE SENATE'S DEGENERACY.

When Thomas Jefferson was in the Congress of the Confederation he was asked by an eager debater how he could keep silent under so much false reasoning, which a word would refute. He answered that, while it was easy to refute, to silence was impossible, and thus expressed his view of debate in a legislative body:

"If every argument or objection was used by someone or other of the numerous debaters it was enough, if not, I thought it sufficient to suggest the omission without going into a repetition of what had been said by others; that this was a waste and abuse of the time and patience of the House, which could not be justified. And I believe that if the members of deliberative bodies were to observe this course generally, they would do in a day what takes them a week; and it is really more questionable than may at first be thought, whether Bonaparte's dumb legislature, which said nothing, and did much, may not be preferable to one which talks much and does nothing."

Jefferson gave testimony concerning Washington and Franklin that, in all the debates in which he knew of their participating, they never spoke more than ten minutes and always to the main point which was to decide the question.

What would these illustrious fathers of the Republic think of the United States Senate of to-day, where members consume days in monotonous repetition and useless jabber on points, relevant and irrelevant; where speeches are made, not to decide the question, but to delay decision? What would they think of delaying the work of vital legislation in order that Senators may speculate on uncertainty and increase their bank accounts at the heavy cost of the people? But we refrain—it would be cruel to invoke the shades of honest patriots to witness the shameful spectacle in the Capitol at Washington.

BY a singular coincidence ex-President Harrison was present at the Fifth Avenue Hotel in New York when the meeting to secure a large Eastern attendance at the Convention of the Republican National League was held. What is noted as still more remarkable is the geniality with which Mr. Harrison received everybody, there being an entire absence of the frigidty of which he stands accused by jealous rivals. Evidently the ex-President is in a pleasant frame of mind, and it is clear that the expected emergency requiring his renomination will find him fully prepared to assume any responsibility his countrymen may see fit to put upon him.

THE New York Morning Journal has it that the Goulds have been spending large sums of money in order to gain admittance to the pale gray New York 400. Aunty Paran Stevens, it is said, will open the door for them, and she will also look after them when they go to England to be introduced at Court. When the mouse-trap aristocracy of Gotham joins the Gotham cabbage-head aristocracy, the union of wealth and blood will bring us about as near to nobility and royalty as we can hope to get while we are yet under the blighting influence of republican institutions.

"IF he had made any such remark outside the House he would have had the words rammed down his throat," said a member of Congress alluding to what another member had said on the floor. But the public [illegible] would not [illegible] [illegible] proceeding. Until a Congressional speech can be rammed down in the House, and so rammed that it cannot some day, Uncle Samuel will still have long printed bills to pay.

A SWINDLER has been getting money in Germany by representing himself as the agent of American heiresses who want titled husbands. A genuine agent for American heiresses might do a very good business abroad, and he would be held in high esteem by his patrons on both sides of the water.

THE Coxey army seems to have no colonels. Only generals are mentioned. As colonels are more numerous in times of peace than when war is raging, and the Coxey force is a peace army, this is remarkable.

WITH the hated word "male" stricken from the constitutions of all the States, we may prepare for a feminine President. There is believed to be a little bee buzzing in Susan Anthony's bonnet right now.

THERE are blow-holes in the armor plate;

McGarrahan's Heir.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I noticed in the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH an article entitled "McGarrahan's Heir." Perhaps I can help Mr. McGarrahan in his search. The only man I ever heard of in St. Louis of that name was F. A. McGarrahan. He was one of the old-time river captains and clerks. He was engaged in the real estate business many years ago with John Byrn. He was agent for ex-Mayor Joseph Brown, when that gentleman was one of our wealthiest citizens. Later, when Mr. Brown was Mayor, McGarrahan was his private secretary. While he was Mr. Brown's agent he occupied a suit of rooms on the northeast corner of Main and Walnut streets; these rooms he occupied as long as he lived. Mr. McGarrahan was a bachelor. The writer used to visit him frequently and he told me on several occasions that the celebrated Billy McGarrahan was his relative and F. A. McGarrahan was not the man to make a statement he did not believe. Michael McEnnis, ex-President of the Merchants' Exchange, was a life long personal friend of his. Ex-Mayor Brown, our present City Auditor, of course knew him long and intimately. He died about seven years ago.

Gospel of Moses II.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

In the POST-DISPATCH "Forum" of May 12 Mr. F. G. Starke expresses his tiredness at not finding a "Moses to lead us out of the wilderness" of economics. The great problem to be solved by this Moses is to "satisfy the poor man that in the event he accumulates a fortune he will be protected in his rights of property, satisfy the rich man in the event of his becoming poor he will not be oppressed." There is surely ample protection for the enjoyment of wealth which the [land] lord munificently allows the poor man to accumulate. But in event of a man losing his fortune there is only one just way to assure him that he will not be suppressed and that is to give him, as well as all other men and women, irrespective of race, religion or calling, free access to natural opportunies, which is not only access to the natural resources stored in the earth, but absolute freedom to produce and to trade. And this will "establish the proper equilibrium between labor and capital." W. K. S.

A Salvation Toll-Gate.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I am a poor man, and went to the Salvation Army on Franklin avenue to see if I could be saved. I was met at the door by a young lady, who said, "Collections at the door." I told her I was a poor man and could give nothing, yet she said I could not come in. I leave it to the readers of this newsy paper whether or no that is Christianity. Paul say's: "Be hospitable unto strangers, for thereby some have entertained angels unawares." I am not an angel, but I went there neither drinking nor smoking, and why was I not entertained? Fifty Horses Burned to Death in a New York Fire.

FOUR POPULOUS BLOCKS AT THE MERCY OF THE FLAMES.

Many People Injured During the Conflagration—Adverse Winds Add to the Havoc—Flimsy Buildings Destroyed in Five Minutes—An Engine Buried by Falling Walls—Other Casualties.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Fire started in wooden buildings in an inclosure known as Jones' Wood, at Avenue A and Sixty-eighth street, to-day and spread over four blocks between Sixty-seventh and Seventy-first streets, Avenue A and the East River. Over $200,000 damage was done.

The sudden changing of the wind caused the fire to spread when the firemen thought they had it under control. Fifty horses were burned to death and a number of persons were injured.

Twelve minutes after the discovery of the flames the enormous dancing pavilion, the two tiers of seats and galleries of the woods were a mass of flames. A stiff southwest wind carried the flames toward the river, Then the wind changed again and turned the flames towards Avenue A.

The fire seized the flimsy buildings, and in five minutes the great wooden towers at the entrance of the woods in Avenue A were burning, together with the line of buildings along Sixty-eighth street.

The buildings on the north side of Sixty-seventh street also caught fire. The buildings fell so rapidly around the engine stationed in the street that the firemen were compelled to desert it. The engine was buried beneath the ruins and crushed and twisted it out of shape.

This engine, which was known as the "Silver King," had been in the departmen twenty-four years.

NOTHING SAVED.

Tenants of the buildings burned were unable to save any of their household effects. The stone works of B. A. and N. G. Williams, one of the best equipped concerns of the kind in the United States, were destroyed. As many as 150 trunks standing in the streets and which were the property of men living in the houses thereabouts, were burned. On the river front side the dancing pavilions, bar-rooms, shooting galleries, bowling alleys and dressing rooms crumbled like paper. The docks at the foot of Sixty-eighth and Seventieth streets were consumed, as were also the buildings and plant of the East River Gas Co.

A FIREMAN FATALLY INJURED.

Mrs. Mary Reilly, a widow, had her leg broken in jumping from the window of her home. Fireman R. T. Moore, in going to the fire, was thrown from his truck, the wheels of which passed over and fatally injured him. Battalion Chief John Fisher was also thrown from his wagon and severely bruised.

Last night the P. J. Meyer Association held a dance in the woods and it was 3 o'clock this morning before the guests left the place. It was an hour later when the fire was discovered.

Nothing as to the origin of the fire can be learned.

Four Soldiers Drowned.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., May 16.—While out sailing near Admiralty Head, Monday night, the boat containing Sergts. Henderson and Weidlick and Privates Rosenquist, Keating and Ross of Co. F, 14th Infantry, United States Army, was capsized and all drowned, save Keating.

BOTH THROWN OUT.

Wm. Zink and His Wife Injured in a Runaway.

William Zink, a real estate dealer at 714 Pine street, was driving to his office, at 8:45 o'clock this morning, in a buggy, together with his wife, when the horse ran away at Seventh and Spruce streets. At Seventh and Pine streets the buggy collided with Cass avenue car No. 10 and Mr. and Mrs. Zink were thrown out. Mrs. Zink received an injury to her right hip. Zink was slightly bruised. The buggy was damaged $50 and the car was damaged $5. Mrs. Zink was able to remain in the office.

Down Town Children's Mission.

The Mission Committees of the Sunday School Union has fallen in with the plan of W. H. Long, who conducted the Helping Hand Mission near the Ashley Building last winter. The plan is to establish a children's mission in the neighborhood and conduct it in connection with a day school, an evening prayer and song service. There was only one dissenting voice at the committee meeting and that was Rev. H. L. Forbes of the Union Congregational Church, at Tenth street, near Cass avenue. He did not think it advisable to start new schools until the existing ones were filled up. The resolution was carried nevertheless, and a school on the industrial plan will in all probability be started very soon close to the Ashley Building.

A Fight With Tramps.

HARDIN, Mo., May 16.—About 5 o'clock this morning a through freight on the Santa Fe stopped to allow another one to pass. When it started out again the train crew undertook to bounce a number of tramps who were on board. They refused to be put off and began throwing stones and clubs at the train crew. At this juncture the conductor pulled his pistol and fired a shot into them, wounding one. The others became scared at this and dispersed.

Kittens in Bond.

CINCINNATI, O., May 16.—A handsome cat, belonging to George Smith, the well-known bandmaster, has broken the world's record, having Sunday morning brought into the world four kittens joined together in a way which holds the little ones as four Siamese twins, a membrane connecting the abdomen of each in a circle. They are lively and will doubtless live.

GALLAGHER'S REPORT.

It Emphasizes the Necessity for More and Better Accommodations.

Supt. Gallagher of the Poor-house has made his annual report to Health Commissioner Homan for the year ending April, 1894.

On April 1, 1893, there were 470 inmates of the Pauper Department of the institution; during the year ending April, 1894, there were 501 inmates admitted, 396 being males and 105 females. Of the whole number 374 were discharged and 97 died. In the Insane Department there were on April 1, 1893, 506 inmates and 321 more were transferred during the year, from the Insane Asylum. During the year seventy of these patients died. A great many requests are made for new buildings and additions to the present ones. The customary thanks are offered to all who have dealings with the department.

MISS LACKLAND BURIED.

She Died While Under Christian Science Treatment—No Inquest Held.

Miss Mary Southern Lackland, who died Monday last while under treatment of a Christian scientist, Mrs. Julia Field King, was buried this morning, the funeral taking place from the residence of her brother-in-law, Mr. Christie, in Horton place. Her associates at the Carr Lane Kindergarten, Miss Shackelford and Miss Parsons, both attended the funeral and placed a floral offering on the casket of their departed friend. School was adjourned out of respect of Miss Lackland's memory.

The Coroner did not hold an inquest over Miss Lackland's remains, deciding that as Mrs. King was a registered physician and the Board of Health had accepted her certificate he had no right to interfere.

During the fatal illness which preceded the death of Miss Lackland it is said that she was not receiving regular medical treatment, but instead had only received Christian Science treatment from Mrs. Julia Field King. Mrs. King, in the burial certificate filed at the mortuary office, gave pneumonia as the cause of Miss Lackland's death. Miss Lackland was 31 years of age and a volunteer teacher in the Carr Lane kindergarten. She was a daughter of the late Judge James R. Lackland, who was a cousin of President Lackland of the Boatmen's Bank, and was a prominent man in the State. Miss Lackland lived with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Christie, at 5958 Horton place.

All last week she was on duty at school, and even on Friday, though feeling ill, she insisted on working as usual. That was the last time her friends at the school saw her alive. Friday afternoon she went to the residence of Mrs. King, the Christian scientist physician, 2938A Lucas avenue, and there she died at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon. Mrs. King said she had been attending Miss Lackland for five days previous to her death, and that at first she found her suffering from only a slight bilious attack. Friday, however, she noticed that pneumonia had made great inroads upon her. Saturday and Sunday she improved, but Sunday morning she took a sudden and fatal change for the worse. Mrs. King when asked if she prescribed any medical treatment for Miss Lackland said she did not use any drug whatever, but simply applied the Christian Science methods, which, she said, were very efficacious. In the case of Miss Lackland's death she stated that the Christian science method was not responsible, as had ordinary medical treatment been given she would have died even sooner. Her school associates, in speaking of Miss Lackland, say she was one of the sweetest and most lovable characters and at the same time one of the brightest and most energetic teachers they ever knew. They all knew, however, that she was a believer in Christian science. They say that when all last week she persistently refused to have other medical aid than that given by the Christian Scientists.

COAL OIL LAMP EXPLODED.

Samuel Brown's Residence on Cote Brilliante Avenue Destroyed by Fire.

The two-story frame residence of Samuel Brown at 5222 Cote Brilliante avenue was destroyed by fire at 2 o'clock this morning. The fire was caused by a coal oil lamp exploding. The house and furniture were valued at $2,500, and were totally destroyed. The loss is covered by insurance. During the progress of the fire a team of horses belonging to engine 30, which were loose from the engine, ran away. They were caught at Sarah and Olive streets by Acting Sergt. Petser and Officers Dunigan and Kamer. The engine company was notified by telephone and sent and got the team.

INDIANA ODD FELLOWS.

The Diamond Anniversary Celebrated at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 16.—To-day is the greatest in the history of Indiana Odd Fellowship. It is the seventy-fifth or diamond anniversary of the order. Thousands of Odd Fellows from all over the State are here and adjoining States have also sent a good number. A special train arrived last night from Chicago, bringing nearly 500 Illinoisans. The city is decorated elaborately in honor of her guests.

The feature of the day will be the allegorical parade, which will take place this afternoon and will be the most pretentious in its history. Fourteen handsome floats representing the traditions and epochs of the order will lead and will be followed by 12,000 to 15,000 marchers. The Order of Rebekah is also in session and will take a prominent part in to-day's celebration.

COUNCIL MEETING.

Bills for Railroad Loops and Connections—The Sanitary Company's Request.

The City Council met last night. The Mayor submitted a communication he had received from the sanitary company requesting that one of their own employes be sworn in as an additional garbage weigher at the works. There being but two appointed by the city it is impossible for them to be on hand all the time. The Mayor recommends a rejection of the proposition. The matter was referred to the Sanitary Committee.

Mr. Katany introduced a bill to prevent the spread of contagious diseases through the circulating medium of the Public Library.

He also introduced a bill authorizing the St. Louis Railroad Co. to extend the tracks of its Seventh street branch so as to connect with the Cass avenue and Fair Grounds line and interchange passengers without extra fares.

At the request of the Board of Health a bill was introduced defining nuisances and fixing penalties for maintaining them.

Mr. Ferriss introduced a bill to permit the use of low pressure steam boilers without the payment of a license.

Mr. James introduced a bill for a new loop for the Southern Electric Railroad Co. The new route is over the tracks of the Cass Avenue and Fair Grounds road from Sixth and Walnut streets to Cass avenue, thence by double track on Seventh street to Howard, thence south on Seventh street to Cass avenue, east to Sixth, south to O'Fallon, east to Broadway, south to Market and west to Sixth street.

Mr. Wehner arose to a question of personal explanation, three relief bills were introduced and the Council adjourned.

[illegible] To the Columbus Pen.

A detail of United States Marshals passed through the city this morning, having in charge twenty-five prisoners, who are being brought from the Indian Nation to Columbus, O., to serve terms in the penitentiary for various offenses. Among the prisoners were two boys about 15 years old, who are being taken to the reform school at Columbus. The marshals with their prisoners arrived at the Union Depot over the Missouri Pacific road, and left at 8 a. m. on the Ohio & Mississippi.

SHOT A LITTLE GIRL.

James Fryar Uses His Cat Rifle in a Careless Manner.

A magic lantern show, arranged for last night at the residence of James Fryar, 1911 California avenue, was spoiled by a sad accident. The Fryar boy and his companions had invited their little girl friends to witness the exhibition. The girls presented themselves at the alley gate of the Fryar residence shortly before the appointed hour, 8 o'clock. The boys were not ready to begin proceedings, and they told the girls to wait in the alley for a few minutes. James Fryar, who is 14 years old, had nothing special to engage his attention, and he tried his skill as a marksman by firing his cat-rifle at a target on the rear fence apparently unmindful of the children who were on the other side. One of the bullets passed through the fence, and struck Adna Mason, a little 10-year-old girl, living at 1909 California avenue. She was standing with her hands behind her, and with her back turned to the fence. The small leaden pellet pierced the palm of her right hand and entered her body, where it remains. The child walked across the street to her home and told her mother. A doctor was summoned and Adna's wound was pronounced not serious. Mrs. Mason conferred with James Fryar's parents and decided not to prosecute him as she regarded the shooting as an accident. At the same time Mrs. Mason thought that the boy should receive same domestic punishment. His parents promised to destroy the mischievous gun.

WILLIAM HAYDEN EDWARDS DEAD.

The United States Consul-General at Berlin.

BERLIN, May 16.—The United States Consul-General William Hayden Edwards died last night of brain fever. Mr. Edwards had been ill for a month. He leaves a widow and two children. The burial will take place at Potsdam.

George H. Murphy, the United States Vice-Consul for the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, will assume charge of the United States consulate here until a successor to Mr. Edwards shall have been appointed. Mr. Edwards was appointed from Ohio.

BETTER PRODUCTION.

Improvement Last Night in the Performance of "Jacinta."

The second performance of "Jacinta" at the Grand Opera-house last night was a decided improvement on that given Monday evening, and also drew out a much larger audience, despite the heat.

Miss Dorothy Morton, who was the life and soul of the performance Monday night, again scored a pronounced hit, and made hosts of new friends. She is an ideal Jacinta. Geo. Denham as Delgado was up in his lines, which was not the case on Monday night, as he threw some of his old-time vim and energy into the part. In fact, all the members of the cast did better work and the tenor, Percy Blanford, put a little fire and energy into the character of Morellas, which he played in such a listless manner the opening night.

MISSOURI WEATHER AND CROPS.

A Fine Agricultural Condition Generally Reported.

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 16.—The mean temperature for the week ending Saturday, May 12, was about normal in the Southwest section and from 3 to 6 dgs. above in other sections. The percentage of sunshine was also about normal in the Southwest section and above in the Northern sections, but in the Southeast section it was deficient. The precipitation was over 1 inch in excess of the normal in the Northeast section and there was also a considerable excess in the Central and Southwest sections, but in the Northwest and Southwest sections there was a slight deficiency. Much needed rains fell in the northern and northwestern counties on the 9th and 10th, and although farm work was interrupted for a day or two all crops in these sections were greatly benefited. In most of the southern, and in many of the central and northeastern counties farm work has been at a standstill owing to the excessive rains that have occurred during the past two weeks. Much damage has been done to crops and property in Pike, Lincoln, Texas, Wayne, Reynolds, Crawford, Osage, Phelps, Benton, Hickory, Polk and Barry Counties by the overflowing of streams. Hail storms did some damage to wheat in Montgomery and McDonald Counties, and injured fruit and gardens in Pike, Howell, Ripley and Cedar Counties. The conditions generally have been favorable to plant growth, though the nights have been rather too cool for corn.

Wheat is heading out in many counties, and there is some complaint that the straw is short. The heavy rains have checked the ravages of chinch bugs. In a few localities wheat is not looking as well as it did a week ago. Oats continue to improve and in some counties will be a fair crop.

Corn is reported an excellent stand in nearly all sections, but in the Southern and Eastern sections the wet weather has prevented cultivation, and it is getting very weedy. Planting is nearly finished in the Northwestern and in many of the Northeastern counties. Cut worms are damaging the crop in Macon, Knox, Lincoln, Adair, Ray, Holt, Clinton, Christian, Perry, Oregon and Jefferson counties, and wire worms are reported in Grundy County. In some counties corn on hillsides was badly washed by the heavy rains.

Potatoes and gardens are generally doing finely.

Pastures and meadows are doing well. Millet and Hungarian are being sown in a number of counties. In Stoddard, Ripley, Wayne, Bollinger and Scott Counties meadows have been greatly damaged by army worms. The worms have also done considerable damage to wheat and oats in Stoddard County and are very numerous in several other Southeastern counties.

There is much complaint of apples and cherries "dropping." Strawberries are ripening in the Southern counties though slowly, owing to cloudy wet weather. There is some complaint of the berries rotting. Locusts are numerous in Ripley, Howell, Iron, Wright and Cedar Counties.

WILL BURN WOOD.

The Madison County Ferry Co. Feels the Coal Famine—Venice News.

VENICE, Ill., May 16.—The Madison County Ferry Co. has purchased 500 cords of wood of George J. Webb, Jr., to take the place of coal, which cannot be obtained.

Wm. Sidell, a crank, hailing from Jackson County, was arrested by Policeman Phayer last night for drawing a revolver upon him. Sidell had entered Roever's saloon, where he mounted a chair and produced a Bible and hymn-book and preached and sang. Later on, being advised by Phayer to seek a bed, he drew his revolver. He is now in the lock-up while his friends are being hunted up.

The attachment suit of Michael Massing vs. P. H. O'Brien of East St. Louis was decided by Squire Hammacher of Nameoki yesterday in favor of the plaintiff. Judgment was for $56. The attachment in O'Brien's leasehold of a sand-pit on the Moore farm near Stallings was sustained and the leasehold ordered sold.

The School Board last night reappointed Miss Ella McReynolds as teacher for the primary department and appointed Miss Lydia Fries as teacher of the intermediate department. Not being able to agree upon a principal, this position was left unfilled.

The forcible detainer case of M. J. Mahan vs. Sutherland & LaRue will be tried in Justice Fechte's Court to-day.

Attorney R. J. Brown will deliver the English oration at the Decoration Day exercises at Highland on the 30th inst.

The Standard Oil Co.'s barrel works at Madison will resume operations to-day with a force of about sixty men. No reduction in wages will be made.

Believed She Ran Away.

Mr. H. G. Ellis of 202 South Eighth street, this morning informed the police that his little 10-year-old daughter, Laura Virginia Ellis, had left her home about 8 o'clock yesterday for the purpose of going to a school picnic at Forest Park and has not returned home since. She was last seen by some friends at the corner of Sarah and Olive streets, to whom she divulged her intention of running away from home. Her parents are distracted at her disappearance.

Western Clubs Likely to Duplicate the Handicap Finish.

CLEVELAND AND PITTSBURG MAY SURPRISE THEIR EASTERN RIVALS.

Boston Seemingly Out of the Race—The Giants Are Not Due—Gossip About Dr. Rice and His Owner—Fred Koenig of the Westerns Successful at Austin—Sporting News.

The success of the Western representatives in running one two in the great Brooklyn handicap may be duplicated in the race for the League Pennant, if performance and promise go for anything. The Cleveland and Pittsburg clubs have excellent chances of being the Dr. Rice and Henry of Navarre of the base ball world. The accident to Catcher Bennett and Stivett's ineffectiveness and general dissatisfaction at the penurious policy of the Boston management in cutting salaries make it improbable that Boston will again win out. Nicholls is the champion's only winning pitcher. Staley and Lovett are back numbers. New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore are the only other dangerous Eastern factors. Brooklyn is practically out of the race and Washington will be fortunate in escaping the distance flag. The Giants are much stronger than last year, but it will be a surprise to the baseball world if they land in first place. An aggregation of stars never comes up to expectations. Philadelphia has always been comparatively weak in its pitching department. The Phillies are rank quitters and can be relied on to strike the toboggan silde, just when their prospects are brightest. The Baltimores are traveling at so fast a gait that many predict that they can not live the pace. Hanlon's Pets are able to give a good account of themselves in any company and will finish in a respectable place, but not at the top. Brown, Baltimore's boy twirler, is the season's find. The hopes of the West center on the Cleveland and Pittsburg clubs, and there will be much disappointment if one of these cities does not fly the flag for 1894. The Spiders' weakness last year was in the box. Young, Cuppy and John Clarkson have shown great improvement over their work of last year, and are holding their opponents down in great style. All three of them are seasoned and experienced box artists. Tebeau's men are sanguine of success and their confidence is inspiring. Killen was the only pitcher Pittsburg could depend on in 1893. Ad Gumbert is back to form and vies with Killen for the pitching honors of the Pirates. The erratic Ehret has shown up well recently and Nicholls', Pittsburg pony pitcher, is regarded as promising. Both the Clevelands and Pittsburgs are strong in batting, base running and fielding. Luck is a great element in the national game, and if Fortune does not frown on the Spiders and the Pirates, they will show the Eastern clubs their heels at the close of the present season.

The Browns need a first baseman badly. Since it has been demonstrated that Buckley can not do all the catching, Peitz is needed behind the bat. President Von der Ahe has tried Frank, Cooley and Gleason at the initial bag. Frank did better than Gleason or Cooley and should be played at first regularly until a first baseman is secured. If Capt. Miller wants to play Peitz in every game on account of the Teuton's reliable batting, let Heine take care of left field when Buckley is behind the bat. Peitz is as good an outfielder as he is a first baseman. Frank should be played steadily at first, so that he can get accustomed to that position. Changing the infield every day would handicap a stronger team than the Browns have shown themselves to be.

Jack Crooks and Perry Werden are big guns in the Western League. Perry has been exploding from one to two home runs a game since he cast his fortunes with the Minneapolis. Jack Crooks writes that the pie eater is the pet of the Flower City's bleachers, and that Perry is cheered every time that he steps to the plate with his home run club. Crooks, who is captaining the Millers, predicts that his team will finish first. Jack adds that he has come to the conclusion that "it is better to be a big fish in a little pond than a little fish in a big pond." Werden is a whale, so Crooks says. The big fellow would have caught on with Louisville had he not joined the Minneapolis team. Werden and Crooks graduated in the Western League, Crooks captained the Omaha Club and Werden was a member of the Lincoln, Topeka and Des Moines clubs. Jack and Perry seem to have formed a mutual admiration society. Each sings the other's praises to gaping listeners. It is more than probable that either of them, notwithstanding professions of being satisfied with their present engagements, would jump at a chance to get back into the big League.

Yesterday's Games.

The Browns were never in yesterday's game with the Clevelands. Cuppy was at his best, and the St Louis boys could not touch him. Clarkson was batted at opportune times. The grand stand on the Boston grounds caught fire during the third inning of the Boston-Baltimore game, and burned down. The players saved their effects with difficulty. The Cincinnati-Louisville game was postponed on account of rain. The result of the St. Louis-Cleveland game was as follows: Cleveland 7, St. Louis 0. Base hits—Cleveland 11, St. Louis 7; Errors—Cleveland, 0; St. Louis, 3. Batteries—Cuppy and O'Connor, Clarkson and Peltz. Umpire—Sherwood.

A LUCKY TRIO.

Dr. Rice, Fred Taral and Fred Foster—Turf News and Gossip.

Dr. Rice, Fred Foster's winner of the Brooklyn handicap, is a 4-year-old bay colt by Onondago, dam Bonnie Lee. His lucky owner purchased him for $5,000 last year from Gedeon & Daily, whose trainer, John Highland, concluded the colt was of no account, after he galloped up bleeding in a race to win which he was heavily backed. A few days after Foster purchased him the Doctor won himself out by capturing the Withers stakes worth something like $7,500 and it was then, that Highland realized what a mistake he had made in advising his employers to sell the colt. Winning the Doctor out in such short time seemed to satisfy Foster and he didn't race him much during the rest of the season. The colt wintered at his owner's Minnesota farm and was given his preliminary training at the Madison race track in March and April. On Saturday, April 21, he made his first appearance this season, winning at seven furlongs with 105 pounds up in 1:35½ from Guido, Bellsarius, Jamestown and Fernwood. A week or so later Foster went East with six of his string, including The Doctor, Eloroy (winner of the last race at Brooklyn yesterday), Sullross and the 3-year-old Disturbance. The running qualities of Out of Sight and several more selling platers that he campaigned at Madison last winter were leased to Pat Grogan, J. D. Patton's old trainer, who now has them at the Fair Grounds. Charlie Hueston and "Frenchy" Berger, the well known Madison jockey accompanied Foster to Brooklyn. Foster has been confident all along that Dr. Rice had an excellent chance to win the Brooklyn, but very few Westerners there agreed with him, until he engaged Fred Taral to ride his colt. The failure of the Keenes to start St. Leonards, whose wind seemed to be affected, enabled Foster to secure Taral. As it was, the latter's fine riding had much to do with landing Dr. Rice in front by a head from Byron McClelland's good 3-year-old Henry of Navarre. Ed and Al Orth of Minneapolis are the biggest winners by Dr. Rice's victory outside of Foster himself. Ed Orth owns a half interest in the colt, and his brother Al is the proprietor of the North Star stable. Taral, who rode the winner, is a Western boy, and hails from a small town over in Illinois. He first attracted attention while riding for Dan Honig of this city and afterwards signed with the Beverwyck stable, owned by ex-Mayor Nolan of New York. After the latter left the turf Taral was secured by Walcott & Campbell, with whom he remained until signed by the Keenes last winter. Taral rode Diablo, Walcott & Campbell's winner of the Brooklyn handicap last year. It is believed he secured one-third of first money—over $7,000—for his work yesterday. All in all it was a great victory for the West, as the first two horses are both owned by Western turfmen and were piloted by Western jockeys. Taral has not ridden on this circuit for years.

Fair Grounds Winners.

The winners at Fair Grounds yesterday were as follows:

First race, six and one-half furlongs—Francis Pope first, Kentucky Lady second, Bart Jordan third. Time, 1:22.

Second race, four and one-half furlongs—Carrie B. first, Miss Alice second, Signora third. Time, :55¼.

Third race, mile and one-eighth—Chiswick first, Chiswell second, Prince Carl third. Time, 1:56¼.

Fourth race, six and one-half furlongs—Tea Set first, Curcoon second, Fenda third. Time, 1:22.

Fifth race, six and one-half furlongs—Schuylkill first, Safe Home second, Oakview third. Time, 1:21¾.

Sixth race, one mile—St. Brandon first, Bellsarius second, Little George third. Time, 1:43¼.

Won by Chant.

The Kentucky derby was won by Chant, Eugene Leigh's Falsetto colt, with consummate ease. The twentieth renewal of this classic event was processional from the half-mile post. Chant was 1 to 2 in the betting. The summaries:

First race, six furlongs, selling—Parolee, first; Floreana, second; Vancluse, third. Time, 1:17¾.

Second race, 2-year-olds, five furlongs—Elise, first; Blazco, second; Gleaone, third. Time, 1:05.

Third race, the Kentucky derby, for 3-year-olds, one and one-half miles, $2,500 added; $300 to second, $150 to third—Chant, first; Pearl Song, second; Sigurd, third. Time, 2:41.

Fourth race, one mile, selling—Vallera first, Prof. R. second, Ragner third. Time, 1:46.

Fifth race, 2-year-olds, four and one-half furlongs—Myrtle first, Adam second, Irksome third. Time, :57.

Sixth race, six furlongs—Helen N. first, Salvation second; imp. Somersault third. Time, 1:16.

At Hawthorne.

First race, half-mile—Wells Street, first; Coria, second; Gus Strauss, third. Time, :52¾.

Second race, three-quarters of a mile—Fair Knight, first; Verbia, second; Woodruff, third. Time, 1:20¾.

Third race, seven furlongs—Montana, first; William T., second; Freddie L., third. Time, 1:33.

Fourth race, three-quarters of a mile—Enterprise, first; Victoria, second; Consistent, third. Time, 1:20.

Fifth race, half a mile—Climax first; Entre, second; Gold Dust, third. Time, 1:06¾.

Sixth race, one mile over hurdles—Panhandle, first; Belringer, second; Templemore, third. Time, 1:58.

South Side Results and Entries.

First race, four and one-half furlongs—Tramp first, Mandy Brooks second, Delusion third. Time, 1:02¾.

Dr. Rice's Rich Prize.

The Brooklyn handicap was won by Fred Foster's Dr. Rice with Byron McClelland's game 3-year-old colt Henry of Navarre second after a superb race, contested to the last. Clifford, Eugene Leigh's candidate, was virtually left at the post and was never prominent. Sir Walter finished third. The success of the Western horsemen in running one, two in the great event was as profitable as it was gratifying. Foster is said have won over $100,000 on his colt's victory. The summaries:

First race, five furlongs—Stonenell, first; Dr Hasbrouck, second; Correesion, third. Time, 1:01⅘.

Second race, one mile—Halton, first; John Cooper, second; Sir Knight, third. Time, 1:43⅘.

Third race, one-half mile—Ulics, first; Driseand, second; Tamerlane, third. Time, :50⅘.

Fourth race, the Brooklyn handicap, value $25,000, one mile and a quarter—Dr. Rice first, Henry of Navarre second, Sir Walter third. Time, 2:07⅘.

Fifth race, half a mile—Harry Reed first, Harris colt second, Trophy colt third. Time, :49⅘.

THE AUSTIN REGATTA.

Fred Koenig Finished First in the Amateur Senior Single.

The senior single race on the opening day of the second annual regatta at Austin, Tex., was won by Fred Koenig, the crack sculler of the Westerns. Koenig's success is wonderful when his physical condition is considered. Trainer Teemer and President Schaab of the Westerns advised Koenig to lay off for a season, but the plucky fellow declined and declared himself able to win, notwithstanding a painful trouble in one of his legs. Fred Gastricht of the Modocs and Zio Benach of New Orleans were Koenig's competitors. Alex. Malcolm of the Modocs finished second in the event in which he was entered. John Teemer's colors were lowered by Henry Peterson of San Francisco. The success of Jake Gaudaur in the first trial heat of the professional race is hailed with satisfaction in St. Louis.

A double scull professional, a senior single for the San Antonio Express medal, race No. 3, Austin vs. Galveston for the Magnolia cup and the championship of Texas in four-oared shells, and lastly a professional quarter-mile dash, make up to-day's programme.

HARRY LAING DEAD.

Joe Goddard's Conqueror Was Run Over by a Train.

Australian advices tell of the death by accident of Harry Laing, who had just been declared champion heavyweight of the colonies by his victory over Joe Goddard. He was under engagement with Billy Madden to tour the United States, in fact was on his way to the sea port when he was run over by a train and killed.

Laing's success over Goddard stamped him as a good man, and had he lived he would have made some of the big men who are talking fight in this country do less talking and get down to business.

Billy Madden has had a hard run of luck with the knights of the fives in recent years. Billy's judgment seems to be in keeping with his luck as more than one of his proteges proved to be no good.

Base Ball Notes.

Stivetts is a good batter and outfielder and will not go on the shelf when his pitching days are over.

Both Parrott of the Cincinnati and Casey of the Philadelphia Club, pitched in California last winter. Both seemed to have benefited by their experience.

Rappold, the Browns' young catcher, has been suspended without pay until he gets himself into condition. Rappold hopes to get a chance with a Western League team. Von der Ahe is said to be willing to let him go.

Anson says that if he could find a first-class second baseman the Colts would be top-notchers. Mr. Von der Ahe is sure that if he could find—

Louisville is badly off for pitchers. If the Colonels had good pitching talent they would be in the race.

Charlie Comiskey's health is so much improved that he is thinking of going back to first base.

Sporting Notes.

Arrangements have been made by the Twin City Athletic Club for a glove contest between Bill Slavin and Frank Craig, the "Harlem Coffee Cooler," of twenty rounds for the gate receipts.

Walter C. Dohm, whose death occurred in Denver last week, won the quarter-mile championship of the Amateur Athletic Union in 1888, 1889, 1890, 1891 and 1892, and also the half-mile championship in 1891.

Peter Maher and George Godfrey will not box in Boston until May 28, because of a benefit to John L. Sullivan on May 21, the date originally announced. Maher and Godfrey meet in a ten-round go for a $1,200 purse.

THE OLD-FASHIONED STYLE

of pill gives you a feeling of horror when you see it and when you feel it. Like the "blunderbuss" of a former decade, it is big and clumsy, but not effective. In this century of enlightenment, you have Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, which cure all liver troubles in the most effective way. For Indigestion, Constipation, Bilious Attacks, Sick and Bilious Headache, nothing has been found to equal these pills of Dr. Pierce's invention.

Mr. SAMUEL BAKER, Sr., of No. 161 Summit Av., Philipsburgh, N. J., says: "There is nothing that can compare with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, as Liver Pills. They have done me more good than any other medicine I have ever taken."

BUILDING LEAGUE.

State League of Local Building Associations at Hannibal.

IMPORTANT CHANGES AND AMENDMENTS PROPOSED TO EXISTING LAWS.

Ample Provisions to Be Made for Thorough Examinations Through the Insurance Department—The State Secretary Scores Some of the Past Abuses—A Large Attendance and the Delegates Handsomely Entertained.

HANNIBAL, Mo., May 16.—The third annual convention of the State League of Local Building Associations of Missouri assembled in the Hannibal Opera-house at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. There were about 100 delegates present from all the large cities of the State, St. Louis alone having a delegation of over fifty. The recent financial difficulties into which the country has been plunged has awakened the building association people of the State to a realization that the laws governing building associations were too lax and, following the suggestions of the POST-DISPATCH in reference to building association legislation, they have taken up the matter in earnest and some radical changes in the State laws will be made.

GETTING DOWN TO WORK.

This morning the convention got down to work in earnest on the revision of the State building association laws. M. A. A. B. Woorheide of St. Louis submitted a draft of proposed act relating to the organization, conduct and examination of building associations. The draft is a comprehensive scheme for the organization and management of these companies, and while many features of the present law are preserved in some respects, it is a radical departure from the statute in force. Among other features of difference may be noted the provisions limiting the ratio of expense and providing a uniform system for the keeping of the accounts of the company. A question that has long been debatable is settled by giving companies the power to borrow limited sums of money. Power is also given to declare dividends at stated periods out of the earnings, instead of requiring such earnings to be accumulated as heretofore. The most marked feature of the proposed bill, however, are its ample provisions for the examination and supervision of these companies by the State through the Insurance Department.

Companies are required to file with this department the original charter and also all by-laws and other rules for the management of business, which by-laws only become operative when approved by the Attorney-General, and may be required to be changed at his instance. It is also provided that semi-annual reports shall be submitted by each company showing precisely its condition, and its operations during the period covered by the report. The Superintendent of the Insurance Department is also given authority to make inspections at the time of these periodical reports or at any other time when he may see fit, and whenever he is requested thereto by stockholders of the association.

The Superintendent is also given authority to institute judicial proceedings for the dissolution of any company that has been operated in violation of the law, or whose methods of business or conditions are such as, in his opinion, render it dangerous to shareholders or creditors of the company that it should be allowed to continue in business. These provisions for the dissolution of companies are modeled upon the statute concerning insurance companies.

LAWS FOR FOREIGN ASSOCIATIONS.

The act also contains important provision for the regular associations doing business in this State. These provisions are similar in their general nature to the provisions of the law in force concerning foreign insurance companies. It was feared that the bill would be such as to interfere with the methods of business of companies heretofore organized, but in this respect it seems unobjectionable, for it allows the widest latitude in the choice of a plan for the operation of the company.

Another important feature of the bill, which is calculated to completely check such methods of manipulating bonds as that pursued by Bogard, is one which gives the Superintendent power to determine the amount of bond to be given by any officer, and also makes him the custodian of all official bonds.

YESTERDAY'S SESSION.

The convention was opened by a prayer by Rev. J. H. Malcom. Mayor W. F. Chamberlain of Hannibal then welcomed the delegates in a neat address, in which he offered them the freedom of the city. Hon. Henry Forback of St. Louis responded, after which President Phelps reviewed the condition of the building associations of the State for the past year. He spoke of the very few failures of building associations in the past year as compared with the numerous bank failures. Of the 426 associations in our State less than twelve have succumbed to the financial depression of the past year, and where they have, it has been due to mismanagement and worse on the part of those in charge. He suggested new laws as the only means of relief.

BOYD DUDLEY'S SPEECH.

The address of the day, however, on account of its plain, outspoken language, was that of Mr. Boyd Dudley, Secretary of the State League. Mr. Dudley announced that he was going to tell the delegates some plain, unvarnished truths and began by stating that while Labor Commissioner Blackmore's report on building associations only claimed that there were twenty-five incompetent secretaries there were in reality over 100 or what might be termed the composite secretaries. That is, secretaries who are managing more than one association, and who for the sake of getting as many salaries as possible increase the number of associations under their management for the purpose of increasing their revenue without regard to the fact that they could just as well sell more shares of stock in one of the associations connected by them, a proceeding which would strengthen the associations now in existence.

"The associations have many vampires sucking the blood of the frugal money-saver, and what we want is laws that will free us of this so-called Napoleon of finance. Nothing too severe can be said of the dishonest secretary, and nothing too good can be said of the honest, for they have it in their power under the present laws to do as they please. To the credit of the secretaries who are members of the league it may be said that I believe them all able, conscientious, honest men.

"Don't lend your money on second mortgages as has often been done by associations."

The question of extra agent expenses in building associations received some rough, plain criticism from Mr. Dudley.

At the close of the afternoon session the delegates were taken to the Hannibal Cave, made famous by Mark Twain's "Tom Sawyer," in a special train furnished by the Burlington.

There are many prominenent St. Louisans in the St. Louis delegation, and to the credit of the directors be it said that they outnumber the secretaries. Billy Hobbs is among the delegates and is taking an active part in the proceedings of the convention.

GRAND WARDEN ELECTED.

Continuation of the Session of the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F.

A prolonged discussion over the qualifications of voters for grand officers occupied the attention of the Missouri Grand Lodge of the I. O. O. F. nearly all the morning. It was provoked by Past Grand Master E. H. Shipley of St. Louis. He held that under the sovereign law of the Odd Fellows, all members of the Grand Lodge, including the "Past Grands" present have a right to vote.

Past Grand Masters Price, Richsey and Thompson and others took part in the debate. The State law gives only representatives of subordinate lodges such right. The Grand Lodge decided overwhelmly in favor of the validity of the State law.

The election of Grand Warden resulted in the choice of Capt. B. F. Thomas of Carthage. Other grand officers had already been chosen.

The Committee on Laws made a report. It was filed for discussion. Many amendments of the constitution were introduced but not acted upon. The lodge adjourned at noon to meet again at 2 o'clock. It will probably adjourn sine die at noon to-morrow.

WEHNER KNOCKED OUT.

The Council Approves the Contract for a City Railroad Switch.

The City Council last night approved the contract let by the Board of Public Improvements to Penny, McCabe & Meyers for the construction of the new supply switch from Humboldt avenue to the Chain of Rocks. Mr. Wehner's dilatory tactics in the interest of the railroad companies, who sought a free right of way over the city's strip of land amounted to nothing, as after the visit of inspection Monday the members of the Council and city officials saw at a glance the scheme the railroad companies were trying to work and indorsed the Water Commissioner's plans.

Mr. Wehner arose to make a personal explanation last night when he saw the contract would be approved and the railroad companies left out in the cold. He said the newspapers had abused him in suspecting his motives, and Water Commissioner Holman was responsible for it all in putting the newspaper men on to the scheme. He thought Mr. Holman was no gentleman and the Council ought to investigate him for reflecting on an honest member of its body.

He then branched out and began to defend the position he had taken when the President called him down. Councilman Clark exonerated the Water Commissioner from having said or done anything reflecting on him, as Mr. Wehner had stated. The Wabash company will now be compelled to remove its tracks from the conduit strips at once.

GRATEFUL MUNICH.

Thanks to the Emperor—The Chicago Banquet—Foreign News.

BERLIN, May 16.—Empreror William received a deputation from the city of Munich, which called upon him to express the appreciation of the citizens of Munich of the fact that the Emperor had decided to leave undisturbed in the city the famous picture gallery which the late Count Von Schack bequeathed to the Emperor. The residents of Munich are very proud of this gallery, and in token of their gratitude at having it remain among them, intend to erect a statue in honor of Emperor William and inscribe with his majesty's telegram, notifying the municipality of Munich of his decision not to transfer the gallery to Berlin.

Replying to the address of the Munich deputation Emperor William said that he was pleased to give Munich testimony of the imperial favor, adding that he was convinced that the Schack gallery was inseparably connected with the House it had so long occupied; and therefore, he had arranged with the brother of the late Count Von Schack for the retention of the collection in Munich. The Emperor added that he was rejoiced at the fact that he thus became a citizen of Munich. The Emperor's course in this affair was dictated by good politics. The removal of the collection from Munich would unquestionably have fostered anti-imperial tendencies in the South German States.

A BOMB-THROWER'S CONFESSION.

The German Who Caused the Two Explosions at Liege.

LIEGE, May 16.—A German of the name of Mueller has been arrested here, and has confessed that he was the author of the explosion of the bomb on the night of May 8 in the hallway of the residence of Dr. Rensen, in the Rue de la Paix. Mueller also confessed that he was the author of the explosion in the Church of St. Jacques, and mentioned his accomplices.

A MERCANTILE WAR.

Chicago Grain Speculators Threaten to Leave the Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 16.—There is a prospect that a number of grain speculators on the Board of Trade may transfer their business to the Chicago Stock Exchange at the other end of LaSalle street. The proprietors of the public grain elevators in Chicago have decided that in case their houses are declared "irregular" by the Board of Trade they will protect their interests. There is talk of shifting the result of the bitter fight between receivers and shippers against the elevator men speculating on the Board.

Amateur Orchestra Concert.

The St. Louis Amateur Orchestra, under the leadership of Prof. A. I. Epstein, gave a concert last night at Entertainment Hall to nearly a full house, which greatly enjoyed the performance despite the slight discomfort caused by the warm weather. Prof. Epstein was presented with a gold mounted ebony baton by Miss Lucy Moll, in behalf of the orchestra.

The playing of these sixty young musicians, who last night made their first appearance in public, was a revelation and the success of the performance guarantees to the music-loving public a high class musical organization of great merit. The soloists were Master Tony Sarli, clarinet; Mr. Carl Tuoli, violin; Miss Georgia Yager, soprano solo; Mr. W. M. Porteous, baritone solo, and Miss Lulu Kunkel, violin. The most remarkable performance of the evening was the playing of Miss Kunkel, a miss not yet out of her teens, whose masterly touch and feeling showed the unmistakable signs of great genius. The next appearance of this young organization will be at the benefit of Mr. Charles Humphrey, March 29.

Brain-Workers

Use Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

Dr. C. H. Goodman, St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have used it for several years, with especially good results in nervous prostration, the result of mental efforts; also in sleepless conditions of brain-workers."

Mrs. Blood Released.

Mrs. Kate C. Blood, who spent several months in jail, was discharged by Judge Edmunds in the Criminal Court last evening, as stated in the 6 o'clock edition of the POST-DISPATCH, the Court holding that the evidence adduced was insufficient on which to try the defendant. Mrs. Blood will probably stay in the city and straighten out the affairs of the defunct Common Sense Building and Loan Association.

Charge on Which Clemens Schulte Has Been Indicted.

ACCUSED OF EMBEZZLING FROM THE J. H. ROTTMANN DISTILLING CO.

Was Salesman and Collector for the Firm—"If I Have Done Wrong I Shall Have to Suffer," the Prisoner States—Corinne Spencer Convicted of Robbery—Forfeits Her Bond.

Clemens Schulte, married, and living at 2619 South Eleventh street, was arrested at his home at 1 o'clock this morning by Deputy Sheriff Plischke on an indictment returned by the Grand-jury charging him with embezzling $4,033 from the J. H. Rottmann Distilling Co., 819 North Fourth, while acting as collector. The indictment was among those returned by the Grand-jury last Monday, but Schulte was not apprehended until to-day. The date given in the indictment of the alleged embezzlement is Feb. 20.

Schulte was seen in jail by a POST-DISPATCH reporter, and said:

"I don't know whether I collected the amount mentioned in the indictment. I was a salesman and did my own collecting. I sold in the city and for a distance of about forty-five miles around St. Louis in Missouri and Illinois. I have not been with the Rottmann company for a month. They told me that they could not use me any more. I have a large family—eight children—and business was dull. If I have done wrong I will have to suffer for it."

Schulte is a man about 45 years old, of stout build, and wears a brown mustache and chin whiskers. He also said that he had made no endeavor to evade the Sheriff, but had been at home all of the time.

To a POST-DISPATCH reporter who called on Mr. Rottmann this morning the liquor dealer said: "This man Schulte has been working for us for about four years. Before entering our service he was connected with the now defunct liquor firm of Heitkamp, Heil & Co. He was their compounder, and when the firm went to the wall I took pity on him, as he was a man of family, and gave him a position. I put him out selling liquor on commission and he traveled through North and South St. Louis and through some neighboring towns. He was a good salesman and managed to make at least $3,000 per or so in commissions. He did all his own collecting and that's how he came to do us. We began to suspect him shortly after the first of this year and when we found on investigation that he had been robbing us for months back, I called him to account about March 1, confronted him with the evidence of his wrongdoing and discharged him, as he admitted the theft. I did not threaten him with prosecution, nor did I apply for a warrant, as I did not care to bring him into Claiborne's court; I simply laid the matter before the Grand-jury and that body indicted him. Schulte robbed us by selling liquor, collecting the bill and telling us that he couldn't get the money. When we looked him up we found a shortage of about $4,000 in all and discovered that there were a number of firms in North and South St. Louis from whom he had obtained $200 or $300 and never accounted for. I could give you the names of these firms, but I hardly think it advisable. We've got a case against Schulte. He confessed to us in the presence of his wife in our office that he had taken the money. I asked him what he had done with it, but he said all he knew was that it was gone—where he didn't know. I told him I knew his wife did not spend it for him, and she cried and said she knew nothing about it. I can't imagine what he did with the money. As far as I can learn, he was a man of no bad habits, and as he had sufficient salary to live on comfortably I don't see why he took the money. But he will probably tell himself."

Forfeited Her Bond.

The bond of Corinne Spencer, who is under sentence of two years in the Penitentiary for robbing W. W. Colburn of Sailor Springs, Ill., of $84 on Feb. 22 near Fourteenth and Pine streets, was forfeited in the Criminal Court to-day. The woman was convicted March 28. A motion for a new trial was filed and overruled and she was ordered to be brought into court to be sentenced. She failed to appear and her attorney was given until to-day to produce her. He failed and the bond was declared forfeited. Kitty Adams was arrested with her. She was charged with robbing Glenn, also of Sailor Springs, at the same time. Colburn and Glenn were in the city celebrating Washington's birthday, and fell in with the women, it is said. The Adams woman was acquitted. Samuel Epstein, a liquor dealer at Seventh and Morgan streets, is on the Spencer woman's bond, which is for $500.

Shot an Alleged Razor Thief.

Freeman Early entered the second-hand store of Abe Gallant, 308 South Seventh street, this morning and asked to see some razors. After examining some he is said to have secreted one in his pocket and started to leave the store. Gallant missed the razor and followed him, when the fellow commenced to run, it is alleged. Gallant drew a revolver and fired a shot after him, which took effect in his right hand. He was arrested and a warrant issued charging him with petit larceny.

Caught in the Attempt.

Officers Kavanaugh and Steele came upon two men at 5:30 o'clock this morning, who were trying to effect an entrance into Funk's tailor shop at 609 Pine street. One held the other on his back, and the man on top was trying to open the transom. The officers placed them under arrest. They proved to be John Cafe and Charles Allen, two alleged ex-convicts.

On Trial for Larceny.

Joseph Royston, colored, is being tried in the Criminal Court to-day on a charge of stealing two diamond rings and $15 from Mrs. A. M. Haden of 2812 Washington avenue. Allen Haraway, a brother-in-law of Royston, is also implicated in the charge, but has not yet been placed on trial.

Fought Over Beer.

Late last night Tom Scott and Frank Winchester, both colored, quarreled over a can of beer. In the fight which followed Winchester stabbed Scott three times, inflicting slight flesh wounds. After the cutting Winchester escaped.

Labor Statistics.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16.—The tenth national convention of the officials of bureaus of labor statistics of the United States began here to-day. Carroll D. Wright, the United States Commissioner of Labor, was chosen President and L. G. Powers of Minnesota Secretary of the convention.

WANTED TO MARRY AGAIN.

A Wife's Accusation Against Her Husband in an Insanity Proceeding.

An insanity case which was set for hearing in the County Court at Belleville, Ill., yesterday took a peculiar turn. Mrs. Clara Pendergast, who was to have been examined, accused her husband of conspiring to clear the way for his marriage with another woman. Timothy Pendergast, the husband, went to Belleville a short time ago from St. Louis and obtained employment at the Heinzelman carriage factory. His wife joined him there later. Monday he applied to County Judge Boneau for the appointment of a commission to investigate his wife's mental condition. The woman was brought into court yesterday, and upon being informed of the nature of the proceedings she faced her husband with this accusation: "You want to have me locked up so you can marry another woman. You never supported me, and I left my home in St. Louis to find out what you were doing in Belleville." The matter ended there, as about that time it was discovered that the case belonged in St. Louis, and Judge Boneau dismissed it. Pendergast and wife left on the next train for St. Louis.

AN ENGINEER'S DELIRIUM.

Goes to the Union Depot and Tries to Take Out a Train.

Frank Rogers, a Missouri Pacific engineer, was taken charge of by the police at the Union Depot this morning, his actions indicating that his mind was unbalanced. He had been a patient at the Missouri Pacific Hospital for some time, but left the hospital some days ago. Nothing was heard of him until this morning, when he appeared at the Union Depot, and boarding a Missouri Pacific engine, insisted on taking out the train. Sergt. O'Malley and Officer Bernstorff took him in charge and brought him to the Four Courts. Later he was sent back to the Missouri Pacific Hospital. He lives in Sedalia, where he has five children.

New Warrants Issued.

Susie Mitchell, colored, living at 620 Clark avenue, this morning secured a warrant charging petty larceny against Ida Boghines of 2310 Papin street, whom she alleges stole $8 from her.

Mrs. Bridget Trott called at the Four Courts this morning and secured a warrant for the arrest of her husband, Samuel Trott, who she alleges abandoned her and her five children some two years ago. She says he is living at 1112 Locust street.

Sarah Prior of 3747 Cote Brilliante avenue this morning secured a warrant for the arrest of her brother, John Kane, on a charge of assault and battery. She claims that she called at 4027 Easton avenue to see her mother, and alleges that he knocked her down and beat her into insensibility.

Against the Leaders.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16.—After listening to arguments for six hours Judge Miller decided yesterday against the motion for a new trial made in behalf of Coxey, Browne and Columbus Jones, and ordered the defendants to appear for sentence Thursday. Their attorney will apply to the District Supreme Court for a writ restraining the Judge from exercising jurisdiction and the Marshal of the District from obeying the lower court's orders.

DAUGHTERS OF REBEKAH.

Result of Election of Officers and Committees at To-Day's Session.

The Daughters of Rebekah Convention this morning elected officers for the ensuing year. The following were chosen: President, Mr. M. L. Baxter of St. Louis; Vice-President, Miss Rosie Gramer of Pattonsburg; Secretary, Mrs. M. B. Young of St. Joseph; Assistant Secretary, Miss Lena Conrades of Trenton; Treasurer, Mrs. R. L. Gunn of Trenton; members of Executive Committee—Mrs. Addie Gray of Calhoun and Mr. Robert Morris of St. Louis.

Mrs. Debolt, the lecturer, refused to serve again and on account of the traveling incident to the position nobody could be induced to accept the office. It will probably be abolished. A resolution was adopted granting all lady past-grand officers the same mileage that is allowed delegates.

The convention took a recess at noon until 2:30. It will probably finish its work to-morrow.

Jackson County Democrats.

MURPHYSBORO, Ill., May 16.—At the Jackson County Democratic Convention the following ticket was nominated: For County Judge, Hon. T. T. Robinson of Pomona; County Treasurer, Mun Dillinger of Carbondale; County Superintendent of Schools, J. M. Bryan; Sheriff, John Fox of Murphysboro; County Clerk, Ed Worthen. The Chairman was Robert Forester, the Secretary Frank Caldwell. The delegates to the State Convention were: Lieut.-Gov. J. B. Gill, Chairman; Hon. George W. Hill, A. S. Caldwell, T. F. Robinson, F. J. Keller, John Reiman, Representative W. C. Dean. The Chairman of the senatorial delegation is Charles Edwards. Of the congressional convention delegates L. W. Robinson of Pomona was made Chairman. A large crowd was out. Lieut.-Gov. Gill was very active in the proceedings and shaped the State work.

For Marine Hospital Library.

A book social is to be given by the W. C. T. U. Friday evening at Hemm's Hall, corner of Broadway and Keokuk street, for the benefit of the library of the Marine Hospital. A book or books for the library will be the price of admission. Refreshments are to be sold. Mrs. K. M. Simms, the superintendent, has the management of the affair.

Trinity Church Guild.

Mrs. M. E. Perrine will have a sale of aprons and fancy work this afternoon at her residence on McPherson avenue, No. 4067, for the benefit of Trinity Church Guild, and this evening there will be a musicale, with refreshments, strawberries and cream. She will be assisted by several young ladies and matrons from Trinity Church.

Dennis Flynn Renominated.

OKLAHOMA CITY, O. T.—May 16.—The Republican Territorial Convention, which convened here to nominate a delegate for Congress, renominated Dennis Flynn by acclamation, it being by unanimous consent of all the delegates present.

New Illinois Corporations.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 16.—The Secretary of State to-day licensed the incorporation of the following companies: The Eldorado Driving Club, Eldorado; to hold Fourth of July celebration; incorporators, S. F. Weber, W. S. Summers, Will C. Yost and others. The Spaulding Cibb Building Co., Alton; capital stock, $30,000; incorporators, David Ryan, E. G. Thornton and J. S. McGinness.

THOUSANDS HOMELESS.

Poor Families Cast Into the Streets by the Big Boston Fire.

BOSTON, Mass., May 16.—A stretch of smoking, blackened ruins, covering more than a dozen acres, shows the scene of last night's fire. Household furniture and property of every description litters the streets and hundreds of those made homeless by the conflagration are vainly searching the ruins of their houses in the hope of finding something of value remaining.

About $500,000 worth of property was destroyed; 187 buildings, over two-thirds of which were wooden structures, were consumed, and twenty more were partially burned. For the most part they were occupied by the poorer classes, and 467 families, 2,300 persons in all, are homeless.

The Boston Base Ball Association and the city of Boston are the heaviest financial losers. The property of the former was valued at $70,000 and is a total loss. The city's loss is over $100,000.

But one fatality has been reported, a 3-months-old baby having been suffocated on Herlin street. About seventeen persons were injured, none of them seriously. Nearly a dozen invalids residing in houses now in ruins were conveyed to the hospitals during the fire. During the night fire started again in the top of a brick block on the west side of Cabot street and burned for an hour. The building was destroyed.

OVERRULED BY JENKINS.

Demurrer and Plea of the Northern Pacific Companies.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 16.—Judge Jenkins has overruled the demurrer and plea of the Chicago & Northern Pacific and the Northern Pacific Railroad Cos. to the bill of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Co. to foreclose a mortgage for $30,000,000 on the property of the two companies.

Arguments on the plea and demurrer were heard about ten days ago in Judge Jenkins' chamber, and the decision was received to-day from Milwaukee, in addition to dismissing the motions of the defendants, the Judge issued an order compelling the latter to plead to the merits of the bill of the trust company by the first Monday in June.

LAST FILING WEEK.

Numerous New Suits Begun in the Circuit Court.

The present is the last week for filing suits in the Circuit Court for the June term, and the usual rush of litigation on such an occasion is taking place. The following actions were begun to-day:

The H. Perk Manufacturing Co. began an action against Leopold Mohr to compel the latter to account to the company for certain proceeds growing out of the manufacture and sale of certain egg end sponge devices invented by Perk and Mohr. It is alleged that when the application for a patent was pending the two inventors entered into a contract in which Mohr agreed to let Perk manufacture and sell the machines for five years at a profit of 25 per cent on the cost of manufacture, he, however, to assign his interest in the invention to the H. Perk Manufacturing Co., which had previously been organized, but that afterwards Mohr refused to permit the company to make the machines, but got them made elsewhere. The plaintiff then states that it is ready to carry out the contract and asks the Court to compel the defendant to account to it for all machines that he has manufactured and sold.

Mrs. Eliza Kohler, Chas. Kohler and Herman Bohrmann began attachment proceedings against Chas. Klein and Chas. A. Seeger, the wholesale liquor men, to collect a demand of $433.75.

John J. Steffen began a suit against Joseph S. Garbarino, in which he alleges that the latter is indebted to him to the amount of $433 on account.

August Hemann and Edward Batdorf commenced ejectment proceedings against Wm. and S. S. Wade to obtain possession of lots 23, 24, 25, 26 and 27 in the Hydraulic Press Brick Co.'s subdivision, alleged to be in the illegal possession of defendants.

Anna Hunt sues Geo. F. Mincke and Johanna Mincke to recover $1,200, alleged to be due on a note.

C. B. & Q. Dividend.

BOSTON, Mass., May 16.—The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Directors have declared a regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent, payable June 15.

A Denver Industrial Exposition.

DENVER, Colo., May 16.—The Denver Manufacturers' Exchange has decided to hold an industrial exposition during the meeting of the National Republican Convention, from June 26 to 29, inclusive.

Lucretia O. Putnam,

of Forristdale, Mass., was utterly miserable and sick.

Her spine, liver, heart, and brain were all diseased.

The weight of her body caused terrible pains in her back, and it was sometimes several hours before she could dress.

She found new life in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

She says: "I am like one raised from the dead. I was sick so long I thought I never could get well.

"The suffocating, gasping attacks and awful bearing-down feeling left me, my appetite returned, and my friends wondered at my improved looks. I believe Mrs. Pinkham's remedies are a sure cure for the misery of our sex."

LIVELY ELECTION.

Real Estate Building and Loan Association, No. 3, Choosing Directors To-Day.

The annual election of the Real Estate Building and Loan Association, No. 3, was held at the office, 714 Pine street. It began at 9 o'clock and closed at 4 o'clock. The election was hotly contested, there being twenty-four nominees for the ten positions in the directory. The fight is over the appointment and salary of Secretary. Wm. Zink, the present incumbent, draws $125 a month. The opposition hold that that is too much for the work done, especially when the association has had to go into court to protect itself from too rapid withdrawals. The opposition met at the store of A. Shattinger, 10 South Broadway, Monday evening, pursuant to a call issued by eight of the leading members. They wished to warn Shattinger not to send in their proxies to William Zink & Co. At the last monthly meeting twenty-four candidates were nominated for the position of director. Since then a circular has been sent out by the Secretary very strongly urging all shareholders to vote in person or by proxy.

The outs believed that the name of William Zink was liable to be inserted in most of the proxy blanks that accompanied the circular and desired to make known their grievances against the present management in a meeting called for that purpose. The directors will select the officers for the ensuing year. The count began at 4 o'clock.

BACK TO IDAHO.

Coxeyites to Be Returned by Federal Infantry.

GREEN RIVER, Wyo., May 16.—C Pollard and 158 men of the 8th Infantry reached here at 3 o'clock to aid Marshal Rankin in the work of taking the industrials now under arrest back to Idaho. Marshal Pinkham of Idaho will reach here this evening with warrants for the Industrials who are now imprisoned in the armory here.

REQUESTING ARREST.

How Commonwealers at Green River Obtained Bed and Board.

GREEN RIVER, Wyo., May 16.—The Commonwealers who took a train from United States Marshal Rankin at Montpelier have arrived here and made a request to be put under arrest, but Marshal Rankin refused to comply.

A sandstorm was raging and later snow and hail fell, making the hungry men desperate. They were about to seize a train, when Marshal Rankin, upon information from Marshal Pinkham, arrested them. They were then housed and fed.

Col. Copeland with 280 soldiers left Cheyenne for this place yesterday.

Coxey for Congress.

CANTON, O., May 16.—Jacob S. Coxey of the United States was yesterday nominated for Congress by the Populists of the Eighteenth Ohio District—McKinley's old district. His arrest in Washington was denounced as an outrage. The delegates all wore buttons with the legend: "Keep Off the Grass." The Omaha platform was indorsed by the convention.

Coxeyites at Fairfield.

FAIRFIELD, Ill., May 16.—A small detachment of the Coxey army passed through this city yesterday afternoon. They are now in camp in the City Park.

TO PREVENT CONTAGION.

Ordinance Governing the Use of Books in the Public Library.

"An ordinance to prevent contagion from books of the Public Library, defining the duties of the Health Commissioner in relation thereto and providing penalties for the violations of said provisions" is the title of an ordinance introduced by request last night by Mr. Arnstein. It goes on to provide further that the Health Commissioner shall, as soon as he learns of contagion in any house in the city, notify the Free Library Board and thereafter daily notify the Library board as to the condition of the house in question. The agent who posts the house with the contagion sign must ask the householder if he has any free library books, magazines or pamphlets in his possession, and if there are any such demand their immediate surrender. Failure to surrender the books upon demand renders the householder liable to a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $25 for each offense. The books must then be duly fumigated and returned to the library board to be placed upon the shelves in their proper places.

This opens a new field for the Board of Health, and if it is passed the contagion inspectors will become veritable book hunters. How this source of contagion has so long escaped the authorities it is hard to tell.

Arkansas Sunday-School Teachers.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., May 16.—The Washington County General Convention of Sunday-school Teachers meets here to-day. The city is full of delegates from every school in the county, and much interest is manifested.

The Hair Conquered.

EXCELSIOR HAIR TONIC

ITS MIGHTY RULER.

The first and only remedy known to turn gray hair back to its original color without dye has been discovered in Mme. M. Yale's Excelsior Hair Tonic.

Its action on the hair is altogether scientific and wonderful. It brings the live coloring matter of the hair into circulation by stimulating and toning up the hair's nerve forces, which in every case of Gray Hair are found to be the offending members and the direct cause of the follicles drying up and shutting off the coloring matter, also preventing the oil exuding from fulfilling their duties in feeding the hair with its proper nourishment necessary for stimulating its growth and preserving its color. Mme. M. Yale has given the study of the human hair more time and scientific research than any other authority living and has solved the great problem for the first time of the cause, effect and cure for gray hair. The wise men and women of every nation bow to her great achievement in this discovery.

In the Excelsior Hair Tonic Mme. Yale proclaims its complete mastery over the hair, in from 24 hours to one week it will stop the worst cases of falling hair. In the shortest possible time it will create a luxuriant growth of hair, keeping the scalp and hair in perfect health and remarkable beauty of glossy, silken texture and brightness.

For Bald Heads

For Infants and Children

It is commended to parents in all sincerity and honor bound principle.

Grandmothers and grandfathers, great grandmothers and great grandfathers can again have their hair born to its natural color and enjoy the fruits of the greatest discovery ever known in the history of chemistry.

CAUTION—Make sure that you get the genuine article, as all great discoveries are imitated. See that every bottle is labeled.

BRIBERY NOW.

Senator Lodge Proposes a Tariff Bill Investigation.

Was Money Offered for Senatorial Votes on the Sugar Schedule?

INTIMATIONS TO SECRETARIES OF UNITED STATES SENATORS.

A Lobbyist From Dakota Named as the Agent of the Sugar Trust—Senator Cockrell Asks That the Movement to Investigate the Charges Be Postponed—The Facts Confided to Senators.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Senator Lodge, soon after the Senate met to-day, introduced a resolution authorizing the appointment of five Senators to investigate the charges of the attempted bribery of Senators in connection with the pending tariff bill, and also the charges in a long article published in the Philadelphia Press on Monday morning, containing allegations relating to the influence of the Sugar Trust upon tariff legislation. He asked for the immediate consideration of the resolution, but Senator Cockrell of Missouri asked that it lie upon the table until to-morrow.

A MONEY CONSIDERATION.

Rumors of the use of money to influence action one way or the other on the tariff bill have been in circulation here at various times during the past few months, but heretofore have received little attention. It is learned definitely to-day that certain Senators have received intimation that a money consideration could be secured for their votes against the tariff, though whether the alleged briber had any authority for his promise is a matter of some doubt. The negotiations apparently have gone no further than intimations to the clerks of Senators Kyle and Hunton. These intimations come from a North Dakota man who is known as a lobbyist in several schemes. He was formerly a member of Congress from the Southern States and was identified with the so-called carpet-bag regime.

SENATOR KYLE APPROACHED.

The amount which it was intimated Senator Kyle could receive was $14,000 and $1,000 was to be retained by the man making the negotiation as a commission. Mr. McFarlane, clerk to Senator Kyle, says the matter never went any further than an intimation. He promptly informed Senator Kyle. The latter is now in South Dakota and will return to Washington Saturday.

The character of the man who is said to have made the intimations stamps the whole affair with the seal of condemnation. It is scarcely possible that any syndicate of persons who could control the amount of money necessary in order to purchase votes would intrust it to the man who made the intimation to the clerks of Senators Kyle and Hunton.

THE ATTEMPT ON SENATOR HUNTON.

Senator Hunton talked freely to-day about the attempt made to bribe him to vote against the tariff bill. The matter first came to his attention about a month ago, through a letter from his son, dated at Warrenton, Va., the home of the Senator and his son. He immediately laid the matter before six or eight of his most intimate friends in the Senate that they might know what was going on.

THROUGH HIS SON.

The Senator says that he never saw the man who offered the bribe and he declined to give the man's name, but said that all the negotiations, if the proceedings may be called such, were conducted through his son. The would-be briber, the Senator said, went to Warrenton early in April, carrying a letter of introduction from a man in Washington whom Mr. Hunton did not know any better than the man he introduced. He professed to want to employ Mr. Hunton as an attorney in a land case in which he was interested, talking for a short time on this topic, and brought up the tariff bill, to which he was opposed. He said that the bill never would pass and that there was an argument to be brought against the bill which had not yet been used, but which would dispose of it effectually. Asked by Mr. Hunton's son what the argument was, he said he would give it to him if he would send it to his father. He then proposed to pay Senator Hunton $25,000 for his opposition to the tariff bill, and Mr. Hunton immediately informed his father of the proposition.

"Did you think the proposition was made in earnest?" the Senator was asked.

$100,000 FOR A VOTE.

"My son is satisfied, and furthermore, I am satisfied that $100,000 would be paid if it had appeared that that sum would secure the coveted vote."

Senator Hunton said that the negotiator did not say whom he represented. "The money," he said, "was not to be paid until vote should be cast."

Senator Hunton said that he did not purpose making any investigation.

"I have," he said, "placed the matter in the hands of my friends, but I had not intended asking for an inquiry because I had not supposed that my reputation was such as to need no support, as an investigation would develop. If, however, an investigation is undertaken, I shall be glad to furnish all the facts in my possession."

Sent to the Hospital.

Mrs. Susie Jackson, a 38-year-old colored woman residing in the rear of 110 South tenth street, was taken sick yesterday afternoon and removed to the City Hospital this morning. It was at first reported that Mrs. Jackson had attempted suicide, but an investigation proved this was incorrect. Mrs. Jackson's neighbors state that she has been sick for over a year.

AFTER THE TAYLORS.

The Fierce and Patient Search of Sheriffs and Posses.

MACON, MO., May 16.—The Mariotine (Linn County) company searching for George and W. R. Taylor, who murdered Gus Meeks, his wife and two small children, in the northeast part of Linn County last Thursday night, headed by Maj. Thomas A. Smedley and John B. Dinsmore, remained all last night at Oliver, a Santa Fe railroad station between Laplata and Elmer in this (Macon) county. They saw four strange men at a distance driving through eastward in a spring wagon, followed by two more in a buggy. There was something mysterious about these travelers. They came on east and went through north of Laplata. The posse were walking and were not near enough to discover who they were.

This was 1 o'clock last night. At 5 o'clock this morning four strange armed men drove into Laplata. Some reliable parties say they came in from the north, while others say they came from the South in a roundabout way. They were in a two-horse spring wagon. One horse was a bay and the other a yellow one. They then drove out of town, in an easterly direction.

Another posse from Laclede (Linn County) came in from the west this morning. They were armed with double-barrelled shotguns, loaded with buckshot. This delegation left at 11:30 o'clock for Winnegin, in the southeast corner of Sullivan County, near where they have information that the Taylor brothers are hiding.

Sheriff White of Macon and a mounted posse from Laplata, armed with Springfield rifles, went direct last night for Cole's Mill, on the Chariton River, four miles south of Elmer. Cole's Mill is twelve miles west of Laplata. Sheriff Barton of Linn County, with another posse, was in that vicinity last night. The two Sheriffs and posses also guarded the Iron Bridge on the Chariton River, ten miles north of Elmer.

The tracks of the Taylor brothers were last seen yesterday evening on Walnut Creek, in Macon County, west of the Chariton River. They were coming eastward. The bloodhounds were tracking the murderers. The leaders of the posse do not doubt that the Taylors are anywhere from seven to twenty miles west of La Plata, in Macon County.

The whole County is being scoured by sheriffs, deputies and posses. Besides these there are all the way from 1,000 to 1,500 men with lynching blood flowing through their veins, out hunting for the murderers. The posse and companies are from Linn, Macon, Sullivan, Adair and Grundy Counties.

At 12 o'clock to-day no direct word had been received from Sheriffs White and Barton. The Taylors are armed and have with them about $40,000 in cash. They are determined not to be captured alive.

It will be almost, if not entirely impossible for the officers to prevent a lynching when the Taylors are caught and some of the officers will not make much of an effort to prevent it.

In case the murderers are captured by Sheriff White there will be many lives lost when a lynching is attempted. He will guard the prisoners at all hazards and go with them to some safe place at once.

A meeting of 300 people was held at Kirksville this morning, and an army was organized and started in the direction of Walnut Creek to search for the murderers.

A capture is looked for any moment. All trains and stations are being watched and guarded. It is the strong belief that the Taylors will attempt to mount some passenger train on the Wabash, Sante Fe or Burlington.

Fierce Friends.

LINNEUS, MO., May 16.—The Taylor chase is still on and capture seems no nearer than it did Saturday. Sheriff Barton, who is leading the largest posse, thinks the desperadoes are hiding among the hills on the eastern part of Linn County and is trying to unite the pursuers in that locality.

The friends of the Taylors near Browning are showing wonderful boldness in furnishing them supplies and information regarding the pursuit and they are riding around spreading false reports trying to scatter the pursuers. The Browning people fear trouble at home and are afraid to arrest the Taylors' friends when they see them acting in a suspicious manner.

John Taylor, brother of the murderers, came here this morning and had a talk with Senator Stephens, who was attorney for the boys in their frequent trials. It is thought by many that the interview was in regard to the bond the boys were under before this murder was committed, while others think he is a messenger from his brothers to their attorney and that John Taylor knows where they are hid.

Five Counties Aroused.

MACON, MO., May 16.—Sheriff White of Macon, Walker Sears and Dr. W. A. Smith of La Plata returned to La Plata from the iron bridge on the Chariton River, where they camped last night, twenty miles west of La Plata, looking out for the Taylor brothers. From there they went over on Walnut Creek, the other side of the Chariton. The murderers and their tracks were seen in the northwestern part of Macon County yesterday. Four Sheriffs with posses were then looking for them. Bloodhounds are in pursuit. The anger of the people from five counties is aroused and the Taylors will be lynched as soon as caught. Sheriff White was compelled to return to Macon on business and to watch the Bevier strike.

The Taylor Homestead Watched.

BROWNING, MO., May 16.—The search for the Taylor brothers continues with unabated interest, parties from Milan, Trenton, Brookfield, Linneus and Browning joining in the hunt, besides many farmers. It is thought they are still in the brush some ten or fifteen miles east of Browning. The residence of J. C. Taylor, father of the Taylor boys, five miles southeast of Browning, is being guarded, and Albert Taylor, a brother of W. P. and George, and also W. P. Taylor's wife are guarded in the town.

Alabama Strikers Weakening.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 16.—It looks as if the backbone of the miners' strike is broken. A number of white miners went to work in Adger mines, operated by the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Co., this morning. Two thousand tons will be mined in the Blue Creek region to-day and 12,000 tons in the district.

Convict and negro labor have undoubtedly won the fight. The miners' union of Alabama has been worsted. It is now confidently expected that a rush of white strikers to their old places will take place before ten days are gone.

West Virginia Bankers.

CHARLESTON (Kansas County), W. Va., May 16.—A convention of bankers from all parts of the State meets here to-day and to-night to effect permanent organization. This morning was devoted to the appointment of several committees. At noon recess was taken and the body called on the Governor at the Capitol. An excursion on the river takes place this afternoon. A business meeting and banquet will be had to-night. This ends the meeting. Fifty bankers are present.

TIRED OF LIFE.

Robert Graff, a Painter, Shoots Himself Through the Head.

TWICE MARRIED AND SEPARATED FROM HIS SECOND WIFE.

The Deed Committed Last Night in His Room at 1326 North Ninth Street—Found Dead in His Bed This Morning—He Leaves Two Daughters Surviving Him in Germany—A Regular Hospital Patient.

Robert Graff, a painter, about 45 years old, committed suicide in his room, at 1326 North Ninth street, last night, between 12:30 and 1 o'clock. Graff occupied a one-story, single-room addition in the rear of a tenement at the number mentioned. Wm. Brookes and his wife, who live on the second floor of the tenement, heard the shot which killed Graff. Brookes hurried down and looked through the window. A lamp was burning in the room at the head of the cot. Brookes saw Graff, lying on the cot, with his hands crossed and seemingly asleep. Nothing unusual was noticed and Brookes did not enter. At 6:10 this morning Brookes went again to the window of Graff's room, and by the sunlight discovered that the man was dead. Blood covered his face and lay in pools on the floor.

THE DOOR BROKEN OPEN.

Brookes notified Officer Liebig, who burst open the door and made an investigation. Graff had shot himself in the right temple. Apparently death had been instantaneous, and the body was composed as if in sleep. The revolver, a 38-caliber American bull-dog weapon, was clutched in the right hand and a razor lay on the cot near Graff's left hand. The city undertaker was notified, and the body was removed to the Morgue. In the small room where Graff led a bachelor existence was a trunk, a cot, a table, a stove, some wearing apparel and a watch.

Graff was a painter by trade, but he has not worked since early last summer, as he suffered from "painter's colic." He boarded first with Mrs. Sophie Foster and then with the Brookes family at 1326 North Ninth street, and a few months ago he rented the room where he committed suicide. Mrs. Brookes and Mrs. Foster say that Graff received money from his mother, who lives in Germany, and his brother, who lives in Cincinnati.

WAS TWICE MARRIED.

He has two daughters in Rufderheide, Germany. They are the children by his first wife, who died in the old country. His second wife, it is said, got a divorce from him and lives with her son. The neighbors say that Graff's brother who lives in Cincinnati recently refused to send him any more money. Graff has been to the City Hospital several times, and has been dismissed with the assurance that he ould not be cured.

GAVE ANOTHER BOND.

Arraignment of Teller Hillegeist Laid Over Until Next Term.

Edward Hillegeist, teller of the Fourth National Bank, charged with embezzling the bank's funds was to have been arraigned today, his bond given Friday evening calling for his appearance to-day. His arraignment was laid over, however, until the next term of court and a new bond for his appearance at that time was given.

SIGNED ARTICLES.

Dannie Daly and Eddie Ahern to Meet in the Ring.

Dannie Daly and Eddie Ahearn signed articles last night for an eight-round boxing contest to be brought off on an excursion steamer on May 11. The purse is $150, winner to take $125 and loser $25. It has not been decided whether the affair will be decided up or down the river. Several boxing contests will be arranged for the occasion. Charlie and Johnnie Daly are behind Dannie, while Dutch Neill is looking after Ahearn's interests. If this venture proves a financial success a meeting between Johnnie Daly and Dutch Neill for a respectable purse will be arranged.

TRIED TO ESCAPE.

A Butler County Deputy Sheriff Has a Time With His Prisoner.

Deputy Sheriffs John M. Cox and John Sanders of Butler County were at the Union Depot this morning on their way to Poplar Bluff. Deputy Cox is on his way home from Jefferson City, where he went on Monday with Charles McIver, colored, who was sent to the penitentiary for two years for burglary and larceny. McIver made an attempt to escape on the way to Jefferson City. He is a powerful negro and Cox fastened him to the seat in the train by the handcuff. McIver tried to wrench the handcuff and succeeded in springing the lock when he was discovered by Cox. The lock of the handcuff was so badly sprung that it was with difficulty opened. The prisoner was landed safely in the pen.

Deputy Sanders came from Nevada City, where he had taken Wm. Oatey, alleged murderer who was adjudged insane and was sent to the insane asylum at Nevada City. Oatey, it is alleged, shot and killed Beron Poliete at Poplar Bluff on Nov. 14 last.

The Maxwell Court-Martial.

OMAHA, Neb., May 16.—The general court-martial called for the trial of Lieut. Marcus Maxwell, whose testimony was impeached in the Maney murder case, convened at Fort Omaha to-day, but on the application of the defendant an adjournment was taken pending the arrival of some affidavits to be used in the trial.

ABOUT TOWN.

LIVERYMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS AMALGAMATE.—The new combine of the local liverymen to uphold the price of $10 for a hearse and $5 for a carriage at each funeral was perfected at Pabst's Hall, Seventh street and Franklin avenue, last night when the old Livery Stable Keepers and Undertakers' Association and the Liverymens' and Undertakers' Protective Association were amalgamated under the title of the St. Louis Livery and Undertakers' Association. The following officers were chosen: Wm. Rutter, President; Louis Bohle, Vice-President; Wm. J. Kelly, Secretary; Louis Speibrink, Treasurer.

CLAIMS SHE ROBBED HIM.—Agnes Fox, colored, was arrested at 2:30 o'clock this morning on complaint of John F. Parks, a stranger in the city, stopping at the Laclede Hotel, who claimed that she robbed him of $3 in her room at 1416 Chestnut street.

CELEBRATED ITS ANNIVERSARY.—St. Louis Lodge, No. 1, A. O. U. W., celebrated its nineteenth anniversary last evening at 2300 South Broadway. Speeches were made by Grand Orator J. H. Bacon, R. L. Miller and John Broadbent and a fine musical programme was rendered.

SPORTING GOSSIP.

Clifford's Misfortune—Pitcher Breitenstein Will Arrive Home To-Night.

"Gene" Leigh won the Kentucky derby with his good Falsetto colt Chant yesterday, but he didn't get a run for his money with Clifford in the Brooklyn handicap. The son of Bramble was the favorite Western candidate for the $25,000 Gravesend event and although Dr. Rice's victory gives general satisfaction, Clifford's misfortune causes universal regret in the West, where he is regarded as the greatest race horse in iron. Leigh has always maintained that Clifford would have won that $50,000 American derby last year, but for the long delay at the post. As between Dr. Rice and Clifford, nine out of every ten Western turfmen almost will pick the son of Bramble to win when they next meet. This don't go, however, with any such a start as Clifford received yesterday.

Jack White had $500 straight at about 12 to 1 and $200 for the place at 6 to 1, on his colt Chiswick, winner of the third race yesterday. The colt's unexpected victory netted his popular owner over $7,500. J. Hill's good riding had much to do with the success of Chiswick who, it will be remembered, Judge Burke thought wasn't good enough for last Saturday's handicap. Chimes was well supported by his owner, Capt. Rice, and Chiswell carried the bulk of the general public's play. The race was a grand one from start to finish, Chiswick winning ridden out by a short neck, with Chiswell second, a head in front of Prince Carl, who was one-half length before Chimes.

"Hickey" Bunn, who piloted Castaway II. to victory in the Brooklyn handicap of 1890, had the mount on Carrie B., winner of the 2-year-old scramble at the Fair Grounds yesterday. Castaway II. belonged to Walcott & Campbell, who also own Diablo, winner of last year's Brooklyn handicap. Diablo finished among the also ran yesterday, ridden by Cash Sloan, who is well known to local turfites. "Hickey" Bunn is now racing a string of his own, which includes those well-known selling platers, Rey del Mar and Lockport.

Theodore Breitenstein will arrive here to-night. He comes home in advance of the team to get a good rest for the opening game with the Cincinnatis on Friday. Breitenstein is confident that he can down Comiskey's team and will, if he succeeds in winning the first game, be pitted against the Reds on Sunday. The Cincinnatis are showing up remarkably well. The strong rivalry, which has existed for years between the Cincinnatis and Browns, seems to grow stronger. Big McPhee, Bug Holliday, Capr. Arlie Latham and other St. Louis favorites are still with Comiskey's aggregation.

Postponed Until To-Morrow.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 16.—The case of Philip J. Dwyer, President of the Brooklyn Jockey Club, to test the right of bookmakers and poolsellers to do business as formerly at the Gravesend race track, has been set for a hearing to-morrow. F. W. Judson of Brooklyn is the complaining witness, but back of him is Peter Delacey, the "king of bookmakers." The charge is that "Phillip J. Dwyer unlawfully and feloniously did contrive, propose and maintain and assist in contriving, proposing and maintaining a certain lottery."

News and Gossip.

Ashland, a bay colt, 2 years old, by Strathmore, dam Kanawha, has been sold by L. & G. Strauss of Lexington to Milton Young for $5,000. He was second in the La Belle stake at Lexington Monday.

Horsemen have been telling all sorts of tales about the phenomenal work of Rey del Sierras at Hawthorne—going miles in 1:42, six furlongs in 1:16. As a matter of fact Yo Tambien's great brother has not moved more than a half mile yet, says a Chicago exchange.

The Catalpa Swimming School expects to capture the 100-yard race at the Natatorium Friday night with Herman C. Schmitz as their entry. He did the distance in 1:17 with four turns in practice last night.

Prof. James P. Fox, who has been engaged by Prof. Clark as instructor at the Natatorium, has a high reputation as a swimmer and diver.

Secretary Munson says that the Boston Club's home games will probably be played at the Brotherhood Park, until the League Club's stands are rebuilt.

James Collins, colored, fell from the second-story window of hs home, 817 North Eleventh street, while asleep, this morning, and sustained a fracture of the skull. He was removed to the City Hospital.

THE SENIOR FOURS.

The Modocs Are Favorites in To-Day's Race at Austin.

AUSTIN, Tex., May 16.—The attendance at the great regatta has been greatly increased, all in-coming trains being crowded. The first race on the programme, which begins at 4:30, is a double scull between Gaudaur and Durnan and Teemer and Hosmer. In the pool-rooms this morning Gaudaur was a heavy favorite. The third race to-day will be between the senior four-oared crews, in which are entered the Modocs and Western of St. Louis and the Louisiana Boat Club. The contest is going to be a close one, but in the pool rooms the Modocs are the favorites.

The final heat of single skull professional will be pulled off to-morrow. The following oarsmen are in it: Guadaur, Teemer, Peterson, Rogers Durnan, Hosmer, In the pool room Gaudaur and Peterson are away ahead on the result, but there are not a few who believe that Durnan will surprise some folks.

No Jurisdiction.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 16.—Judge Townsend in the United States Circuit Court today sustained the demurrer in the Northern Pacific Railroad case, which claimed that his court had no jurisdiction. The action which is thus thrown out of court on the ground that the receivers of the road, who are an important party to the suit, were appointed by the United States Court for the Eastern district of Wisconsin was one of those alleging conspiracy on the part of Messrs. Villard, Colby and Hoyt in the transactions between the Northern Pacific Railroad Co. and other corporations.

Fined for Withholding Lodge Books.

Arthur O. Helwig was fined $25 in the Court of Criminal Correction to-day for refusing to give up the books of the German Veteran Mutual Aid Society, a North St. Louis organization of which he was Secretary. There was a split in the society, and Helwig and some others started a new society, it is alleged. Helwig refused to surrender the books of the old society.

Looking for Robert Toomey.

The police are looking for Robert Toomey, who drove a mule and cart for Mrs. McCarthy of 1406 North Seventh street. Toomey, it is alleged, sold the mule yesterday to Maher & Sharky of 1407 North Broadway and abandoned the cart. Mrs. McCarthy recovered the mule, but Toomey is missing.

The Garfield Track for Sale.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 16.—Judge McConnell to-day ordered the sale of the Garfield Park race track. The order was entered in the suit brought by numerous creditors of the track.

French and Sasse Case.

The trial of Jim French and Martin Sasse, charged with robbing the Post-office at De Soto, was concluded in the Federal Court at 2:30 this afternoon and the case given to the jury.

FRACTURED HIS SKULL.

Thrown From His Buggy and Killed—East St. Louis News.

Thomas Snow, an inspector of brands, was fatally injured last night at the National Stock Yards and died this morning. He had started home in his buggy and reached the main entrance, St. Clair avenue and First street, when his horse became frightened and overturned the vehicle. Snow was thrown into the street and fell heavily, his head striking a stone. He was rendered unconscious and it was afterward found that his skull was fractured. Friends removed him to his home, 521 North Eighth street, where he died early this morning. The deceased was 40 years and had a family. He was employed at the Stock Yards as an inspector of brands for the National Stock Raisers' Association.

The death of Mr. Snow brings to light an interesting story of a life insurance policy for $3,000, which Snow carried. When Chas. D. Bolin, manager of the Union Life Insurance Co. of Cincinnati, severed his connections with the Provident Savings Life Assurance Co. on Feb. 17, he was charged with the $50 premium which Snow had failed to pay on his $3,000 policy. Bolin did not fancy this kind of treatment, for he felt that the Provident Society should have canceled Snow's policy. But Bolin paid the $50 and got after Snow for reimbursement. Snow deferred a settlement and gave Bolin his note for the amount. The note fell due May 1 and Bolin gave it to a bank for collection. It was returned and then Bolin sent the note in an envelope to Snow. Yesterday the latter penned Bolin a letter in which he said that he would keep the note if Bolin had no objection, and would forward a check for the amount on June 1. A few hours after Snow wrote this letter, he was killed. If the Provident Savings Life Assurance Society had canceled Snow's policy instead of charging Bolin with the amount of the premium due, the institution would not now be indebted $3,000 to Snow's heirs. Snow lived in East St. Louis.

The terms of Judge B. H. Canby and Clerk J. G. Carr of the City Court expire next fall, and a canvass for the election at which the offices are to be filled will open soon. It is understood that Judge Canby and Clerk Carr will be candidates for re-election. Among other prospective candidates are Jesse M. Freels and William P. Launtz for Judge and Harry Davis, Richard Long and M. Joyce fo Clerk.

Ernest Baumeister, a carpenter employed at the stock yards beef cannery, was severely injured last night, being struck by a descending elevator. While he was at work in the shaft the elevator came down and crushed him. His spine was badly hurt, and, if the result is not fatal, he will probably be a cripple for life. He is now at his home, 816 Illinois avenue.

Several departments of the Tudor iron-works, which shut down a few days ago on account of the coal famine, resumed to-day. Fuel is being obtained from the eastern part of the State.

J. H. Murphy and Miss Maggie Stock will be married this afternoon at St. Patrick's Catholic Church. Thomas Kinney will attend the groom and Miss Louise Gross will act as bridemaid. The couple will go to New Orleans by water on a wedding trip.

A C. & A. car which stood near the C. B. & Q. round-house last night was broken into by thieves. Clothing worth about $100 and a gold ring with cameo setting were stolen.

A call has been issued for a mass-meeting of colored men to be held next Wednesday at the A. M. E. Church. The purpose of the meeting is stated to be the discussion of topics relative to the welfare of the race.

The funeral of G. A. Wittig, who died Monday, took place this afternoon, the remains being interred at St. Peter's Cemetery.

Applications for positions as public school teachers must be filed with the Secretary of the Board of Education by June 1.

A. B. Hawkins has been elected President of the Central Trades and Labor Union.

The State Savings and Loan Association opened a new series yesterday.

A meeting will be held at Flannigen's Hall Sunday to form a lodge of the American Railway Union.

The Democratic Precinct Committee meets this evening to call primaries for the county convention.

IRON AND STEEL WORKERS.

The Amalgamated Association in Session at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., May 16.—The convention of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers was called to order at 10 o'clock to-day with President Garland in the chair. After adopting resolutions of sympathy for the striking miners, which were adopted with much enthusiasm, President Garland proceeded to lay before the convention his report for the past year. The report dealt with conditions of the association as it at present stands and answered innumerable questions propounded by different branches of the organization, the condition of affairs as he found them throughout the districts and his recommendations for existing evils.

The feature of the report, which was followed closely by the delegates, was the statement that he found that the conditions of labor laws administered had not been carried out in the spirit of the acts themselves. President Garfield stated that the matter had been put in competent hands and would be brought to the attention of the law-makers at Washington with a view to bringing about the change desired.

After the President had spoken for nearly two hours, the convention adjourned for dinner.

THAT "IMMORTAL" ACADEMY.

How It Would Probably Give Arts and Letters a Big Boost.

From the Chicago Record.

The gentleman who first became sponsor for Gen. Lew Wallace's bill for an Academy of Immortals avers with much emphasis that the me sure would redound greatly to the benefit of art and letters. And as Congress—the confession is painful—has never done very much for either letters or art, he would gladly see it extend its fostering care to those beneficent agencies. Of course the gentleman recommends the election of the future academicians strictly in accord with the academicians' merits. In fancy one can see from his description a report of these proceedings in print:

"WASHINGTON, D. C., May 10.—The Republican caucus of the Academy of Immortals was held last night in the academy rooms to select a candidate for the vacancy left by Mr. Pubbs (La.), an ardent Democrat. There were eighteen candidates, but only three were found worth considering, five of the eighteen being Populists, one having written Democratic campaign verse, and the other nine being unfit. At the last ballot Mr. Percival Toodles, poet, who has voted the Republican ticket for thirty-four years, was nominated by acclamation.

"In the Democratic caucus, held simultaneously, the nomination went to Algernon Swinburne Squirk, the well-known author. A bitter discussion preceded the nomination, Mr. Swizzle of Kentucky claiming that Squirk couldn't write English and was a Hill man. The Chairman had to call another member to order for saying that his pet dog had eaten part of one of the candidate's novels one day and died in two hours. There are rumors here that Mr. Squirk has a bad political record, but his friends are elated."

That strict civil service rules could be enforced in the election might also be foreseen:

"WASHINGTON, July 26.—The election of an immortal to fill the vacancy in the academy was held last night, there being a full attendance of ten Democrats, thirteen Republicans and two Populists. The vote:

Toodles, Rep	13
Squirk, Dem	10
Pippin, Pop	2
Total	25

"Mr. Toodles was overwhelmed with congratulations and will at once write an ode to the McKinley law."

As the gentleman favoring the "immortals" bill has indicated, this sort of thing would give art and letters a great boost.

The Corinth Ship Canal.

From the Scientific American.

According to the recent report of the British Acting Consul at Patras the Corinth ship canal is up to the present but little used. Between the opening of the canal in November and the end of February the only vessels passing through have been a few ships of war, some yachts and about 200 small Greek sailing craft, although the canal is open to vessels of all nationalities not over 65 feet 7½ inches wide, and drawing not more than 24 feet 8¼ inches of water. The tolls charged are as follows: Mail and passenger steamers, either going to or coming from the Adriatic Sea, pay 15 cents per register ton and 20 cents for each passenger carried, both in gold.

A MURDEROUS MANIAC.

He Killed His Mother and Wounded Four Other Persons.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 16.—Eugene Brady, a maniac, ran amuck yesterday, killing his mother and dangerously wounding four other persons: His sister-in-law, Mrs. Jas. Brady; Alfred J. V. Werner, Mrs. John Kelly and Pat Rice. Until overpowered by the police he cut right and left. Eugene began quarreling with his sisters and mother at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. As his father had been insane they became frightened and summoned help. Brady sprang out of a window. He ran on the street brandishing a big knife.

His mother and sister followed and the latter held his arm once or twice to prevent him from stabbing people. Mrs. Brady finally succeeded in putting her arms around Eugene. That seemed to calm him and he walked back toward the house. Reaching the yard he kissed and embraced his mothr and plunged the long knife ino her heart. He then slashed his sister-in-law's arm and ran into a crowd of onlookers.

A Nice Young Man's Thievery.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 16.—Frank Shaw, a lovely young man, so nice that all the women in town just adored him, superintendent of a Sunday-school and all that sort of thing, has skipped out, a self confessed thief. His church friends made good his peculations else he would have been in jail.

Shaw came to Knoxville from Chattanooga some years ago and went to work in S. W. Graves & Co.'s furniture-house. He joined the M. E. Church and cut a very large figure in religious circles, becoming Superintendent of the Marbury Mission Sunday-school.

He also made love to Miss Florence Roberts, a clerk in the store, and she promised to marry him. In order to prepare for housekeeping he began sending things from the store to her house, pretending to pay for them. Recently he concluded that he would prefer as his wife a Miss Sligier, whose father had money.

When Miss Roberts discovered this she did not fail to squeal audibly. Investigation followed with the result that Shaw was shown up as a thief in taking the furniture from his employer. He had not paid a cent for it. When faced with the accusation he confessed and was given hours to leave town, his church people squaring the matter with his employer.

Shot by a Station Robber.

BOULDER CREEK, Cal., May 16.—Late last night an attempt was made to rob the railway station at this place by a man named Azoff, who walked up to the station agent and ordered him to throw up his hands, which the agent did.

Detective Len Harris of the Southern Pacific Secret Service, who had previous information that the attempt would be made, stepped out of a room in which he was hiding and ordered the robber to surrender, but instead of obeying Azoff turned and shot Harris in the stomach and made his escape towards Los Gatos. Harris' wounds will probably prove fatal. Azoff has worked around here for over a year, but a short time ago lost his position and since then has done nothing. It is believed he had a confederate.

Accused of Uxoricide.

DALLAS, Tex., May 16.—L. E. Williams, an upholsterer of this city, was arrested yesterday for foully murdering his wife. The woman disappeared a week ago, Williams claiming that she had gone on a visit. Suspicion fell on him, however, and search revealed blood stains all over the bedroom of the couple. A negro employe, Dick Johnson, was arrested and confessed that Williams had murdered his wife and hired him to get rid of the body. The corpse, with the head crushed in and clad only in a night dress, was found buried under the sidewalk in front of the house.

Williams has been arrested, but refuses to talk. He is an Englishman about 40 years of age and quite small. His wife was five years older and weighed 200 pounds.

Feud and Death.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., May 16.—An old feud between Robert Kane, an employe of Abernathy's furniture factory, and Barney Fitzsimmons, bartender in Tim Foran's saloon, ended yesterday in the bartender shooting and killing Kane. The men were about fighting when bystanders tried to push Kane out. Fitzsimmons took advantage of the melee and ran around from behind the bar and shot Kane through the heart. The bartender returned to his post and again began to deal out liquor as though nothing had happened. He is under arrest.

Killed by Regulators.

GATE CITY, Va., May 16.—Sam Woods, a negro, was killed yesterday afternoon by a party of regulators. They had set out to rid the town of a number of disreputable women living about a half mile from town. The women were not found at home. Woods' house was visited to see if they were there. He denied the men admittance, and they shot him as he stood in his doorway ax in hand.

Warrant for Thompson.

A warrant was issued to-day against William C. Thompson, who was arrested yesterday at 1410 Olive street on a charge of working a scheme to defraud hotel-keepers. In the warrant issued to-day against Thompson he is charged with obtaining $2 from a hotel-keeper, named Brown, at Galesburg, Ill., by means of false pretenses.

NEW DESIGN BOTTLE.

After Being Emptied It Cannot Be Refilled.

Proprietors of special brands of wines or beers, or of patent medicines, have long felt the want of some means of preventing their labeled bottles from being refilled with inferior goods and so imposed upon the public to the detriment of the original bottlers' reputation. A special bottle has now been patented by Barnes & Cullen of Bellaire, which is expected to do away with this annoyance by means of a simple device in the neck of the bottle, which, it is claimed, admits of pouring the contents out, but will not admit anything toward refilling it. The bottle has, we understand, been subjected to the severest tests, even to heating it to exhaust the air and placing it inverted in a vessel of water, and has been found to act satisfactorily.—Invention.

Chinese Hospitality.

From the Pittsburg Dispatch.

"Very few people have any idea of the great hospitalitay of the Chinese," said a Pittsburg Celestial yesterday. Chinamen coming to this country retain their ideas of Oriental hospitality, and always keep open doors for any of their race who may need shelter. A Chinamen arriving in Pittsburg without money would never want for a lodging or boarding place. He would simply go to the first Chinese laundry or residence feeling assured that he would find a welcome there. If, after staying a couple of days, he should learn that the circumstances of his host were such that the latter could not well afford to keep him, he would move away, making his home with another Chinaman. He would continue doing this, dividing himself up so to speak, until he was able to get work and support himself. Of course, such wanderers usually endeavor to find the most wealthy Chinamen and become their guests. I have known some of the laundries in Pittsburg to have ten and twelve transient visitors—you could not call them boarders—to stay over night. The hospitality of Chinamen is something that can not be excelled among any other race."

From the Court Room.

From the Fliegende Blaetter.

Eloquent counsel for the defendant to the jury: "Release my client, gentlemen. He has ten children. Even one child must feel ashamed and mortified and disgraced to see his parent in jail, but, my friends, think what ten of them must feel.

IN BAD SHAPE.

The Foreign Grain Trade Heavy Losers in Wheat and Flour.

CASH WHEAT SELLS LOWER THAN EVER BEFORE IN ST. LOUIS.

About All the Principal Products Decline—Wool Showing Steadiness—The Influences To-Day—Items of Interest.

The already fearfully depressed situation in wheat is now further complicated by the demoralizing advices arriving from abroad on the market conditions there, more especially in the United Kingdom. Cables from all English markets have been singing but one song for a long time past, and a very sad song it was, telling of over-supplies of wheat and flour, which could not be disposed of, and where any amount was sold it was at a heavy loss. Instances were cited of cargoes of wheat from this country being closed out at a sacrifice or held on to with a sure and steadily growing loss staring the holder in the face. A local exporter says he has wheat in Liverpool he cannot sell at the present May price in St. Louis, adding freights and other charges. Flour shipments made this past season have all shown a loss upon arrival abroad, either to the foreign buyer or if consigned, to the American shipper. The foreign trade has suffered fearfully this season, even worse than has the trade of this country, for besides the actual loss in the value of grain and flour there has been a decline in freight, which was as much a loss to the foreign buyer as was the decline in the value of the article that was shipped. For instance, last July, the through rate from St. Louis was 84c to Liverpool and from that to 85c to Glasgow and Dublin, 87c to Leith, 87½c to Bristol. Now through rates to these markets can be obtained at 10c to 11c per 100 pounds less than last July, which means a decline of 6c to 6½c per bu on wheat. Add that to the decline in wheat and flour and some idea can be formed of the losses the English trade has had to stand. Besides their losses on American wheat and flour and the freight on these articles, English markets have been flooded with Argentine and Russian wheat at prices so low down that this country was not in it. The result has been that English markets have been steadily getting into a worse and worse shape, until now they are about demoralized. This morning's cables reported Liverpool dull, declining and demoralized at 1d lower, and private cables from all English markets indicated a bad state of affairs in grain and flour. For some time the foreigners have been selling in New York and Chicago against future shipments of wheat from Russia, the Argentine and other countries. Mr. Henry Clews, the New York banker, suggests that future trading in the principal speculative centers of this country be restricted to within a sixty-day limit, so as to prevent the foreigners from hedging in this country the wheat they have bought elsewhere.

The amount of wheat set afloat for Europe last week by all countries was 6,896,000 bu, a falling off of 1,645,000 bu from the week before and only 740,000 bu larger than same week last year, all of which indicates a let-up in the shipments from countries outside the United States. Since Jan 1 all countries have shipped to Europe 117,803,000 bu wheat, against 100,636,000 bu for same period last year.

Last week saw a large falling off in shipments from Russia and the Argentine, the total being 4,080,000 bu, against 5,520,000 bu the week before, though they were over 1,100,000 bu in excess of corresponding week last year. This reduction in the "Baltic ports" shipments accounts for the small increase in the amount afloat for Europe last week.

The wheat that several weeks ago went out of sight at Buffalo, is now coming into sight at the seaboard. Receipts at New York, Boston, and other ports, have been quite large for several days past, the wheat arriving by rail.

Cash No 2 red wheat sold to-day in this market lower than ever before or since grades have been established in St. Louis. The price was 51¼c, "Billy" Sears making the sale and Gov. Stanard the buyer.

All the latest public cables on wheat were largely lower, but his New York house wired Henry Farley that Liverpool came ⅛d higher late.

Crop Conditions.

A drop in the temperature is expected and there is a chance for light frosts, but no chance of crop injury therefrom.

This morning's Northwestern advices were of nice general rains and spring wheat sprouting all through the Red River Valley.

The seventeen-year locust has made its appearance in this section. Suburbanites report that it is showing up in large numbers west of this city, and a sample of the locusts was brought in from Madison Co., Ill., where they literally swarm. No damage is yet reported in this section from these insects.

The latest State crop reports are generally favorable. Illinois reports wheat advancing rapidly and as being generally in fine condition. It is beginning to head out in many sections. No damage from insects. Oats not doing quite so well. Excepting some damage by cut-worms, the Missouri report was favorable on wheat. Oats is improving and the stand of corn is excellent. Texas reports wheat damaged some by army worms and heavy rains, the latter also injuring corn. The only unfavorable reports came from Nebraska and California, the latter State being credited with half a crop.

Cotton in Texas is doing fairly well, although more sunshine would be beneficial. The crop is well weeded and in fair condition. Some slight damage was done by hail in some localities, and by excessive rains over the central portion of the State. The Government weekly weather bulletin says that the southern portions of the cotton regions were favored with more than the usual amount of rain, although the rains were not sufficient to relieve the drought conditions in North Carolina.

The Government Weather Bureau says of the conditions last week: The weather during the week was generally favorable throughout the corn and wheat States of the central valleys, where the rainfall was less than usual, but the weather conditions were generally favorable, and the crops were well advanced, with good stand. Corn planting is practically completed. The ground is becoming dry and rain is needed in the States on the Eastern Slope, from Northern Texas to the Dakotas. The rains in Texas interrupted farm work over a large portion of the State. On the Pacific Coast showers proved injurious to early fruit in Northern California, but were insufficient to relieve drought in Southern Oregon.

Lincoln, Ill.—Oats are looking fine and hear no complaints whatever, so far. Conditions in corn simply ahead of any thing on record. Grass and pastures same conditions. Wheat commencing to head out in some fields.

ON 'CHANGE.

Grain.

Wheat—This morning saw what has of late become the regular thing—a lower opening. July soon sold ⅜c below the low price of yesterday and was heavy at that, though with not much for sale. It rallied, though rather slowly, and finally developed considerable firmness and finally sold ⅝c above the bottom, closing at the top and ⅛@¼c higher than was bid at close of yesterday. It was again the foreign markets that proved the most depressing influence this morning, the early public cables reporting great dullness, weakness and declines, but private cables even worse as they told of demoralization. Besides that were large Baltic shipments, though they were smaller than the week before, and fine weather and favorable crop reports, as a rule, for this country. Receipts were much smaller, 280,000 bu at twelve points, but clearances only 66,000 bu wheat, though 78,000 pkgs flour from four ports. Early came a prediction for frosts in Kansas and that followed by a report of hot winds in that State and the latter had a rallying effect upon the market, notwithstanding the ridiculous variance of the two statements. There was also talk of bugs, including the 17-year locust, but little if any damage resulting therefrom. The late public cables were "corkers," so far as reflecting intense depression abroad, they quoting declines of ½d in Liverpool spots and ¾@1d in futures, over 1¼c in Antwerp, 1¾@1⅝c in Paris, and nearly 2⅝c in Berlin, but a later private Liverpool cable noted ⅜c to ⅝c advances and a firmer feeling. Advices of good export buying at the seaboard, and the increased cash demand here all tended to firm the feeling, especially while prices were so very low, and the market showed strength late in the day and closed so.

FUTURES—July opened at 52⅝c, sold to 52¼c, up to 52⅞c, to 52¾@⅞c, on call offered at 52⅞c with 52¾c bid, then sold at 52⅞c, to 52⅞@53c, to 52¾c, up to 53⅛c, closing at latter. Aug sold at 53c, and 53⅛c closing with latter bid. May offered on call at 52c, but that bid at close. June offered on call at 52c, bid 51½c; Sept at 54⅛c, bid 54¼c.

SPOT GRADES—Lower than ever before sold No 2 red, car lots not being salable above 51¼c, though local millers to obtain supplies had to pay the elevators 1c below the July price. No 3 red sold higher than yesterday, though offered regular on call at 49½c, with 49c for F the only bid. No 4 winter not offered and 47c bid for F.

Sales: No 2 red—6 cars this side at 51¼c, 35,000 in United at 51⅜@51⅝c. No 3 red—6 cars this side at 49½c, 1 in C at 49¾c.

SAMPLES—Received 54 sks and 3 cars local. There was not enough done to reflect a market. The offerings were light and the demand indifferent. Sales—red winter—54 sks No 4 at 48c, 270 sks No 3 at 50c, 1 car ungraded on track at 50½c, 1,000 bu choice in warehouse at 52¼c.

Corn—The fine weather and the decline in wheat gave the speculative market a weak opening, July declining ⅜c, but with not much for sale. The foreign markets were dull and lower, Liverpool showing a decline during the day, and clearances from four ports were only 68,700 bu. Receipts continued moderate and but few car lots stopped here. The slow and lower cash market did not favor higher prices, but the rally in wheat steadied corn and at close there were buyers of July at ⅛@¼c below yesterday. There was a disposition shown to realize on long contracts or May at the price asked late yesterday and some sales were made.

FUTURES—May sold at 36½c and had sellers at the close. July opened at 35¾c, sold at 35⅝c, up to 35⅞c, to 35¾@⅞c, closing with latter bid. June offered at 36c, bid 35½c; Sept at 37c, bid 36⅜c; year at 3 c, no bid. No 2 white—May offered at 38½c, bid 37⅞c.

SPOT GRADES—Lower and no particular improvement to the demand. More No 2 was selling, but local and order requirements were light and supplied at 37¼c this and East Side. No 2 white was salable at 39c this side and 39¼c East Side and No 3 do at 38c this side. No 3 not offered or bid for.

Sales: No 2—4 cars East side, 2 cars in M, 2 in F and 2 in C "B" at 37¼c, 1 in C at 37½c, 1 car track this side at 37⅜c. No 2 white—1 car in M at 39c, 2 cars loaded East side at 40½c.

SAMPLES—Lower; at ½c decline local millers took all offered. Sales—7 cars choice white East track at 40c, 252 and 800 sks choice white and 496 St Charles at 42c, 4,000 bu white E track p t. Sad lots on orders, 44@46c.

Oats—Though there was no speculative feeling the market was stronger and higher for July. For May 35¼c bid, none offered; July offered on call at 28c, and later 27⅞c bid; Aug offered at 23¾c, bid 23c; Sept at 24¼c, bid 23c.

SPOT GRADES—No 2 was salable at 36c in U, M and F; No 3 in M at 35c, offered regular at 35½c; No 3 white East Side at 36c, offered this side at 36½c. Sale: No 2—1 car in U at 36c.

SAMPLES—Received, 23 cars. No material change in prices. Although there was more offering and sold in elevator, the bulk of trading was in track stuff. Choice offerings of white were some better, selections being higher, and in most instances a small advance was obtained. For the average run prices ranged about the same as yesterday, but the poor, thin and lightweight offerings were lower. No 2 white sold at 38@38½c this side and 38@38½c E side track one car light weight selling in Elevator at 37c. No 3 white brought 37@37½c, track this side and 37c East track and 35½c for light weight and 36½c in Elevator. No 2 sold at 36½c and No 3 at 35¼@36c on track. No sales in Elevator. Sales were as follows:

By sample on track this side—1 car No 2 white at 38½c, 2 do at 38¼c, 1 do at 38c, 1 No 3 white at 37½c, 1 do at 37c, 1 No 2 at 36½c, 1 No 3 at 36c, 1 do at 35¾c, 1 ungraded mixed at 34½c. East track—1 car No 2 white at 38½c, 2 do at 38c, 1 No 3 white and 2 No 2 at 37c. Sacked lots on orders 40@41c.

Rye—None offered and no bids. Last sale was of No 2 to arrive at 52c.

Hay.

Received, 435 tons; shipped, 165 tons. Good hay was in fair demand at steady prices. Medium grades were moving fairly well, but the low grades were dragging. Local dealers take about all the good hay offered and keep the market well cleaned up. The medium grades taken mainly by the order buyers and shippers, some going to the local dealers.

Sales this side: 2 cars clover mixed at $8.50, 2 grass mixed at $8.50, 3 do at $8.60. Timothy—2 cars prime at $9.50, 2 strictly do as $10.5 choice at $10.50, 1 strictly do at $11, 2 fancy at $11.50, 3 strictly do at $12, 3½ do at $12.50. Prairie—1 car at $8, 2 parts of cars at $8.50, 1 car at $9. East side timothy—1 car at $11, 1 at $11.50, 1 at $12, 1 at $13.

Flour and Feed.

Flour—There was some improvement in the demand, as holders were enabled to name lower prices on account of the decline in wheat. The lower prices are attracting some attention. The reported sales, however, were small.

Patent	$2 75@2 85	Choice	$1 90@2 00
Extra Fancy	2 45@2 55	Rye flour	3 00@3 15

Cornmeal—On orders, $2.05@2.10 ₩ bbl. Pearl meal, grits and hominy, $2.55@2.60.

Bran—Lower. Offerings larger and more doing. Sales: Country points—4 cars bulk at 55c, 6 and at 60c, 3 do at 62c, 2 do at 63@64c. East track—2 cars in 100-lb sks at 61c. P o h boat—500 sks at 64c, 200 do at 65c, 500 do at 66½c. At mill—120 sks at 63c. On Levee—50 and 100 sks bran and 130 sks shorts at 63c, 13 sks corn bran at 55c.

Provisions.

Market was again easy, with tendency downward and a rather quiet business.

Pork—Standard mess at $12.60 to $12.50, on orders $13.

Lard—Prime steam quotable at 7.05c and choice at 7.15@7.20c.

Bacon—Packed shoulders, 6½c; longs, 7c; c'ribs, 7½c; shorts, 7½c. On orders—Longs, 7⅜c; c'ribs 7½c; shorts, 7⅝c.

Dry Salt Meats—Shipping age, f o b on cash orders—Shoulders, 6c; longs and c'ribs, 6.30c; shorts, 6.45c; boxed, 15c higher.

Country Meats—Dry salted shoulders quotable at 5½c; sides 5¾c for light, 6c for heavy; hams at 7@8c. Bacon shoulders at 5¾c, sides at 6¾c, hams at 8@9c.

Green Meats—Hams from the block, 8½c; shoulders, 5¾c, bellies, 8@9c; boxed, 15c higher.

Highwines—Steady at $1.08.

Lead and Spelter.

Lead—Steady and a much better demand, as evidenced on sales of 28 cars soft Missouri chemical and desilverized at 3.15c, and wanted at that price.

Spelter—Dead dull at 3.20c and only salable in a small way at that. Sale, 1 car at 3.20c.

ON THE STREET.

Fruits.

Apples—The little offering was generally selected stock and sold in a peddling way at $5.50@6 per bbl.

Strawberries—Receipts not so heavy, about 5 cars. Tennessee and Arkansas again furnished the bulk of the offerings. The condition did not show any improvement, the bulk of the offerings running wet, soft and leaking. Shippers and order buyers were doing very little; about all they took was a few lots to fill near-by orders, and these absorbed all the berries that were in condition to carry. The home-grown deliveries were larger, but like the consigned was of poor condition, little of the deliveries being suitable to send out. Besides the fresh receipts on sale this morning there was considerable carried over from yesterday's late arrivals, mainly from Lutesville, Mo., and the late runs from Tennessee. The carried over stock was all in bad shape this morning and sold to peddlers at low figures, mainly 50@75c per case. The local demand was fair, and while the top range of yesterday was reached on a few of the verybest offerings, the average sales were lower. Missouri and Kentucky furnished the best berries and sold at top prices. Sales ranged: Carried-over stock, 50@75c per case. Fresh receipts—Home-grown, $1.25@1.50 per 3-gal tray; Missouri and Kentucky, $1@1.50 and Arkansas and Tennessee, 75c@$1.25 per 6-gal case.

Oranges—No Florida on the market. Supply of California in excess of demand, and there was a noticeable weaker feeling all around. It is known that there are large stocks held in cold storage and this fact dampens the ardor of the speculator, who is always a factor in holding firm and advancing the market. Local and order demand tame. We quote: California—Seedlings, $2.25@2.50; Mediterranean sweets, $2.25@2.75; Australian navels, $2.75@3.50; Washington do, $3@4 per box. Some few Messina noticed, which sell at $3.00@3.50 per box.

Lemons—In consequence of the warm weather, there was a better movement noticeable, but no material advance has yet occurred. The different grades are quotable as follows: Extra fancy, $3.50@4; fancy, $3@3.50; choice, $2.50@3 per box.

California Cherries—Receipts light and demand slow at $1@1.50 per 10-lb case.

Pineapples—Supply and demand fair at $1.25@2.50 per doz.

Bananas—We quote: Selections on orders—Small, $1@1.25; medium, $1.25@1.35; large, $1.50@1.75; Jumbo, $2 per bunch.

Dates—New Persian Halloween, 60-lb boxes, 5c per lb; fards, 12-lb boxes, 7c; 60-lb boxes, 5½c.

Figs—We quote: New crop layers, 14c; fancy, 16c; bags, 7c per lb.

Vegetables.

Potatoes—Receipts, 4,152 bu; shipped, 1,767 bu. Although the offerings were not excessive, the limited demand caused a dull, weak and lower market. We quote: Burbanks, 75@80c; hebron and peerless, 65@75c; Western, 65@70c per bu track and delivered. Sales: 2 cars hebron at 70c per bu, 120 sks Ajax at 60c.

New Potatoes—Fair offerings and demand. At $1 40@1.50 per sack and $2.75@3 per bbl. Sales—23 bbls at $2.75, 165 at $3, 323 sacks and ½ car in sacks at $1.50 per sack.

Sweet Potatoes—Limited offerings, good demand and steady. We quote: Red at $3.75@4 per bbl, and other varieties $2.75@3.25.

Onions—Received, 1,110 bu; shipped, 1,113 bu. There was a liberal movement to the outside, but not much doing locally. Offerings large and prices steady, but quiet at $1@1.10 per sack and $2.10@2.15 per bbl. Sales—180 sacks at $1, 565 at $1.10, 97 bbls at $2, 207 at $2.15.

New Beets—Offerings fair. Southern sell at 25c and home-grown at 40@45c per doz.

String Beans—Large supply and the demand was only fair and price lower. We quote: Flat, $1.25@1.5 and round, $1.75@2 per bu box.

Green Peas—Large receipts, slow sale, dull and lower at 35@40c per ½-bu box for Tennessee, and 40c for Arkansas.

Cauliflower—Home-grown in good supply and fair demand at $1.50@1.75 per doz.

Cabbage—Scarce and very little of the offerings choice. Demand was good and price firm at $1.00@2.00 per crate for good stock; poor less, according to condition. Selections on orders, $2.25@2.50 per crate.

Egg Plant—Scarce at $1.50@2 per doz.

Cucumbers—Southern, 30@50c per doz and $7@8 per bbl, and home-grown 50@75c per doz.

Rhubarb—Choice new sells at 10@15c per doz.

Lettuce—Home-grown sells at 50c per bbl.

Carrots—New, 25c per doz; on orders more.

Spinach—Home-grown, 40c per bbl.

Squash—Salable at $1@1.25 per case.

Kale—Selling at 60c per bbl.

Turnips—New, $1.50 per bbl.

Tomatoes—Offerings large, demand fair and prices easy. We quote: Florida in lots, $2@2.50 for fancy and $1@1.50 for culls and No 1 per 6-basket carrier.

ON ORDERS IN SHIPPING CONDITION.

Asparagus, small, 40c; hand, 75c; beets, home-grown, 50c; cauliflower, $1.50@2; cucumbers, 75c@1.00; egg plant, $1.50 per doz; kale, 75c per bbl; lettuce, $1 per bbl; radish, red, 5c; white, 8c per doz; spinach, 50c per bbl; spring onions, 6c; soup bunches, 40c per doz; sweet potatoes, $3.50@4 per bbl; new potatoes, $3@3.50 per bbl.

Seeds and Castor Beans.

Grass Seed—The only sale was part car millet at 80c and part car at $1. Choice millet quotable at $1@1.15. Hungarian firm at $1.70@1.80. Timothy nominal at $3.50@4, red top at $2.50@3.50, clover at $8.50@7.50.

Flaxseed—Nominal at $1.30 per bu. Sowing seed held at $2.75 per 100 lbs.

Castor Beans—Prime salable at $1.50 per bu.

Eggs.

Received, 3,228 cases; shipped, 2,712 cases. The warm weather is having a rather depressing effect and the market was quiet with the feeling weaker. Good run of stock from near points sold at 8c per doz. Southern and all inferior stock dull at ½@1c less. The bulk of the eggs now coming are more or less out of condition, add some stock, even from near points, sold at 7½c.

Butter and Cheese.

Butter—The market ruled quite steady on all grades, and a better general feeling prevailed. The demand was fair for choice table stock, of which supplies were not large, in fact, the demand shows evidence of improving and current arrivals are easily being cleaned up.

Creamery.		Dairy.
Strictly fancy	18@19	Choice	13@14

Poultry and Game.

Live Poultry—The market for chickens was devoid of life; the offerings were light and so was the demand. Sales were generally at ½c decline from yesterday's price, as shippers were about the only buyers and they were out at over 6c per lb. Spring chickens sold fairly well, but the receipts are increasing. Other poultry out of season, neglected and nominal.

Wool.

There was a decidedly better tone to the market, as dealers were inclined to buy, yet there was no quotable change in values. Dealers have been enabled to make some sales to manufacturers at satisfactory terms and they in turn were inclined to buy more freely. It looks as if the market has about struck bottom, at least for the present, as the dullness and depression noted for some time past has made way for a very steady feeling. The demand was of sufficient magnitude to easily absorb the current offerings.

Sales were reported of 700 sks in lots ranging from 15c for choice combing and 14c for clothing; more or less burry at 10c to 13c, hard burry at 8@9c, light fine at 11@11½c, heavy fine at 8c, buck at 9c and tub-washed at 21c.

London special—Bar silver is quoted to-day at 28 5-16, a decline of ⅛d.

New York—The sterling exchange market to-day is steady, but practically unchanged: $500,000 gold is engaged for exports this morning; this makes $2,000,000 to go out to-day and to-morrow, and more is expected to go.

Boston—The regular dividend of 1¼ per cent has been declared on C., B. & Q. stock. The St. Paul earnings for the second week of May are due late to-day. They will compare with $600,000 last year. Union Pacific net earnings for March decreased 45½ per cent. This gives an idea what the railroad business is out there. Rigid economy in operating expenses does not cover plain facts.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Both sides in the market agree that there has been considerable liquidation lately and also short selling. Bulls thought on a little further decline the market would be a purchase for a turn. The bears thought liquidation had started in sufficiently to check rallies and keep prices moving down for some time. A bull interest sold some Missouri Pacific, possibly on information that the road would not come out into line with the other roads.

LONDON, May 16, 4 p. m.—Bar silver 28 5-16d per ounce. Money ¾ per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for both short and three months bills is 1 1-16@1⅛ per cent.

Money on call easy at 1 per cent. Prime mercantile paper at 2½@5 per cent. Sterling exchange quiet, with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.88¾@4.89 for demand and at 4.87¼@4⅛ for 60 days. Posted rates 4.88½@4.90. Commercial bills 4 86¼@⅜. Silver certificates 64@65; sales. Bar silver 61⅛. Mexican dollars 51.

Wall Street.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Speculation opened more actively to-day, but prices were weak. Sugar sold off 1½ per cent, Sugar preferred and Manhattan 1 each, Delaware & Hudson, ⅞; Chicago Gas and Cordage and Wheeling and Lake Erie preferred, ¾; Burlington & Quincy and Lead, ⅝ each, and Erie and Louisville & Nashville each ½ per cent.

Additional declines were recorded of 1 per cent in Sugar, Lead, Kansas & Texas and Great Northern; ¾ each in Atchison, Denver & Rio Grande preferred and Northern Pacific preferred; ½ each in General Electric, Tobacco, Cordage and Lake Shore and a smaller fraction in the rest of the list. Exceptions to the general depression were Pacific Mail and Wheeling & Lake Erie preferred, which rose 1⅞ per cent respectively. Sugar was raided on Washington rumors that the opposition to the Sugar Trust is again on the increase and that there is likely to be considerable change in the sugar schedule before the tariff bill becomes a law. A drive was made on Chicago Gas, the bears hoping to be able to bring out a block of long stock held by a Western operator, which it was expected would still further break the price.

Still further declines followed, Chicago Gas and Wabash selling off ½; Western Union and Denver & Rio Grande pfd, ⅜; Louisville and New Albany and C., C., C. & St. Louis, ¾ each; Minneapolis and St. Louis pfd 1; Cordage pfd, 2½; and Metropolitan Traction 4 per cent. There ensued at 11:15 a rally of 1 per cent in Sugar, which checked the downward tendency of the market, and a general recovery took place of ¼ to ⅝ per cent, the latter in C., B. & Q. and Chicago Gas. This was followed by a reactionary movement, Union Pacific losing ¾, St. Paul ½ and other shares ⅛@¼.

Hogs—Receipts, 5,429 head. The market opened weak and prices ruled 10c to 15c lower. The best hogs sold early and 10c lower and the lower grades 15c lower than yesterday. The feeling continued weak all day. The top during the early part of the session was $4.95, but it would take a very good hog to sell at $4.90 at the close.

Sheep—Receipts, 1,534 head. This market was dull and dragging. There was some little demand for shipping account, but local buyers were holding off for lower prices and it was difficult to obtain bids except on the good to choice sheep. Prices were 25c lower on good to choice that sold early and bids for common fully 40c lower than last week. After the early orders were filled the market became very dull.

CITY NEWS.

"CRAWFORD'S is the spot," and the particular bright and shining spot for the sale of door and window screens!! in both fancy and hardwood and in every size!! Crawford's door screens are 1⅛ inches think, don't warp, not ⅞, as is the thickness of the screens kept by all other stores in the city keeping screens!! Crawford's do the screen business of this city, because Crawford's are the only people who understand the screen business; the others are the Jack-of-all-trade men, and masters of nothing in particular, and especially the latter!! Crawford's window screens are adjustable and run in sizes from 22 to 44 inches in width!! Prices are very low, notwithstanding the fact that Crawford's have no competition!!

Save trouble by bringing correct measurements.

THE magnitude of the business that is done in baby carriages if generally known would be a surprise to the public. There is one house in St. Louis—Simmons Hardware Co.—who sell more Baby Carriages than any other house in the world. The demand for them is constantly increasing. They are now selling them at retail and have a magnificent line open for the inspection of the public at prices ranging from $5 to $25.

STOLE INTO THE HARBOR.

Torpedo Boats Not Detected by the Newport Searchlight.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 16.—The torpedo boats Cushing and Stiletto successfully stole into the harbor last night without being detected by the torpedo station searchlight. The incident is regarded here as a remarkable naval feat, and much to the credit of Lieut. E. R. Fletcher, in command of the Cushing, and Lieut. Roy C. Smith, in command of the Stiletto, inasmuch as the officers of the station were warned and made a special attempt to find the boats.

Admiral Gherardi notified Capt. Converse this morning that the boats would try to run in between 9 and 9:30 o'clock on their return from New York. The color of the Cushing had been changed to deceive the station officers, but the Stiletto was still dark green. The boats entered the range of the searchlight a few minutes after the appointed time, but not until it was seen that those at the station were ready for the search. They stole over to the shore of Conanicut Island and passed along it to Rose Island, where they crossed the harbor and came into their anchorage, while the officers with the light were yet looking for them at the entrance to the bay.

The boats for ten minutes were in the clear, open channel, but their deep color against the rocky shore beyond caused them to escape detection. They were also finely maneuvered. The Cushing's new color is nearly a black. The officers looking for the boats were Commander Converse, Lieutenant-Commanders Kennedy and Belknap, Lieuts. Holman and Capehart.

Gashwiler—Young.

Miss Laura W. Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Young, will be married to Mr. S. F. Gashwiler of Carthage, Mo., this evening at 7 o'clock, at the home of the bride, No. 4479 Laclede avenue, Rev. Dr. Snyder officiating. Only the family of the bride and a few intimate friends will be present. The house will be prettily decorated with evergreens and pink roses, pink being the color tone of the wedding. The bride will wear a robe of heavy ivory-tinted duchesse satin, the skirt made with a long train, the corsage slightly V in the neck, and handsomely trimmed with point duchess lace. Her long veil of white tulle will be fastened with pearl pins and she will carry a shower bouquet of brides roses and sweet peas. There will be no reception or attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Gashwiler will leave for the East and will spend the next twelve months in travel, after which they will determine upon their future place of residence.

Rejoice in the Merit of Hood's.

Fairview, Kan.

"I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla four months, and have realized wonderful help. I had not enjoyed a well day for sixteen years, and was frequently confined to my bed a month at a time with rheumatism. I was also

so that I could eat but little. Several doctors attended and gave me temporary relief. I went to the mountains for a change of climate and paid out many dollars without avail. My friends and neighbors believed that I would not live long, yet I kept up my courage and looked for help which came to me eventually in Hood's Sarsaparilla. It did me more good than all the doctoring during the past years. I have a good appetite, I sleep well and am

Come and See

HAVE YOU looked into our store lately to see how busy we are? Don't you know we are doing the Fine Clothing trade of the city? There are lots and lots of tailors in the city, but they can't meet our prices—costs them more to make than it does us.

There are lots of Clothing stores, but they can't meet our qualities. Common factories don't make our kind.

One man comes to save the tailor's cost—the other to get the tailor's kind.

This is the secret of our trade, for we suit both. We feel sure if you come and see—no matter whether you have been the tailor's customer or the patron of common ready-made—you will find that we have struck the happy combination—Tailor-made Clothing at ready-made prices. Come and see.

BROWNING, KING & CO.,

Cor. Broadway and Pine.

HUMPHREY'S, Broadway and Pine.

St. Louis, May 16, 1894.

Weather to-day—Probably thunder storms.

A Man,

A big man, wearing a 46 coat, came into our store about noon yesterday. He was wearing a heavy coat and feeling rather warm, but he was one of those big, noble fellows, full of patience and as good natured as Falstaff. "Can you fit me with a thin coat?" said he. "Yes," said the young man to whom he addressed the question. Well, we fitted him with a coat that pleased him much, and as he was about leaving our new-found friend addressed the young man of our house in these words: "I have been in all the neighboring clothing houses looking for just such a coat as this one, and as a last resort came in here. Strange that I should visit the best place last." "Yes, 'tis rather strange," said the young man, "but you'll come to the best place first hereafter."

And He Will.

Thousands have learned the way before him, and thousands have yet to learn as he did, by experience, that we have the largest and best stock of Men's Thin Summer Goods—the greatest and grandest stock of Men's Summer Suits at $12, $15, $18 and $20 of any house in St. Louis.

We sell only what's good in our line, consequently you are safe in buying from us.

If you want a Straw Hat, remember we get in a car-load at a time direct from the factory, and we sell them a little under exclusive hatters. Beautiful styles this season for men, women and children.

NO ORDER YET ISSUED.

Chief Harrigan Keeping His Own Counsel About the Social Evil Nuisance.

The published statement that Chief Harrigan had determined to remove the immoral houses in the neighborhood of Twentieth and Chestnut streets and that he had given orders to this effect to his subordinates was denied by that official this morning. Capt. Sam Boyd who has charge of the territory in which these houses are situated stated that he had received no such instructions from the Chief. The latter himself disclaimed having done so later.

The Chief declined to discuss whatever plans he may have in regard to this subject. It has been surmised that owing to the proximity of the new Union Depot something would be done, but just what, if anything, the Chief is keeping to himself.

MYSTERY CLEARED UP.

Emily J. Freeman Turns Out to Be Annie Mooney.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—The mystery surrounding the identity of a young woman calling herself Emily J. Freeman, which a few weeks ago occupied considerable space in the Denver and San Francisco papers, has been cleared up, and it transpires she is Annie Mooney, who was lost at a picnic in Belmont, San Mateo County, Cal., in 1883.

Her disappearance at that time created great surprise. Her father was James Mooney, a carpenter, and though he was certain the child was kidnapped he was absolutely unable to fasten reasonable suspicion upon any person.

The Banquet to the Chicago Officers.

LONDON, May 16.—On all sides great interest is taken in the banquet which is to be tendered on May 24 to the officers of the United States cruiser Chicago. Twelve hundred invitations have been issued, and 300 ladies will be admitted to the gallery of St. James' Hall, in which part of the building light refreshments will be served. If Earl Spencer, the First Lord of the Admiralty, is on the admiralty cruise, the Earl of Northbrook, or Lord George Hamilton, both of whom are ex-first lords of the admiralty, will preside.

Fales Divorce Proceedings.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 16.—There have been some strange revelations in the Fales divorce case since pretty Mrs. Carrie B. Fales got a decree against millionaire Warren R. Fales of Central Falls. It is averred by members of the Fales family that an amicable settlement had been reached whereby the petitioner should have $300,000, conditional on her charging Fales with nothing more than abandonment. Mrs. Fales agreed to prevent all publicity and scandal. However, she feared the divorce would be denied on this ground alone and determined to have the decree at all hazards. She then brought forward proof of Fales' criminal relations with Lottie Ellis of Chapel street. The alimony is $300,000 despite the change of plans.

Plenty of Coal.

General Manager Simpson of the Consolidated Coal Co. expressed the opinion that the conference at Cleveland, O., between the miners and the operators, will end in the miners going back to work. Whether they do or not Mr. Simpson says it makes no difference to consumers here, as there six big mines in operation near St. Louis, which are equal to standing off a famine for some time to come. The mines at Staunton, Ill., and Pana, Ill., are being run full handed and will not be affected by the strike. There is also an immense amount of coal, considering the times, coming in to East St. Louis.
